

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

VOLUME I, Number 1

August 14, 1978

The Monday Report will replace the Faculty Bulletin, and will go to all employees of the college.

We plan to make it easier to read, and will include some items that are not official communications, but are things you will be interested in knowing.

Something New
-- For You!

It will be produced through Dr. Erling's office, and items must be on hand by Thursday, noon, so that they can be prepared for Friday printing. The report will be in your hands on Monday.

Although the Report will be used for official announcements, and is important for that reason, we are depending on you to bring in the news items that will make it interesting.

We want you to get in the habit of reading the Report so that you can keep up with what is going on at the college.

If you have an item, or a suggestion for one, or an idea about how we can improve the Report, please see anyone in Dr. Erling's office. We want this to be your way of communicating with other college employees.--Eissey

✓ As many of you already know, we are preparing to publish a Personnel Photo Directory this Fall so that we can all get to know each other better. We have already taken nearly 200 photos, but some people were not here in July, and missed the photo sessions.

Photos --
Free! Free! Free!

For returning faculty and for all others who missed the first photo sessions, we have arranged to have a news bureau photographer in Science 14 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. today, August 14, and again on August 21, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

These two sessions should complete the work on the central campus. Photographers will visit Glades, North and South at later dates to complete the rogues gallery.

We appreciate the cooperation extended so far on this project, and believe the completed directory will be useful to all of us. --Eissey

INAUGURATION PLANS

The inaugural convocation for the third president of Palm Beach Junior College has been scheduled for Friday, October 20, 1978 from 10:00 - 11:00 a.m. in the College gymnasium. Plans call for an academic procession. If you do not own your regalia, please make arrangements with Mrs. Brofft, Bookstore Manager, for your cap and gown. Deadline for ordering is September 1. There will be no charge. --Erling

REPORT CARD

We have filed our Semi-Annual Equal Access-Equal Opportunity Report with the Division of Community Colleges. A copy of the report is on file in the Library. --Schneider

ON THE MOVE

(Even our stationery is not stationary!)

The college has a new letterhead, thanks to the cooperative efforts of Jime Miles and our print shop. Dr. Miles designed the letterhead, and worked with the print shop in getting sharp reproduction. The result is so good it has been entered into a contest by the paper company which supplied us with the handsome Baronial Ivory paper.

The stationery is available only in limited quantities to designated offices at the present time, but will be showing up more and more frequently on envelopes and stationery. Please use up stocks of the old letterhead before switching to the new, so that the changeover will not involve additional expense. --Eissey

CONGRATULATIONS, DOT!

Mrs. Mildred (Dot) Whatley, director of institutional research at Palm Beach Junior College, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Southeastern Association of Community College Researchers, (SACCR) at the annual conference of the organization held July 17-19 in Williamsburg, Va.

FOOD AND FUN AND WOMEN'S EQUALITY

In recognition of Equality Day, the 58th anniversary of the Nineteenth Amendment, which gave women the right to vote, the Palm Beach County Commission on the Status of Women is sponsoring a "Bring Your Own" Picnic on Saturday, August 26, 1978 from 1:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M. at El Vedado Park in West Palm Beach.

All federal, state and local candidates for political office have been invited to participate, to present their platform and to meet the people.

El Vedado Park is located north of Southern Blvd. between I-95 and Dixie Hwy. From Southern Blvd. turn north onto Paseo Andulsia and go several blocks. You will see the park with tennis courts, baseball field and playground.

✓ About that telephone monitor --

It is a standard Bell telephone device, recommended by the company, and, in our case, also recommended by our own operators. It monitors incoming calls only, and cuts off automatically when the switchboard cuts out of the call.

Its purpose is to allow the administrator in charge of the switchboard to spot check the manner in which calls are being answered, and to double-check the operation of the equipment so that service for everyone can be improved.

It is used to monitor response time of the operator on the incoming calls. It is used routinely within the Bell system and has been effective in obtaining more efficient service.

Let's Monitor That Monitor | We have had our monitor since June 16, when it was installed in Dr. Erling's office, and it was switched on August 11 to my office when I became the administrator in charge of the switchboard.

It is a threat to no one's privacy since the call cuts off automatically before you pick up your telephone. It is a means by which the administrator can visit the switchboard room to listen to what is going on there without having to leave his office and walk upstairs to do so. We are trying to make things better for everyone. If anyone wants to observe the use of the monitor, feel free to drop by. -- Tate

MAKE UP EXAMS

In the material sent to each faculty member concerning the Testing Center facilities and services, a change has been made concerning make up exams for evening students. All evening make up exams should be delivered to the Duplicating Center (next to the Switchboard Room) rather than to Mr. Harvey's office. -- Cook

Note that there is a change in the 196 day calendar, winter term, and the duty days will be January 8, 1979 through May 3, 1979. -- Erling

EMERGENCY EVACUATION DRILL INSTRUCTIONS

1. The emergency evacuation signal is a distinctive alarm that is used for this purpose only. It is not used for recall.
2. When the alarm is sounded, instructors shall direct their students to the primary exit. (Shortest route to an exit from the building) It is the instructors responsibility to see that handicapped persons are cared for at all times. (Elevators are not to be used during either a drill or a fire.)
3. Instructors will explain to all classes the fire signal used by the College, and other evacuation procedures. Department Chairpersons and Supervisors will insure that these instructions are posted on all bulletin boards, and that all instructors notify all classes as above.
4. The instructor will be the last to leave the room. Closing the door will indicate clearance of the area.
5. Movement will be conducted silently and orderly so that emergency instructions may be heard.
6. Personnel not assigned to fire duties are to leave the building. This includes administrative, staff, cafeteria, and maintenance workers.
7. Cafeteria workers will turn off all fires, oven, and appliances before leaving the building.
8. All people outside the buildings when the alarm is sounded, will remain away from the buildings until directed to return.
9. Assigned building marshalls (physical plant personnel) will report on prescribed forms at the conclusion of each drill.

The above instructions are in accordance with Section 6A-2.86 of the State Education Law. -- Tate

Response to the photo sessions preparing for publication of a Personnel Photo Director this Fall has been excellent so far, and we are moving rapidly toward the 300 mark in our effort to get photographs of all personnel.

Last Chance
Today!

A final session for the Central Campus is scheduled for today, Science 14, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Come at any time, since each photo requires only two minutes or so and long lines have not developed.

The photographers will visit PBJC North, South and Glades within the next month to add all PBJC personnel to the directory. -- Eissey

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

If bad weather has not intervened, the parking lot north of the Dental buildings will be paved and striped by the time you are reading this. This will give us some additional spaces in that area. We will have lighting in four to six weeks.

Where Do All The Cars Come From?

Beginning this week, parking north of the Science building will be undergoing extensive renovation. Traffic flow will be changed, new spaces added, new lighting installed, a walkway and traffic islands built to increase safety and efficiency.

As part of that project, the roadway around the eastern end of the Food Service building and the Criminal Justice Institute will be extended south to join the roadway in front of the gymnasium so that we will have a loop road around the campus.

We have added some parking on grass south of the Humanities Building and Auditorium to ease the pressures in that area. -- Tate

NOTES

Dr. Arthur Noble, who has been busy planning to take over the Beachcomber and to teach journalism courses, has had a heart attack and is in John F. Kennedy hospital.

We shared feelings of shock and dismay when we learned this week of the tragic death of the daughter of Floyd Becherer. -- Eissey

MOVING AHEAD

The firm of Marion, Baber and Paluga has been chosen by the trustees to draw plans for the Glades Cultural Center. This is an exciting project for the entire Glades area, since it will provide the first auditorium of reasonable size and with proper equipment for the presentation of all types of cultural events.

The trustees have also approved a similar plan for obtaining funds for a swimming pool on campus, and the county commission has pledged $300,000 in matching funds for this project. We hope to obtain $600,000 from the state for a combined community/college pool on the Central campus.

Also approved in concept is a plan to share some of our facilities with the county in return for the use of facilities in John Prince Park. We will keep you informed as these plans materialize. -- Eissey

DESK NAME PLATES

The college now owns an engraving machine; consequently, we will be making our own name plates. Please order these through stores utilizing Catalog Code 19,000. The cost is to be $2.50 each. Thank you. -- Jones

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Volume I, Number 3

August 28, 1978

It was Dr. Eissey's idea, and it came as a pleasant surprise.

Members of the faculty and staff did a double-take as they opened the door to the Staff and Faculty Dining Room.

What they had expected was the old dining room -- clean and utilitarian, perhaps -- but by no stretch of the imagination could anyone have called it attractive.

*Another Good Idea!
For You!*

What they saw was a room, transformed into an intimate little restaurant with the addition of red tablecloths, and a self-service buffet in the center for soup of the day and salad; a mimeographed menu for marking food choices was handed each person as soon as he/she arrived.

Two agreeable young men were on hand to take and fill orders; in addition to more expensive items on the menu, there were at least three choices of 99¢ lunches (not including beverage); the self-service soup and salad -- with seconds offered on the salad -- turkey tetrazini, with potato, vegetable and small salad; or an omelet with hash brown potatoes.

The above service is offered between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. -- Koontz

MEET THE CANDIDATES

Everybody on campus will have a chance to meet and hear political office seekers at Meet the Candidates Day at PBJC Wednesday September 6 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

All candidates listed on the September 12 primary election ballot are to be invited.

The candidates will have an opportunity to speak for ten minutes to an assigned Social Science Class as well as meet students between classes.

The event is being coordinated by Robert Moss, dean of student activities and Dr. Samuel Bottosto, chairman of the PBJC Social Science Department.

Personnel who are free to do so are invited to attend during work breaks or at lunch time. -- Bottosto

HOORAY FOR TONY!

Dr. G. Tony Tate has recently been reappointed to serve a second term as a member of the Research Committee for Junior College Management in the Association of School Business Officials of the United States and Canada. -- Koontz

The 15th annual College and Career Day will be held in the gymnasium Wednesday, September 27 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The event is sponsored jointly by the Palm Beach County School Counselors Association and PBJC, with the support of the Palm Beach County High School Principals Association.

We Need Everybody's Help

All junior and senior students from the 14 county high schools and their parents are invited to visit the exhibits and speak to representatives from colleges, business, industrial and professional groups.

Departments have been urged to develop displays to aid the students in career selection, and our undecided majors are being invited to attend.

A luncheon for the counselors, their principals, college officials and dignitaries from the community is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. the same day. -- Rouson

HANDBALL AND PADDLEBALL COURTS

Plans are currently being drawn for a complex of 3 wall handball/paddleball courts to be built just south of the gymnasium. -- Tate

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Dale Washburn, Director of Data Processing, is resigning as of August 31. He and his wife will be moving to the Los Angeles, California area where Dale has been hired as the Manager of System Development for the University of Southern California. He will be helping them develop systems such as we have here at the College. He will also be doing some teaching in the Computer Science area. Dale explained that the University of Southern California had not been able to develop computer applications as we had done, and they were looking for a man of his experience.

*Bon Voyage
Dale Washburn*

Dale and Susan are looking forward to the move because his mother and sister live in the area. Also, his best buddy, Ken Delo with the Lawrence Welk orchestra, lives there. He and Dale used to sing together.

Dale said he was going to miss alot of very fine people.

Data Processing is hosting a farewell party for Dale on Tuesday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:30 p.m. in the Data Processing lobby. You are all invited.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Volume I, Number 4

September 5, 1978

Welcome back to the first ever Monday Report on Tuesday!

The information everybody should have been waiting for is now available and there is good news and bad news.

The good news is that we have more students than ever before in the history of the college -- 8,398 credit students.

That's 471 more than a year ago, and 207 more than in the Winter Term last year, our previous high.

More Good News Than Bad

PBJC Central gained 97 to reach 5,617, PBJC North gained 106 to 1,009, PBJC Glades gained 129 to 596, and PBJC South gained 160 to 718.

The bad news is that we failed to create any new FTE. We dropped again in full time students and our new part time students made up the difference, but no more.

As everybody knows, or should know, our funding from the state does not depend on the number of students we serve, but on FTE's (full time equivalents).

In this important figure, we were almost exactly even with a year ago, but when you consider that 15 of the 28 community/junior colleges in the state are reporting dropping enrollment, that is not too bad.

However, we want to do even better in the Winter Term, and even before that, if we can, in trying to make our continuing education offerings as successful as possible.

You can help by keeping informed, and by passing the word along to people you know who need what the college has to offer.

Thank you for your assistance during registration and drop/add week in getting these students into the proper courses.

Remember, we still have another registration at the South Center. Students may still apply and register for day classes at the Boca Raton Center. Registration will be September 18 - 22 and classes start September 25, 1978. -- Charles Graham

RETIREMENT AFTER 30 YEARS

Employees under the Florida Retirement System can now retire after 30 years of creditable service under normal retirement provisions regardless of age. The law also allows transfers to the FRS from other retirement systems until November 30, 1978. Further information will be forthcoming from the Florida Retirement System.

-- Schneider

Mark Wednesday, September 6 on your calendar!!!! It's Meet the Candidates Day and also Ret Siger Day.

Ret Siger is a name coined by Ed Pugh, faculty advisor to the PBJC Political Union, meaning the word register spelled backwards.

So on September 6, you will probably have a chance to talk with some of the 42 candidates for District and County offices, who will be on the ballot for the September 12 Primary Election, as they do some politicking in the PBJC cafeteria, after speaking to students in Social Science classes.

Two Days in One

If you're not registered to vote, you may also do this in both the cafeteria, or in a Voter Registration Bus, to be parked west of the Social Science Building (Note: It's too late to register for the Primary Election, but you can still register for the November election).

People on and off campus, who have been cooperating in this undertaking are Dean Robert Moss, coordinator; Dr. Samuel Bottosto, chairperson of the Social Science Department and president of PBJC's chapter of FACC (Florida Association of Community Colleges); Tom O'Rourke, president of the Student Government Association (SGA); Dennis Alber, president, United Faculty; Edwin V. Pugh, advisor, Political Union; and Mrs. Jackie Winchester, Supervisor of Elections for Palm Beach County.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION

Important changes have been made in Florida law regarding teacher certificates. Watch for information from my office. -- Schneider

Watson B. Duncan's brother, a Tampa resident, passed away after a fatal heart attack Saturday, August 26.

Milestones

Arlene Tiddens took a sad journey to Michigan after learning of the death of her father-in-law.

To members of administration, faculty and staff: Thank you for your many expressions of condolence. Your sympathy has given us solace during these recent difficult days. -- Jean and Floyd Becherer

HAVE FUN AND KEEP FIT

The Intramural and Recreation Board welcomes the new and returning faculty back to the campus. We hope your summer was a fine one. Vacation being a time of fun and recreation should not stop when the vacation time has ended. Keep up a recreation program with the I & R Board. All faculty are invited to participate in the Intramural program as our activities fit your needs and schedule. Friendly competition is good recreation. Watch for future Monday reports for further information. -- Bell

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE JC MONDAY REPORT:

As you know the legislature of the State of Florida is responsible for determining the amount of funding for community/junior colleges, other educational institutions and all state agencies. Those of us who have frequent contacts with the state legislature realize that it is necessary to have a strong and effective organization working for us in Tallahassee to successfully compete for available funds.

The only statewide organization which represents the 28 community/junior colleges is the Florida Association of Community Colleges. It represents all personnel and even has representatives from the District Board of Trustees at individual colleges.

We Really Need the FACC

During the past year Palm Beach Junior College had very minimal representation at FACC. I sincerely believe that the $15 membership fee is a wise investment for all personnel to consider and your participation in FACC will greatly improve our prospects for obtaining additional state funding in the future.

Dr. Sam Bottosto, the President of the Palm Beach Junior College Chapter of FACC, will arrange for further information to be sent to you regarding enrollment in FACC for this year. I am hopeful that you will enroll and support this worthwhile organization. We will only be influential as our numbers grow and our lobbying increases. -- Eissey

OUR OWN RESTAURANT

The Professional Food Service Management has gone to a lot of trouble to serve faculty and staff. Upon our request they are now using a new decor -- flowers, etc. to make it more comfortable for everyone. If you have not had an opportunity to enjoy lunch with our new setup, please go by and take a look. We worked hard to get it -- now we need everyone's support to keep it. -- Eissey

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR
RE: MONDAY REPORT

The place for the regular September meeting of the trustees of Palm Beach Junior College has been changed from the Student Activities Center to the Food Service Building at PBJC Central.

The date of the meeting, Wednesday, September 20, remains unchanged as does the time, 7:30 p.m.

Food Service-- But No Food

The Food Service Building is the eastern section of the Science building, making it on the northeast corner of the building complex at PBJC Central.

Parking north of the Food Service Building is currently being renovated, so that it would be preferable for those attending the meeting to use the south parking lots and walk across campus.

SAM IS STATE VP

Sam Sasser, vice president of the Student Government Association has a new title. He's been elected vice president of the Florida Junior College Student Government Association.

Sasser is former coordinator of District 5 of the state association, which extends from Fort Pierce south to Dade County.

In his new duties, Sam will attend monthly meetings of SGAs throughout the state. On September 24 he will attend a preconference meeting in Jacksonville where plans for the annual fall conference in October will be completed.

The state association coordinates ideas of SGAs on junior college campuses, such as funding for students. It also was a promoter of Solar Day.

STAFF MEETING

There will be an Administrative/Managerial staff meeting Thursday, September 7 at 1:30 p.m. in BA-108.

KEY AUDIT

The annual key audit will be on Wednesday and Thursday, September 6 and 7 for all non-instructional staff and all 12-month administrative staff. Please check all keys with the Property Records Coordinator, rear of the Bookstore-Receiving Center. Thank you. -- Reasner

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

The Personnel Photo Directory is progressing well and 375 photographs have been taken, placing the booklet well on the way to completion. By the time you read this news bureau photographers will have journeyed to the Glades, North and South campuses for photos.

*Let's Play

We would like to have the directory in your hands soon but to do so need to photograph those of you who missed previous sessions, even if it hurts.

A photographer will have a final studio set-up Thursday (September 7) in SC-14 from 8:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. The photogs say light clothing around the neck looks best.

This will be your last chance to be in this year's Directory, and everybody else's photo has already been taken, so it won't matter if you break the camera!

SCUBA CLUB

Faculty and students interested in forming a scuba club should attend the organizational meeting on Friday, September 15 at 1:00 p.m.

The club is open to all certified divers. Certification must be from one of three certifying organizations: (1) YMCA, (2) NAUI, (3) PADI. -- Bell

STUDENT INSURANCE

Please announce in your classes that the enrollment period for PBJC's Student Accident and Sickness Plan will be over for this term on September 10, 1978. No applications accepted after this date. -- Diedrich

A book by Dorothy Myers Peed, on the Palm Beach Junior College faculty for nine years -- 1960-69 -- has recently been released by Exposition-University Press.

Dorothy Peed's Second Book

In The Art of Communication: A Self-Help Course on Basics, Mrs. Peed gets to the core of the problem facing college teachers today: namely, the inability of incoming freshmen to write well and express their thoughts in clear, understandable language.

Mrs. Peed starts with the proposition that one can't write clearly unless one thinks clearly.

Her first book, America Is People and Ideas: Library Researching for the Space Age was well received by educators.

Of that book, Watson B. Duncan, III, chairperson of the PBJC Communications Department, said:

"I encouraged Mrs. Peed to try out the ideas and techniques of her book in her Freshman English classes at PBJC.....time and again I have seen her approach inspire students to go to the library to research and inquire; it has been thrilling to see her students develop individual and critical thinking..."

Mrs. Peed, now retired, makes her home in Satsuma, FL.

LEGAL ASSISTANT PROGRAM

For the first time ever, Palm Beach Junior College is offering a two-year Legal Assistant Program leading to an A.S. degree, underway now at PBJC North.

There are over 700 attorneys in Palm Beach County so there is a demand for good legal assistants.

An advisory committee of lawyers and laymen has been set up to develop programs, recommend attorneys to teach the law courses, and suggest textbooks.

They are: Joseph J. Reiter, D. Culver Smith, Phil O'Connell, Jr., Alexander Myers, and Les Rouzer.

The two legal courses now going on as part of the overall legal assistant program are Legal Writing and Research, and Litigation.

Legal Writing and Research, being taught by attorney Richard Martens, Monday evenings from 7-10 p.m., will provide students with information necessary for the writing of legal memoranda and briefs for both trial and appellate work, as well as giving an in-depth examination of the law library and the process of legal research.

Litigation, being taught by attorney Fred Gelston, will emphasize the court system and the litigation procedures both civil and criminal in the state of Florida, and will also include preliminary interviews with clients, investigation and marshalling of facts, drafting of all pleading, and motion practice.

Aug. 31, 1978

TO: The PBJC Family: Faculty, Administration, Career Employees, and Trustees
FROM: Dr. Samuel S. Bottosto, Chapter President of FACC

When the history of our times is written, it may designate the two decades following World War II as the golden age of American education. Never before was education more highly valued. Never before was so much of it so readily available to so many. Never before had it been supported so generously. Never before was so much expected of it.

But in these critical times of the late '70's, public education in this country appears to be in trouble. Taxpayers are revolting against the skyrocketing costs of education. Schools are being denied the funds they say they need for quality education. Teachers are uniting to press demands for higher pay and better working conditions.

High school, college and university students have rebelled against what they call "The Establishment," resisting and overturning regulations, demanding pupil directed rather than teacher-directed education and turning in some cases to the abuses of alcohol, hard drugs, and juvenile-adult crime. Minorities are demanding equal treatment, which is surely their right. But when integration makes social differences more visible, and when equality of opportunity is not followed quickly by equality of achievement, frustration turns to anger, which sometimes leads to violence.

So what's new about education being in trouble. Here in Florida this has been the theme song of the State Legislature for the past decade. What is being done--what can be done to manage this pervasive problem?

The Florida Association of Community Colleges, popularly known as FACC, is a professional educational association whose main thrust is to promote the best possible conditions for professional service, to encourage professional growth, to work toward articulation with other levels of education, to identify the needs and problems of Florida's public community-junior colleges and communicate them to the appropriate agencies and groups and to provide media for communication about and among the state's public community colleges.

FACC membership is open to all Florida community college employees and trustees or to any citizen interested in furthering the cause of community college education.

The cost of personal membership in FACC is only $15.00 per year. Since FACC is recognized as the voice of the community college system before the State Legislature, it is reasonable to assume that virtually all community college employees would want to make certain that their message is properly communicated to Florida's new Governor, the Cabinet Board of Education, and the members of the State Legislature.

As the newly elected President of PBJC's FACC Chapter, I urge each one of you to invest $15.00 in your own personal professional future as well as the future of the entire community college family. I do not think that membership in FACC should restrict anyone's desire to participate in other worthwhile professional educational organizations.

FACC has an exciting theme for 1978-79: "FACC is the umbrella. Are you under it?"

Let's all get under the FACC umbrella. Won't you complete the enclosed application for FACC membership today? Please send your application to me, Station #10, SS5A, or go directly to the Finance Office with the enclosed application form. Disregard all references to Payroll Deduction on the application form.

PLEASE MAKE YOUR CHECK PAYABLE TO "PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE".

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Volume I, Number 5

September 11, 1978

I am setting aside the first Tuesday of each month, beginning at 1:30 p.m., as a special time to get together with any member of the faculty or staff who wants to talk about Palm Beach Junior College. This is an open invitation to all of you to spend Tuesday With Ed.

We will meet in Conference Room "B" in the Administration Building. The meeting is open to anyone who is employed by the college. Since seating is limited, please contact my office in advance and reserve a seat (no charge). If the room is already filled, we'll reserve a place for you at the next Tuesday With Ed.

If you have a plan that will help the college, this is the time to talk about it. If something we are doing can be improved, this is the time to talk about it. If you wonder why the north parking lot is messed up right now, when classes are in full swing, this is the time to ask about it. If there are some things we are doing that you like, please come and tell us about it. And if you know someone who wants to leave a million dollars to the college, don't wait for Tuesday! If there is a better way, in your judgement, to improve any part of our family we want your suggestions.

*Tuesday With Ed
Something New
For You!*

While my office is always open to you, I know that there are times when I am so busy that some of you might feel hesitant about taking time for rapping about your pet idea, or airing your favorite gripe. Tuesday With Ed is a time set aside for you to do just that. Open and free communication, utilization of good ideas from every source, harnessing of constructive energy from all members of the college family -- these are all necessary if we are to meet the challenges of the coming year. However, don't hesitate to come by and see us anytime.

See you on the first Tuesday With Ed, October 3. -- Eissey

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

Candidates for the September 12 primary turned out for the Palm Beach Junior College Meet the Candidates Day, and after finishing ten minute speeches in Social Science classes, politicked on other parts of the campus Wednesday.

A Voter Registration Bus and volunteers from the League of Women Voters, stationed in the college cafeteria, registered 138 voters, according to Ed Pugh, faculty advisor to the PBJC Political Union.

Of these, 89 were registered as Democrats, 45 as Republicans, two as independent and two, no party.

Primaries are tomorrow. One of your primary responsibilities as a citizen is to vote in the primaries.

Have you been putting off making your will? Or perhaps you have been considering the pros and cons of setting up a trust fund. If so, a course in wills, trusts and estates offered at PBJC Central and PBJC North may have just the information you need.

Attorney Morris Misbin will teach both classes, with information based on current Florida and Federal laws. An evening course starts at PBJC Central on Monday, September 18 from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. The PBJC North 45th Street Campus has an afternoon class starting Wednesday, September 20 from 2 - 4 p.m.

*Don't Have A Will?
Get One.*

For more information, contact the PBJC Continuing Education Office.

Talk to your friends about this course. They may need it, too.

FIRST DAY

To All Faculty, Staff and Students: My sincere appreciation and deep gratitude for the beautiful flowers and plants, the cards and good wishes which were afforded me on September 1, my first day in office. I am deeply committed to working extremely hard for the betterment of this institution and all of those associated with it. I thank you once again for your kindness given me. -- Eisey

BUILDING TRADES

We will offer two contracting courses starting the third week in September.

The first, Residential Contractor, will be offered 12 Tuesday evenings starting September 19 from 7 - 10 p.m. and will include a four hour Saturday review.

Registration for both classes will be accepted in the PBJC Continuing Education Office through the date of the first class on a first-come, first served basis.

Norman Remais, general contractor for the State of Florida, will instruct the classes. Let your friends in the building trades know about these classes. We need the FTE.

INVITATION

I would like to extend an open invitation to all of you who haven't had a chance to drop by my office. Come and take a look and see some of the changes that are and have been taking place. -- Eisey

MEMBERSHIP TIME

Come and join us under the big FACC umbrella. Faculty, Administration, Career Employees, and Trustees are all part of one organization which speaks for the entire community college family. -- Bottosto

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Don't forget that day students can still register in the Fall Term if they attend PBJC South. There are still some class vacancies, and more sections could be opened if there is enough demand.

*Day Students?

Final registration is September 18 - 22, with classes beginning September 25. Contact me or Dr. McGirt for more information. -- Tanner

PHONICS FOR TEACHERS

If you have a friend who teaches reading as a teacher, teacher's aide, or volunteer tutor, we have just the course they have been wanting to take.

Dr. Mary Bosworth, assistant chairman of the PBJC Communications Department, will teach a course in Phonics for Teachers, designed to develop the phonics skills needed as a basis for the teaching of reading.

Registration for this course, a three semester hour credit course, with a $42 fee, will be held September 18, 19, 20 and 21st at the PBJC Central Registrar's office.

WOMEN'S GOLF COACH

Debbie Farino Ruday has been appointed women's golf coach.

Debbie replaces Donna Horton White, last year's coach, who has been traveling with the LPGA Tour--she won $37,000 this year--and will not have enough time to devote to coaching, although she will serve as an assistant coach as her schedule permits.

Debbie and Donna are next-door neighbors in Wellington.

Debbie's sister, Terry, now a teaching pro in Mt. Kisco, New York, will also assist, beginning in January.

The two sisters attended Palm Beach Gardens High School while Dr. Ed Eissey was principal and Tom Mullins was a football coach, and were members of the Gardens women's golf team, coached by Mickey Neal, which won four state championships in a row.

Debbie later played for the University of Miami team which came in second and first in the national competition while she was attending the university on a golf scholarship.

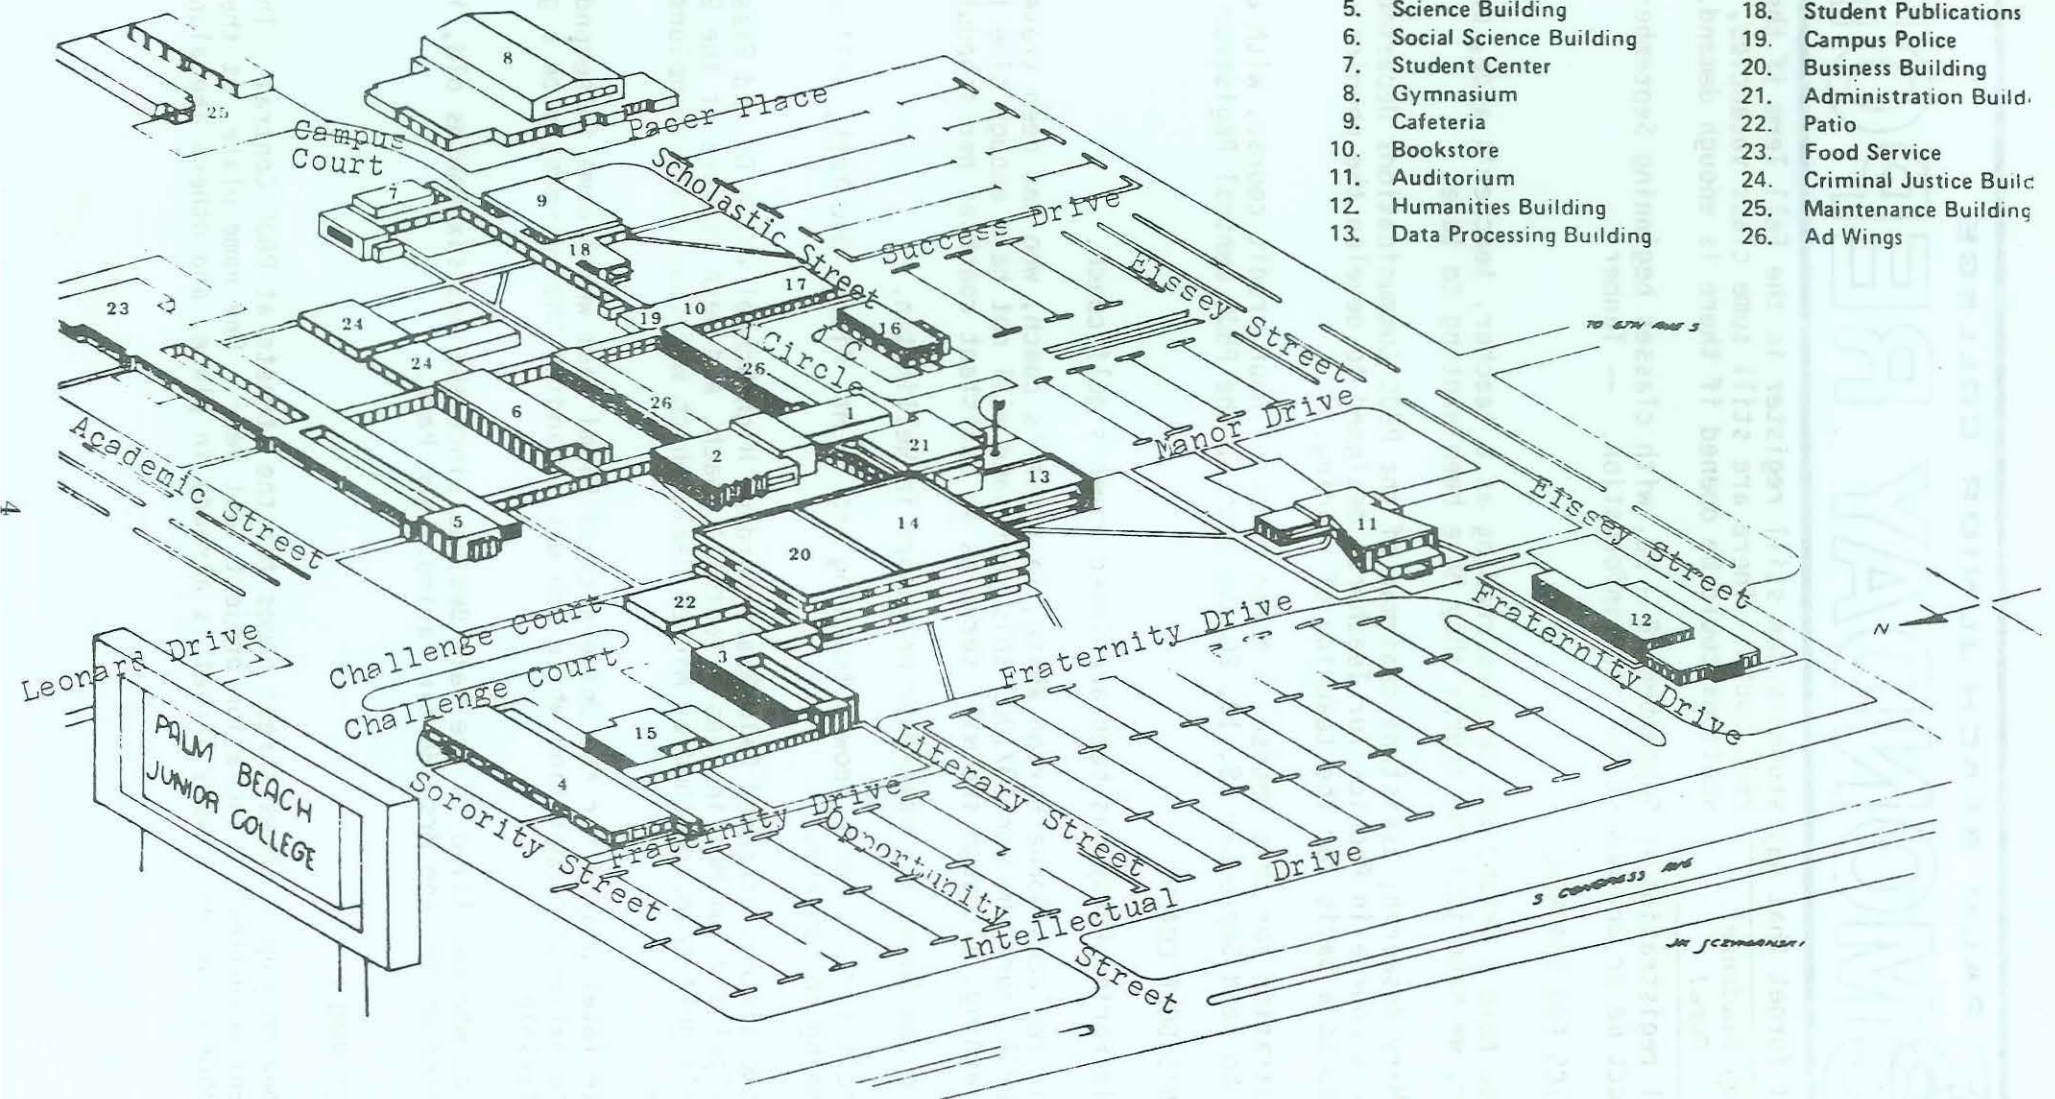

Debbie, who has lived in the Palm Beaches since she was six months old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Farino, Lake Park.

STREET NAMES

The map on page 4 shows street names for the streets at PBJC Central. This was a Student Government Association project last year. One name plate, at the corner of Manor Drive and Eissey Street is already in place, and others are planned.

FACC is right for you, even if you have already joined other professional organizations. Please see me for membership applications or other information. -- Bottosto

$1.00 CONTRACT

Past practice has required employees on 180, 196 or 210 day contracts be required to be placed under a contract in the amount of $1.00 in order to claim travel reimbursement while traveling on College business. This $1.00 contract was to cover the period of time required to attend meetings, visitations, seminars, etc., which would occur following the termination of the 180, 196 or 210 day contract.

The $1.00 contract is no longer a requirement. A leave form with the appropriate approvals and funds encumbered are all that will be necessary. -- Tate

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Everything is beginning to fall in place in such a way that the entire college family can come together for a traditional and joyous celebration on October 20 for the inauguration of Dr. Eisey as the third president in our history. Classes will be cancelled from 9:40 until noon so that the faculty can take their traditional leadership role in the welcoming of a new president. Other employees whose assignments permit will be encouraged to attend this memorable occasion. Students, free from classes for that time period, will probably fill the bleachers. Returns are beginning to come in from other college presidents and dignitaries from around the state who want to join us in this celebration.

Let's All Have a Ball

After the ceremony in the gym, (and we are all hoping weather will be cooler by that time), a reception will be held on the Student Activities Center patio, to which all are invited.

Attendance at the inauguration ceremonies is not mandatory. It should be pointed out, however, that October 20 is a duty day, and employees not attending the inaugural ceremonies should be engaged in college work.

Since the faculty members are taking part in a formal academic procession, they will have reserved seats, but other employees might plan to arrive a few minutes before the 10 a.m. starting time to be assured of seating. -- Erling

MEETING

There will be an administrative/managerial staff meeting Thursday, September 21 in BA 108 at 2:30 p.m.

SWIMMING POOL

A change in the law by the last legislature reduced matching funds from the State from a 2 - 1 basis to a 1 - 1 basis. We are grateful that the county commission has agreed to increase its contribution from $300,000 to $450,000, so that we can continue with our plans for this project.

TUESDAY WITH ED

We have started our list for the first Tuesday with Ed on October 3, 1:30 p.m. in Conference Room B in the Administration Building. If you would like to talk about the future of the college with the President, call his office to get on the list. When we go past 15, we'll start the November list.

REMINDER

The place for the Trustees meeting Wednesday, September 20 has been changed from the Student Activities Center to the Food Service Building. Starting time remains the same, 7:30 p.m.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Volume I, Number 7

September 25, 1978

The Trustees approved a new resolution asking for matching funds from the legislature for a swimming pool for PBJC Central at the September meeting of the Board Wednesday night.

But don't plan on getting your bathing suit out just yet. Even if things go perfectly from here on out, it will be sometime in 1980 before you can get wet.

However, if getting wet from honest sweat on a handball court is your thing, you'll be able to do that much sooner.

*Wednesday With

The Trustees approved plans for three-wall handball courts to be built south of the gym, and money is already on hand for their construction.

We should be playing handball early in 1979.

Glades people have got to stop swimming and fishing in the campus lake. Dr. Conley told the Board there are now snakes in the lake.

To help protect people from the lake hazards, the Belle Glade police are going to warn people once, and then haul them off to the station. The Board approved this step.

Who would have thought that little scenic lake would cause this much of a problem?

As many of you know, Project Speak Up is losing its original source of funding. The Board approved a grant request for $71,869 to continue this worthwhile project as the "Women's Resource Center," and we are all hoping the grant comes through.

Libraries at PBJC Glades and PBJC North have received grants of $3,906.

The Board also received $16,495 from HEW for the Veterans Cost of Instruction, which means Mike McKay will continue with us, and that rates as very good news.

The trustees decided to meet at the Food Service Building instead of the Student Activities Center, and you are all welcome to come to the next regular meeting, October 18, 7:30 p.m.

COLLEGE AND CAREER DAY

September 27th. Your cooperation and assistance is needed! All personnel are urged to encourage students to participate. You are urged to be there also.

Since that time, he has discussed this subject at a number of sociological societies, including the American Sociological Association, arranged two national exosociology symposiums, one of which was attended by Dr. J. Allen Hynek; Yinger also appeared in a documentary file--Mysteries of the Gods-- with William Shatner, the Captain Kirk of Star Trek.

At the Third Annual FIU Awards Ceremony in June, Sylvia was presented with a certificate for this achievement.

G. Wesley Sowards, the FIU Dean, wrote to Sylvia: "Your nomination speaks not only to the academic record that you achieved (4.0) here at Florida International University, but to the contributions you have made and the service to others you have rendered while a student in our School."

Hooray for Sylvia!

Sylvia, who did graduate work at FIU while on a sabbatical last year, was selected for the award by the faculty of the FIU Division of General Professional Education, Adult Education and Educational Administration and Supervision.

A registered occupational therapist, (OTR), Sylvia has been with PBJC for the past eight years, in the Occupational Therapy Assistant Program.

*New Dimensions is

If you have recently retired relatives or friends moving to Florida and looking for constructive and interesting activity, these lectures are a fabulous buy. For only $10 you can become a member of the institute, and attend any lecture you wish.

The lectures are given by retired persons who, many times, are outstanding in their field -- people who could command very high fees, but who are interested now only in passing on some of their hard-earned wisdom.

The brochure enclosed with the Monday Report is a little difficult to read, but well worth the effort. Pass it on to a friend. Call 848-1470 for information.

GET CPR TRAINING

Clerk typists attached to the message centers under Dr. Erling completed a CPR course with Mrs. Cannon last week. The new 9 hour course has been revised since July '78 and it is called a "heart saver" course designed to give the person a basic idea of what to do until the advanced life support arrives on the scene. This course will be offered throughout the year to other employees, faculty and student groups. We have already had one life saved because a CPR-trained employee was at the right place at the right time. Watch for announcements of future training sessions.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Forty years ago, Edwin V. Pugh, of Lake Worth, senior instructor at PBJC joined a group of 37 other college men to recreate the pioneers' trek from Massachusetts to the Northwest Territory 150 years earlier.

This past summer 14 of the men who in 1937-38 had followed that trail to the Territory, which later became the states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, had a reunion in Marietta, Ohio.

It was the late Ed Hawes of Marietta, who originated the idea of a Northwest Territory celebration to coincide with his town's 150th anniversary.

Return of the Pioneers

His plan had first been approved by U.S. Rep. Robert Secrest, then by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and finally by Congress, which endorsed a year-long observance and allotted $150,000 for the trip.

The young "pioneers" -- 38 in all -- traveled just as the 1787-88 company had, starting from a town near Ipswich, Mass., on Dec. 3, 1937 with oxen and wagon and later using boats to float down the Muskingum River from West Newton, Pa., to Marietta.

Life magazine, which followed the progress of the trip, noted in one account that the men were lost in the mountains of Pennsylvania.

"We weren't lost," Ed says, indicating that the reporters simply hadn't found them.

The "pioneers" sometimes had to use ropes to help the two oxen stay upright on the ice of the mountain roads.

Arriving in Marietta, April 7, 1938 (the same date the original pioneers had come in 1788, the young men "with longer hair and thinner shoes" were greeted by newsreel cameras, "Indians" on the bank and 100,000 others.

Before they left to continue their trek into the Northwest Territory, the men posed in front of a monument, commissioned especially for the occasion.

This summer, the 14 men who returned for the reunion posed for another photo by the same monument.

A news story from the Marietta Times quotes Ed: "Of course you know, 10 years from now, we'll all be back," (the town will celebrate its bicentennial 1988).

Another of the returnees quipped, "With canes."

"No" Ed declared, "in '87 I'll go over to Hamilton (the starting point near Ipswich, Mass.) and see how far I can walk it."

Ed, with PBJC since 1967, faculty advisor to the Political Union, has been responsible for bringing numerous local, state and national candidates to the campus; he also headed the PBJC Bicentennial Committee and is president of the Historical Society of Palm Beach County.

TUESDAY WITH ED

So far, only two people have signed up for the first Tuesday With Ed on October 3, at 1:30 p.m. in Conference B. Any employee will be welcomed, and all topics are open for discussion. -- Erling

PROPOSAL

A five per cent raise to go into the permanent salary schedule was proposed by the administration at the first meeting of a new round of collective bargaining between the college and the United Faculty Thursday afternoon.

If a new contract is in force by November 1, the raise will be effective on that date, according to Jesse Hogg, chief negotiator for the administration.

Hogg said that Dr. Eissey, college president, had been able to find $219,000 in the budget which could be used for salaries, with the Union being offered $113,000 for its part of the five per cent raise.

The remainder would be for a similar raise for all other college personnel.

He said approximately $85,000 had come from a determined effort to combine sections this year, about $50,000 from cutting departmental budgets "to the bone," and $85,000 from additional state funds.

For those who also received increments this year, (a little more than half of all unit personnel), the total raise this year would be in the neighborhood of nine per cent.

Hogg said administrative personnel were working on a proposal to liberalize some of the criteria for rank, and would offer that proposal at a later date.

The Beachcomber has again earned an All-American rating, according to Dr. Arthur Noble, faculty advisor.

The paper was judged for issues published during the Fall Term, 1977-78, while Charles McCreight was faculty advisor, Noble said.

ALL AMERICAN AGAIN

Members of the Beachcomber staff at that time were:
Emily Hamer and Charles Loveday, co-editors-in-chief,
Gunda Caldwell, associate editor, and Dave Taylor,

Also James Goodman, sports editor, Don Vaughan, features editor, Maxine Gabe, copy editor, and Kathy Cavanaugh, PBJC North correspondent.

Among the comments by Judge Michael Sessler was: "The Beachcomber, through dedicated, ambitious staffers and advisor, has become a leader in collegiate journalism. You certainly know how to effectively apply textbook journalism to the real thing. Your readership should be proud that they have such a fine source of creative entertainment, interesting sports stories, and that they have such a strong, responsible student voice. I hope that the future budget situation there becomes better, and I wish all the staffers and the advisor the best in the future."

POST TIME FOR PACERS

Two volleyball games, (one loss and one win), and a men's golf tournament, (fifth among 11 colleges), have already taken place, and other golf and volleyball events are following rapidly as the sports season gets underway.

We will try to keep you up with these and other events in "This Week and Next" the new Monday Report feature. Try to come out and support the Pacers for their home games.

HOORAY FOR US!

How about this new, double-size paper? We got tired of pounding staple machines and ordered jumbo sized paper when we needed more. We hope you like it, and continue to remember that Monday Report is produced for you. Let us know if you have ideas to help us improve, and keep sending in the items you'd like the rest of the college family to know about. Deadline is Thursday noon. -- Erling

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

A press luncheon as a kick-off to the golf season at PBJC held Tuesday at Wellington allowed sports writers to meet our teams and our two new coaches, Debbie Ruday and Al Weed.

Photographers were kept busy for more than an hour after the lunch on a sunlit Wellington driving range, with blonde Debbie scoring eagles in the photogenic department and Al managing par.

A GOOD TIME FOR ALL

The Lady Pacers had more than their natural charm going for them, (as if that wasn't enough). They have been splendidly outfitted this year with white golf bags lettered in dark green, right down to each golfer's name on the bag, plus green club covers and umbrellas.

A little Eastern Airlines logo in the same green is the tipoff to the fact that James M. Gallo, Eastern's local manager of passenger and cargo sales is Debbie's neighbor at Wellington, and is convinced that it is good advertising for Eastern to be associated with a potentially great golf team like the Lady Pacers.

Tom Mullins, who arranged it all, is appreciative of Jim Gallo's gift, and is especially grateful to Ed Dickerson of Wellington for hosting the successful event.

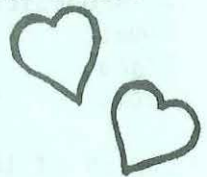

FREE TUTORING

Free tutoring in English is being offered to foreign students in Room 22 of the Administration building, every Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 to 3:00.

INAUGURAL APPAREL

Five members of the county delegation to the legislature--Senators Harry Johnston and Don Childers, and Representatives Reid Moore, Tom Lewis and Ed Healey -- were briefed on legislative needs of Palm Beach Junior College, Wednesday, September 27.

The delegation members met with Dr. Edward Eissey, president, and some members of his staff in an informal session at the college.

Dr. Eissey stressed the need for better funding of all community colleges.

ON CAMPUS

He said a recent study showed community colleges received seven per cent more money from the state over the last four years while students increased 37.7 per cent and inflation added 38 per cent to costs.

Dr. Eissey named three items which the college would ask specific help from the legislators this year:

1. Obtaining state matching funds for the $450,000 available from the county for building a swimming pool at PBJC Central.

He said the county commission has only agreed to the matching funds this year, and that the legislature must act favorably, or the opportunity will be lost for the combined college/community pool.

2. Obtaining funds for building the first phase of PBJC North.

He said the college would have obtained these funds last year if the legislature had allocated capital outlay funds by the priorities established by the State Department of Education.

Instead, the legislature adopted a formula which gave millions of dollars to colleges where the money is not needed, and only $169,000 to PBJC, instead of the requested $4.5 million.

He said the college will probably lose the use of classrooms at Palm Beach Gardens High School where some of the 3,100 students now served by PBJC North are meeting after this year.

A new survey by the State Department of Education is scheduled October 9, he added.

3. Help in obtaining permission to have a referendum asking for a half mill of taxation from the community.

Questions and comments from the legislators generally indicated approval of the first two requests, but not the third.

Senator Johnston offered to buy lunch for Dr. Eissey if a similar half mill referendum in Pinellas County in November succeeds, and advised that "two out of three isn't bad."

Senator Childers said in his recent campaigning the number one question was on tax relief, and said the timing would be bad on any measure calling for more taxes.

"I've been in many of the condominiums," he said, "and these people have been eaten up by inflation. The first thing they want to know is what help you can give them."

THE BIG BAND SOUND IS COMING!

If you like big band music, don't miss the Monday, October 16 jazz concert to be held at 8 p.m. in the PBJC Auditorium.

He sought a concession from the Union: that unit members give up the optional refusal of the 196 day contract. He said the Administration would attempt to work out language to say that where sufficient reason is shown, the 180 day contract will be granted.

After caucusing with other members of the Union bargaining team, Dennis Alber, Union President, said that he would not react to the proposals during the Thursday meeting, but would do so at a later meeting, when counter proposals may be offered.

MY SON, THE DOCTOR (TO BE)

Ann Dorosh, a secretary at PBJC North, is so happy that her son, Richard, has been selected for membership in Miami University's Alpha Chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha, the national Medical Honor Society she wants to share the news with her fellow employees. Hooray for you, Ann! And Hooray for Rick!!

TUESDAY WITH ED

The first Tuesday with Ed turned out to be a great success. But you don't have to take our word for it. Here are comments from three of the good number who were there:

Ed Pugh: "This is a very good idea. Discussion was frank, open, lots of give and take. I thought it was remarkably candid. You quickly got the idea you could say anything, and he would give you an answer if he had it, and would work it out later if he couldn't answer right then."

Walter Franklin: "Dr. Eissey is going to try his best to do a good job here. I go along with his ideas. He is willing to listen. I think we'll see a lot of progress. He's a leader. He is forthright in answering questions. I didn't agree with everything I heard, but when I asked a question, he gave me an answer."

Dr. Carol Butler: "Very productive, very informative, very congenial, very much worthwhile. I wish we had them more often."

The next Tuesday with Ed will take place the first Tuesday of November, Nov. 7, 1:30 p.m., in Conference Room B in the Administration Building. Although all attending the first meeting were teachers, Tuesday with Ed is open to all college employees. Call Dr. Eissey's office to make a reservation, since the capacity of the room is 15.

This year the Testing Center (AD-1) will handle all faculty evaluation forms. So that we can better serve you with both the evaluations and your final exams, you are asked to pick up your Item Selection Sheets, make your selections and return the sheets to us as soon as possible.

FACULTY EVALUATIONS

You will receive your printed questionnaires by campus mail. If possible, you are encouraged to have your students complete the questionnaires and get them to us prior to December 4th. Questionnaires received during the final exam period (Dec. 13 - 19) may not be processed and available to you until January. -- Cook

Rumor has it that occasionally angelic enterprises of various sorts come up with an absolutely perfect auditor's report, but at the human level we -- well, you see -- that is -- we goof.

NO ANGELS, WE

Last week the Monday Report, discussing the administrative offer of a five per cent raise beginning November 1, said that certain funds "would be for a similar raise for all other college personnel."

Where we goofed was in using the word "all."

It seems that some classified personnel employed after January 1, 1978, have already received increases of approximately five per cent as of July 1. If these positions were now granted another five per cent this would create an additional inequity. The administration is trying to treat everyone alike, and those who have already had a raise will not be granted another one. We should not have used the word "all." The personnel office will release precise information at a later date.

CLASSES DISMISSED

Classes will be dismissed on Monday, October 16 from 8:40 - 9:40 a.m. for SGA election speeches. Scheduled labs will not be dismissed. -- Graham

October ¹⁶~~23~~, 1978
YOU ARE INVITED

Dr. Edward M. Eissey will be inaugurated as the third president of Palm Beach Junior College Friday at 10 a.m. in the gymnasium.

It will be a festive occasion, with an academic procession of our own faculty, ten presidents of other Florida colleges or their designees, and many other notable guests --- and you are all invited.

Classes have been cancelled from 9:40 a.m. to 12 noon, and supervisors have been asked to relieve as many other employees as possible from their duties so that the entire college community can be present for this historic occasion.

Following the inauguration, there will be a reception in the Student Activities Center, -- and you are all invited.

This is the first time in 21 years that we have inaugurated a president, and Dr. Harold C. Manor, who was inaugurated 21 years ago, will be present to present the symbol of office to Dr. Eissey.

The students, who are the reason for the existence of the college, will be represented on stage by Tom O'Rourke, president of the Student Government Association.

As a matter of interest, students occupy the first two spots on the program, since Stanley Tucker, president of the Alumni Association will be the second person to bring greetings to the President.

Since Inaugurations are traditionally a faculty affair, Watson B. Duncan, III, has been asked to be master of ceremonies and Dennis Alber, president of the United Faculty, has been asked to bring greetings from the faculty.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Negotiators for the administration made a new offer at the second session in the current round of bargaining with the United Faculty.

The offer was the result of a memorandum from Dr. Eissey to the management bargaining team, dated October 4, 1978. Dr. Eissey wrote:

Twenty Five
"Grandfathers"

"As a part of our offer to the United Faculty I want the Management Bargaining Team to agree to completely grandfather those bargaining unit personnel that we had earlier agreed to grandfather in title only. A "complete grandfathering" will enable these personnel to be paid in the salary range of their grandfathered title and receive the normal increments of that academic rank.

This change will affect those personnel who had previously been notified that their title only (not salary) was being grandfathered. The following personnel will be affected by this proposal:

| Name | Rank For Pay Purposes | Grandfathered Title |
|----------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| Kenneth E. Ackerman | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Joseph J. Ceravolo | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| L. Rayburn Daugherty | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Helen V. Diedrich | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| William B. Galbraith | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Irving J. Gross | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Daniel W. Hendrix | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Winifred Huneke | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Jacqueline J. Jones | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Charles R. McCreight | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Harris D. McGirt | Instructor | Professor |
| Marian C. McNeely | Senior Instructor | Professor |
| Evelyn M. Merkle | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Aline M. Mudwilder | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Joseph Payne | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Noreen K. Poole | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Raymond W. Sweet | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Maxine Vignau | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Helen B. Darcey | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Glen A. Marsteiler | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Lois O. Meyer | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Seymour Pryweller | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |
| Jack D. Rhodes | Instructor | Senior Instructor |
| Trinette Robinson | Assistant Professor | Associate Professor |
| Dan L. Terhune | Senior Instructor | Assistant Professor |

The recommended effective date is November 1, 1978. The effect of this proposal would be to void the 3-year limitation we placed on the use of the grandfathered title."

Asked about the space between the 18th and 19th names on the list, members of the management team explained that the first 18 were currently above their maximum salary, and will not receive increments this year unless the proposal is accepted. The remainder would receive minor adjustments to increments already granted.

It was agreed that Sallie Taylor's name would be added to the list. She would be moved from instructor to senior instructor. The administration team also placed on the table a written document outlining the current and proposed salary schedules offered at the first session. The document follows:

1. SALARY:

A 5% across the board raise included within the salary schedule of bargaining unit personnel which will be effective on November 1, 1978 or upon acceptance of the offer (whichever is later).

2. ACADEMIC RANK:

Grandfathering the salary of those personnel who previously had a title change only. Increases due to the grandfathering would be effective November 1 or upon acceptance of the offer (if later than November 1).

3. CONTRACTS:

Bargaining Unit Personnel would be required to accept a 196 day contract if offered unless extenuating circumstances were present. Extenuating circumstances would include medical limitations of personnel and advanced study related to one's field.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

In a very recent development, the administration was made aware of allegations that some faculty members feared that management planned to use the 196 day contract in a "vindictive" manner. In order to alleviate these fears, an offer has been made by the administration to make the 196 day provision as given under 3. Contracts on the preceding page applicable only to persons employed in the 1977-78 year and thereafter.

At the request of the executive committee of the United Faculty, the president of the union will not appear on the program of the Inauguration. We are sorry this decision was made by the executive committee of the Union because we want to move forward with a very positive attitude, and do not perceive there is any correlation between an Inauguration ceremony and collective bargaining.

Delta Omicron, the PBJC Central chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, (PTK), the national junior college honorary fraternity, returned from the state PTK convention, held in St. Augustine Oct. 6-8 with the title, Executive Chapter.

Hooray For PTK!!

This title automatically makes the PBJC Central chapter president, Dale Maddox, Lake Worth, the new state president, and the Delta Omicron chapter hosts for the state convention next October.

Seventeen other members attended.

The honorary fraternity's plans for the future include a dance to be held Saturday, Oct. 28 in the PBJC Central Gymnasium, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

A disc jockey from WNGS will play continuous tapes and music.

This will be a costume dance, with first, second and third prizes awarded for the best costumes.

The first prize winner will receive $50; second prize, $20, and third prize, $10.

Refreshments will be served.

Admission is $5 per couple, $3 single, with tickets sold in advance by PTK members.

HOORAY FOR PTK NORTH!!

The Alpha Gamma Sigma chapter of the national junior college honorary fraternity, Phi Theta Kappa, (PTK), at Palm Beach Junior College North, were runners-up for outstanding chapter at the state convention in St. Augustine Oct. 6-8.

"We were told we missed it by a hair," said Francis Barton, faculty advisor, who accompanied the members, "and when you consider the fact that we've only been in existence for less than a year, that is rather remarkable."

The chapter will soon be announcing some fund-raising activities, Barton said.

"We're looking forward to attending the national PTK convention to be held next April in Kansas City," the advisor added.

CLOSED CIRCUIT TELEVISION

We are converting our system of playback to the classrooms from a format of $\frac{1}{2}$ " reel to reel to the $\frac{3}{4}$ " cassette.

The reel to reel machines are being traded in for cassette players. Not all of our material has been transferred to cassettes. We will do our best to keep ahead of our scheduled requests but we are asking that all faculty schedule a week in advance. This will give us time to transfer the programs to cassette format and keep our services running smoothly.

We will appreciate your cooperation through the remainder of this semester. -- Douglass

CANCER INSURANCE

A representative of the American Family Corp. (Cancer and Intensive Care Insurance) will be on campus Tuesday, October 17, in the Conference Room, Third Floor Library to right of entrance from 9:30 a.m. throughout the day. This is in regard to the yellow questionnaire you received recently from the Gold Coast Educational Federal Credit Union. -- Whitmer

FUN AND GAMES FOR ALL

Everybody should have received an announcement about the big picnic Sunday, Oct. 25, noon to 5 p.m., with a chicken barbecue 2 to 4 p.m.

The deadline for returning your notice of attending has been changed to Oct. 18, so if you want a good, outdoors, family-type picnic, let John Anderson, Hamid Faquir, Betty Morgan, Mavilene Prentice, Julio Rive, or John Townsend know.

Tickets for the barbecue are only $2 for adults and $1 for children, and it's tough to find prices like that anywhere these days.

The workshop will be called Issues in Public Education -- Florida, and will feature three panel discussions with leaders and participants from southeast Florida and the state.

Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Phyllis Ruszat, Adult Education Center.

PARENT'S MEETING

The Early Childhood Club will be having a Parent's Meeting on Oct. 19th, 7:30 - 9:00 at the Early Learning Center. -- Bowser

Spring's Awakening, a play written by German playwright, Frank (Benjamin Franklin) Wedeking in 1891 will be the first play of the season, Nov. 9-12 in the PBJC Auditorium, according to Frank Leahy, faculty director.

*Plan to Attend
the Fall Play*

The play is a tragedy of two teen-age lovers brought together by the awakening of a physical and emotional attraction; their natural uninhibited feelings are victimized by the inflexible moral code of society.

Wedeking felt it was his obligation to reveal the morality of the time in its full absurdity and hypocrisy.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

A number of personnel who have the option of transferring to the Florida Retirement System have expressed an interest in talking with a representative from the Social Security Administration to obtain further information regarding social security benefits.

As a result we have arranged to have Mr. Thomas Perry, Field Representative from the Social Security Administration, to be on campus on October 18 and 19 (Wednesday and Thursday). He will be in Conference Room A from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. on both days. Anyone wishing further information regarding social security should see Mr. Perry on either Wednesday or Thursday afternoon. -- Schneider

CARVED IN STONE

Marching in the processional at Dr. Eissey's Inauguration, representing Dr. John Lott Brown, president of the University of South Florida, will be Dr. Gladys Kashdin, professor of Humanities.

Perhaps, before she processes, Dr. Kashdin will pay a pilgrimage to the walkway leading to the cafeteria from the parking lot which was donated by her PBJC graduating class, the class of 1958.

Although some of the names on the walkway have been obliterated by time and weather, Dr. Kashdin will not look in vain. Her name is still there, in the left row of stones, not too far from the parking lot.

MORE THANKS

The following faculty were omitted under the "Thank You" for college and career day. They are:

Ms. Mavilene Prentice
Ms. Edith Hall
Ms. Ruthanna Widdows

At the core of any agreement between the community colleges and the state university designed to establish an efficient orderly transfer process for community college students is the mutual acceptance of the nature and purpose of the associate of arts degree. This degree, which is the basic transfer degree of Florida community colleges and which is the primary basis for admission of transfer students to upper division study in a state university, shall be awarded upon:

Important Note For All Advisors

1. Completion of 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours of academic work exclusive of occupational courses. Note that basic required physical education courses are no longer excluded. PBJC will continue requiring 62 hours for graduation at the present time.
2. Completion of an approved general education program of not fewer than 36 semester hours or 54 quarters.
3. Achievement of a grade point average of not less than 2.0 in all courses attempted, and in all courses taken at the community college awarding the degree, provided that only the final grade received in courses repeated by the student shall be used in computing this average. The grade of "D" will be accepted for transfer (provided the overall grade average does not drop below the prescribed 2.0 level), and will count toward the baccalaureate; however, it is at the discretion of the department or college of the university offering the major as to whether courses with "D" grades in the major may satisfy requirements in the major field.

-- Graham

Dr. Harold H. Kastner, Jr., will represent the Division of Community Colleges. Commissioner of Education, Ralph Turlington, has an early morning commitment, and may not reach Lake Worth in time for the Inauguration, but is expected to attend the reception.

The college band, under the direction of Sy Pryweller, will play the Broadway Show Stoppers Overture from 9:50 to 10 a.m., and the processional and recessional.

The college concert choir, directed by Pat Johnson, will sing three selections after the first part of the program.

In the Inaugural convocation which follows, Dr. Philip Lichtblau, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, will give Dr. Eissey the charge of office, and Dr. Eissey will accept.

Dr. Manor will then present the symbol of the office, a medallion with the seal of the college on the front, and the names of the presidents listed on the back.

Dr. Eissey will then give the presidential address, followed by the benediction by Dr. Morris Silberman, Rabbi of Temple Emeth of the Delray Hebrew Congregation. Dr. Eissey's own pastor, Rev. R. Earl Rabb, Trinity United Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Among invited guests who will be seated in a marked section on the floor of the gym, rather than in the bleachers, will be county commissioners, state representatives, state senators, officials of the county school system, Dr. Eissey's family and personal friends.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

A five per cent raise will go into effect on November 1 for every non-union employee of the college, except for those positions where a similar raise was granted on July 1, as detailed in a memo from the Director of Personnel dated October 10.

WHEEE!! We Get That Raise

The administration recommended this action to the Board of Trustees Wednesday night, and the trustees voted unanimously to grant the raise.

Collective bargaining is still in progress for union employees. The administration has offered a similar raise to the union.

Please don't start spending the money right away. It won't show up in the paycheck until November 20, since the payday on November 5 is for work performed in October.

AND HOLIDAYS, TOO!!

Since the holiday season will be here shortly the remaining 10 holidays that PBJC recognizes during this fiscal year are being listed:

Thanksgiving
Christmas and New Years
Easter
Memorial Day

November 23,24
December 22, 25, 26,
29 and January 1
April 12, 13
May 28

Please note that the Easter Holidays were changed some time ago to April 12 and 13 (Thursday and Friday). The recent issue of the "Staff News" had incorrectly reported April 13 and 16.

DR. BUTLER ATTENDING WORKSHOP

Dr. Carol S. Butler will attend a workshop on The Handicapped Student in the Science Classroom and Laboratory, to be held at the University of Georgia Oct. 23-24.

The workshop is one of a number of Chautauqua-Type Short Courses for College Teachers, conducted by the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the University of Missouri (Kansas City), with support from the National Science Foundation.

A BURGERMEISTER, YET!!

Frank Perez will be appearing as the Burgermeister in Ballet Arts Foundation production of "Coppelia" on November 2 and 3 at 8:00 p.m. at the West Palm Beach Auditorium. Frank's wife Linda will be playing the role of the Burgermeister's wife. Tickets are available at the Auditorium box office.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

There will be a Halloween Party for Parents, students, and children put on by the ECC (Early Childhood Club) of PBJC. The party is Sunday, October 29th from 2:00 until 4:30 at the SAC Lounge. There will be a costume parade for all and music, games and refreshments. Come and join us for a fun time for all! -- Bowser

HAVE FUN AT THE PICNIC

The Social Committee would like you to know that you are cordially invited to the picnic, Sunday, Oct. 29, noon to 5 p.m., even if you have not bought a ticket for the Barbecue.

Everybody is welcome, whether you eat or not. Also, if you prefer to bring your own picnic lunch, please do so.

Activities will take place in the area north of the gym and south of the tennis courts. In case of rain, the gym is available. All kinds of games are planned. Bring the family.

TUESDAY WITH ED

Success of the first Tuesday With Ed has sparked enough interest so that Dr. Eissey's office is already getting calls for the next informal get-together with the President, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, November 7, 1:30 p.m., in Conference Room B in the administration building.

The conference room only holds 15 people. Any employee can come and talk to the President in a free and easy fashion about whatever is on your mind. But do call the President's office to reserve a place.

SUCCESS

The success of last year's basketball team has led to an amazing placement of six of our players on full scholarships to six different colleges and universities. Normally, only two or three of our best will continue on as scholarship players, but Joe Ceravolo's squad last year was exceptional. The players are:

Shack Leonard - Longwood College - Farmville, VA
Sam Weathersbee - Abilene Christian University
Dirk Jamison - University of Wisconsin
Mike Bennett - Boston College
Bill Buchanan - Iowa State University
Derrick Paul - Lander College, South Carolina

We have just been informed that Carl Knittle of the English Department has suffered a heart attack and is in John F. Kennedy Hospital.

MILESTONES

We have been informed that Roy Bell's father has died.

Dr. Arthur Noble has been in John F. Kennedy during the last week, but got the good news that his chest pains were not a recurrence of coronary problems. He will be at home this week.

PBJC SPONSORS WIDETRACKS

Palm Beach Junior College is now sponsoring the Widetracks, handicapped men's basketball team. You're welcome to come out and support the team in its home games in the PBJC gym. The next home game is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 3 at 8 p.m. No regular admission charge, although donations will be accepted to help defray costs of equipment. -- Townsend

Our trustees voted, 3-1, Wednesday evening to express "utmost concern and strong opposition to Amendment No. 8" and to urge everyone to vote against it on Nov. 7.

Amendment No. 8 to the Florida Constitution creates a lay State Board of Education, an appointed Commissioner of Education, and a completely independent University Board of Regents.

Trustees: Vote "No" On Amendment No. 8

It is the independent Board of Regents, which causes concern, since such a board would be able to change at will the agreements by which students now pass freely from community colleges to universities.

Support for the amendment came from Susann Anstead, who said she understood the fear of an independent Board of Regents, but so strongly favored the other parts of the amendment that she intends to vote for it.

The trustees also approved a plan recommended by Dr. Eissey, whereby Dr. Eissey, like all other employees at the college, would be evaluated annually. The Board plans to make this an official board policy.

The agreement between the college and the county for joint use of facilities at John Prince Park and the college was signed by the trustees. One new feature is that the county has agreed to give the college $65,000 to add lights to the baseball field.

In other actions the trustees:

Approved a number of grant requests, including one for the development of a Community Resources Center here at the college.

Appointed architects for remodeling the Chemistry Lab ventilation system and for conversion of the Basic Studies/Math Lab space.

Appointed engineers for air conditioning the gym.

Authorized final plans for handball/paddleball courts pending approval of preliminary plans by the State Department of Education.

MAKE-UP EXAMS

Students are permitted to make up announced examinations that they have missed, if, in the opinion of the instructor, the absence was for a justifiable reason (approved college trip, serious illness, death in the family, or emergency). The procedure is as follows:

1. Get a statement from the instructor that the absence is justifiable.
2. Take this statement to the Cashier's Office and pay the fee and get a receipt.
3. Present this receipt to the instructor who will give the test or to the College Testing Center in AD-1, if the instructor has made arrangements for the test to be taken there.
4. A student who fails to make arrangements and take the exam within fourteen (14) days loses make-up privileges, and the resulting grade is determined by the instructor.

5. Students may make up examinations during the day from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., or on Tuesday or Thursday from 6 - 9 p.m.

I am happy. I am eager. I feel great!!

charge by Dr. Lichtblau, the moment when Dr. Manor passed on the symbol of office -- all were impressive, but none were sad.

It was a happy day for PBJC.

Dr. Eisey said it in his speech: "I am happy. I am eager. I am enthusiastic and optimistic. I feel great!"

Dr. Eisey paid tribute to the leadership of Dr. Manor and Dr. Leonard, our two previous presidents, and to the "many hundreds of positive things Palm Beach Junior College means to you and to this community," but called for everyone to be "splendidly discontented."

He said the secret of growth is "tiny seeds of splendid discontent, planted in the deep, rich soil of love, mutual respect and open communications."

He asked that we remain discontented until we have a north campus, until we have more programs for elder Americans, in international/intercultural education, until we have courses by TV, courses by newspaper, and a Weekend College.

Dr. Eisey drew a big round of applause when he said he wanted us to be discontented with our salaries -- not just discontented enough to moan and groan -- but discontented enough to help the administration to find the funds to make us the best paid faculty and staff in Florida.

Dr. Eisey called for splendid discontent "until every person in this great community of ours turns, as naturally as a flower does to the sun, to Palm Beach Junior College for information, for education, for inspiration, for recreation, for leadership, and, most wonderful of all, for the opportunity to be of service to others, rather than have others serve you."

In concluding his speech, Dr. Eisey said: "Every morning I pray that the soil that is Palm Beach Junior College will be enriched with love, mutual respect and open communication. And that God will drop into this soil his seeds of splendid discontent.

"If all of you will join me in that prayer, I can promise you that those tiny seeds, warmed by the sun of your understanding, energized with the electric current of your caring, and watered by the tears of your compassion will grow, and flourish, and will bring forth such a harvest that the most beautiful dreams of today will pale when compared to the reality of tomorrow.

"Come, now, let us be splendidly discontented together!"

A touching moment in the ceremony came after Dr. Manor presented Dr. Eissey with the symbol of office -- a bronze medallion cast for this occasion, but intended to be transferred from president to president in the future.

Dr. Manor had stressed Dr. Eissey's hard work in preparing himself for the office, and said that during that time they had become close personal friends. After presenting the medallion, Dr. Manor warmly embraced the new president.

Dr. Lichtblau provided a light moment when he admitted to being warm up on the platform, and said the trustees would see to it that the gym was air-conditioned before the next big event.

The PBJC gym was arranged in the most attractive way yet achieved with the use of plants, and with the use of an acoustical shell recently purchased by the music department.

The band and concert choir gave the kind of excellent support to which we have become accustomed.

The turnout of faculty and staff was very good, but there was a slip-up somewhere in the communications lines, and many students did not realize they were invited for the occasion, with the result that many seats in the rear of the gym were not occupied.

The reception which followed never did get a receiving line organized, but no one seemed to mind. Friendly chatter in small groups was the order of the day.

A luncheon, organized primarily for out of town guests, was also attended by Dr. Eissey's family and personal friends, and by some members of the staff and faculty.

AGREEMENT!

The bargaining teams have reached agreement.

The fourth session of the current round of negotiations ended Thursday at 4:50 p.m. with teams for the college and for the United Faculty satisfied they had reached a contract they could recommend.

It was less than a month from the first session on September 28 -- a lot shorter time than the two and a half years it took to reach the first contract.

This one, if ratified by the members of the bargaining unit and by the trustees, will be in effect from November 1, 1978 to June 30, 1979.

It will, if ratified, give faculty members the same five per cent raise to be given other employees of the college, (except those whose positions were already raised in July), beginning on November 1.

The contract will provide provisions for "grandfathering," and will continue the option for refusal of the 196-day contract for teachers hired before 1977-78, as previously disclosed.

A proposal for changing some provisions of the academic rank system relating to Associate Professor and Professor, and for different interpretations of "in field" and "approved related areas" was made by the management team at Thursday's meeting.

The principal effect of the changes would be to allow a broader choice of academic subjects accepted for academic rank.

The teams then went through the entire contract, agreeing to fourteen changes -- all of them either purely editorial in nature, or necessary to incorporate the new agreements.

The instructor would give these completed forms to the students concerned; then, after that, it is the responsibility of the student to make arrangements with his instructors for the absences and for any make-up work which may need to be done. -- Paul Graham

Dennis Alber, United Faculty president, issued a statement: We are gratified that the United Faculty and the Administration have reached agreement for the first time so quickly. There are two reasons for this: 1. We have a new president, Dr. Edward Eissey, who voices a real concern for the faculty, and from whom we expect a great deal in the future; 2. The United Faculty accepted several unsatisfactory items in the contract, including a less-than-satisfactory 5% raise in salary, in order to expedite matters.

We are looking forward to great things from Dr. Eissey. We expect a great deal from him in our next round of bargaining, which will begin early in 1979.

Of course, this agreement will become effective only upon ratification by the faculty and the Board of Trustees. The auditorium has been reserved for Monday, October 30, 1978, at three o'clock for the faculty to meet and it is our hope that the faculty will vote YES to ratify the agreement reached at the bargaining table.

THUMBS DOWN

Although a number of statements about the five per cent raise have indicated that all personnel will receive the raise unless their positions were already raised in July, it appears there will be one exception: Dr. Eissey.

Originally, the administration's bargaining team included the President in their calculations. Even though the cost of benefits for the faculty turned out to be higher than anticipated, the bargaining team intended to ask for a modification of Dr. Eissey's contract to include the same percentage granted other personnel.

But Dr. Eissey has turned thumbs down on the idea.

"I could use the money," Dr. Eissey said, "and I believe I have worked hard enough and effectively enough to deserve it. But I also realize that by virtue of my change in position, my salary has kept pace with inflation this last year, while that of most of the faculty and staff has not.

"I would prefer that the funds for payment of my salary be used for faculty benefits and this has already been done.

"I also want people to realize that cost-effective new programs, increased efficiency and productivity, and savings where possible without sacrificing quality are mandatory if we are to provide the salaries we would like in the years to come for all of us.

"If these fiscal initiatives are successful, and if it appears there are funds for it, I will be happy at some later time to accept an upward revision of my contractual salary if it is proposed by the trustees."

A play that the New York Times called "Spectacular, remarkable.." and Newsweek called "a work of astonishing frankness, power to startle, piercing eloquence..." will open Thursday night in our auditorium.

Spring Awakening, a play written by German playwright Frank Wedekind in 1891, had a spectacular rebirth last year at the Juilliard School of Acting, and proved so popular that it was later presented by the Public Theater of Greenwich Village, and was a complete sell-out.

As presented by our own PBJC Players and Frank Leahy, the setting of the play has been changed from Germany to a New England school in the 1890's, but the central theme remains intact.

It is a tragedy of two teen-age lovers brought together by the awakening of intense physical and emotional attraction.

Their natural uninhibited feelings are victimized by the inflexible moral code of the society.

Wedekind's penetrating play reveals the morality of the time in its full absurdity and hypocrisy.

In adapting the play for presentation here, Frank felt that audiences would relate better to a setting in early New England, where morality was at least as stern, and as hypocritical, as it was in Wedekind's Germany.

John Murphy, a former PBJC student, who is teaching Art Musto's stagecraft class during Art's sabbatical, is technical director for the play.

He and his student assistants were faced with the task of creating a forest area, a hayloft, three student rooms, a church and a graveyard -- all on a simultaneous stage.

The solution involves some rather complicated lighting -- with the use of color

CONTRACT RATIFIED

The second contract between Palm Beach Junior College and the United Faculty of PBJC received the final ratification it needed to become fact at 2:30 p.m. Monday, November 6. The PBJC trustees voted 4-0, (one member was absent), to ratify the agreement, which had already been ratified by the union membership.

Attendance at the second Tuesday with Ed was representative of the entire college community, with faculty, professional staff, career employees, and even students present.

Elizabeth Davey, who is the foreign students' friend on campus, brought three foreign students with her, who inquired as to projects they might undertake to help the college while they are here.

Problems ranged from some that could be solved immediately to others where community involvement and action will be necessary for solution.

Comments:

John Townsend, professional staff: "I liked it very much. Dr. Eissey gave positive responses. If he could not make an immediate commitment, he said he would investigate. He didn't let anything slide."

Joyce Cates, career employee: "Very good. It gives people on the staff a chance to know what the faculty is doing and people on the faculty a chance to know what the staff is doing. I intend to go again sometime when I can."

Mavilene Prentice, faculty: "Very informative. I wish everybody at the college could see the president more often in a small group situation. The one-to-one feeling establishes such good rapport."

Dr. Eissey's office is already building a list for the next Tuesday With Ed, which will be the first Tuesday of December, December 5, 1:30 p.m., in Conference Room B in the Administration Building. Call 200 to reserve a place.

PBJC's chapter of FACC was the recipient of a special award, "THE GREATEST PERCENT OF INCREASE OF MEMBERS OVER THE PREVIOUS YEAR."

Dr. Edward Eissey headed the entourage of 14 members who attended the annual conference which was held in Tampa, Florida from November 1-4.

Jim Kellerman, Executive Director of Florida's Association of Community Colleges, hailed PBJC's achievement as "a renaissance in process."

FACC Award*

Dr. Samuel Bottosto, President of PBJC's local chapter; Mr. Grant Bartels, membership chairman and vice president; Mr. Robert Book, treasurer; and Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, secretary, were praised for their leadership efforts in behalf of the chapter's increasing membership and professional activity.

Highlights of the convention will be presented at the next meeting of PBJC's local chapter of Florida Association of Community Colleges. -- Bottosto

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE JC MONDAY REPORT:

OFFICE OF
THE PRESIDENT

November 8, 1978

Mr. Dennis Alber, President
United Faculty of Palm Beach Junior College
Lake Worth, FL 33461

Dear Dennis:

I am happy that the administration and the union have agreed to a contract after just one month of negotiation. I hope the speedy conclusion is only a foretaste of good will and cooperation in the months to come, because it will take hard work and effort on the part of all of us if we are to succeed.

I noted with both pleasure and concern your remarks at the conclusion of the negotiations. Any president would be pleased to know that he is perceived as a person who really cares about his faculty, and everyone likes to have a general vote of confidence.

But I am concerned that in a single short statement you twice mentioned that you expect great things from Dr. Edward Eissey in the future, and in the next round of bargaining.

If this means you expect the president to do everything he can to increase salaries and fringe benefits, and to make working conditions better in every way he can while still acting with fiscal responsibility, your expectations are well founded.

But if it means that you believe that the president, alone, or that the Board of Trustees and administration of this college, alone, can somehow magically come up with the money to meet all our aspirations, no matter how legitimate they may be, you are tragically mistaken.

If it means the union is going to expend its major efforts on trying to get a bigger and bigger slice of a pie that is already too small and is still shrinking, we can all be assured that there won't be enough pie to go around.

If it means that you perceive your role, and the role of other unit members as that of passive bystanders while the president and the administration squeeze more blood out of turnips that are already dehydrated, ride gallantly into battle against the giant windmills of the legislature, and pound the pavements until the citizenry gives up a half mill, we are all doomed to disappointment.

Mr. Dennis Alber
November 8, 1978

The future of this college, and the future of the next round of bargaining do not rest on one man. They rest on you and every other member of the college community.

I believe it is to your best interest to set your sights higher than the small pie we are now dividing. The faculty deserves more. It is time that every employee here begins to work actively to increase the size of the whole pie. Here are some specifics:

1. We need students. We are serving more students this fall, but our FTE remains essentially the same as last year. We must have an increase both for immediate- and long-range funding. We need the help of all unit members and all college personnel in our recruiting programs. What is the faculty willing to do in recruiting students?
2. We need fuller classrooms. I know that smaller class size is a desirable educational goal, and some day we may be able to get adequate funding for higher education in Florida, but for right now, we need full classrooms if we are going to have funds for raises. That's how we came up with much of the funding for the current raise, and we can still go farther in finding students for those empty spots in the classroom. Is the union willing to accept more students in the classroom in order to receive higher salaries?
3. We need help with the legislature. Legislators have incredible pressures put on them when it comes time for budget talks, and community colleges have never developed pressures that even begin to compare with those exerted by other agencies receiving state funds. Your organization will be an absolutely vital element in getting word, at the right time, to the legislature that we need our rightful share of available funding. Is the union willing to work toward this end?
4. We need a change in attitude toward part-time teachers. We know that the backbone of our teaching effort is, and will remain, the full-time faculty. But it is a fact of life that some courses can be taught equally well by part-time qualified teachers, that part-time teachers cost far less than full-time teachers, and that every part-time teacher is therefore paying part of the salary of full-time teachers. It is also a fact that our ratio of part-time to full-time teachers is smaller than in many colleges in Florida, and that the community colleges paying the highest salaries to full-time teachers are those with a high percentage of part-time teachers. We will not replace full-time teachers with part-time teachers, but we want you to understand that we are thinking of your salaries and benefits when we hire more part-time teachers in the future. Is the union willing to support this concept?

November 8, 1978

5. We need enthusiastic backing. Last year, when we proposed to the local legislators that we be allowed to go to the people to ask for a half mill of taxes, we asked the union to go hand-in-hand with us, but you would not do so. We were turned down by our local delegation. St. Petersburg, however, where support of the faculty was enthusiastic, was successful with their legislators, and successful at the polls. Although the idea originated here, it is St. Petersburg which will be receiving the aid, not us. Is the union willing to actively support and promote a millage election?
6. We are planning many new ventures: Courses by TV, courses by newspaper, a weekend college. These will all require your enthusiastic backing for success. And all of them will result in benefits for the faculty. Will the union get behind these programs?
7. We need your help to cut costs. If all we do is turn off lights when we are not using them, we can help that much. We need your ideas. We do not guarantee to use them every time, but we do guarantee to listen, to give your idea serious consideration, and to thank you for your interest. Is the union willing to offer constructive suggestions for such economies?

The financial situation the college faces is serious. Every source I have warns us that the next few years will probably produce a real crisis in educational funding in Florida. As you know, we have no taxing authority--we cannot obtain additional monies outside of our present sources. Unlike municipalities, counties and other governmental bodies, we cannot raise our tax rates to provide additional benefits. We are definitely on a fixed income, fixed primarily by the legislature.

There are many experts who feel the financial crunch is coming later this year, and will certainly be upon us by the beginning of the next fiscal year. We need to get busy.

All of us need to get busy.

Can I count on the union support? If the answer is yes--what specifically does the union recommend to accomplish the above?

Sincerely,

Edward M. Eissey
President

Palm Beach Junior College has been approved as a provider of continuing education offerings in nursing, according to Elizabeth A. Bell, Coordinator of Continuing Education.

In a letter to Bell from Joan S. Sill, R.N., Nursing Education Consultant with the State of Florida Department of Professional and Occupational Regulations, PBJC's approval status will be in effect from January 1, 1979 to December 31, 1981.

We Have An Opportunity

This new regulation presents us with a real opportunity to serve the nursing profession of the county, and it is of very great importance that the college become known quickly as a convenient place for nurses to secure the re-training they must have.

If you have a nurse friend, let her know that we have an extensive list of courses scheduled here in January.

A regulation from the Florida State Board of Nursing states: "beginning in 1979 each licensed nurse shall participate in a minimum of fifteen hours per annum or thirty hours per biennium of appropriate continuing education for licensure renewal.

"These requirements shall be met during the two calendar years preceding the year in which renewals are issued.

"Beginning in 1981, during the license renewal period, each licensee shall be mailed either an application for renewal, or a notice of non-compliance

"Continuing education may consist of post-graduate studies, institutes, in-service education/staff development, seminars, lectures, conferences, workshops, extension studies, correspondence courses, self-instructional modules, refresher courses, or other such approved activities."

A partial listing of courses scheduled for January includes Basic Electrocardiography, Pharmacology Update, Medical Spanish II, Alcoholism, Death and Dying, Common Skin Disorders, Gerontology: The Science of Aging, Decubitus Ulcers, and Stroke, Bell said.

"I will be happy to send a schedule of courses to interested nurses," Bell said. "Contact me at the Continuing Education Office, 965-8000, ext. 312."

HELP PTK AID DIABETIC CHILDREN

Collecting items for a Rummage Sale to help Diabetic children go to camp, and collecting canned goods to be distributed to needy families for Thanksgiving are two of the activities of Phi Theta Kappa at PBJC Central this month.

The PBJC Central chapter -- Delta Omicron -- of Phi Theta Kappa, the National Junior College Honorary Fraternity, is collecting rummage sale items and canned goods at their PTK Office in the Business Building, BA-131.

The deadline for bringing in the rummage sale items is November 17, because the Rummage Sale will be held at the Trail Drive-In Flea Market on November 19, and the deadline for bringing in canned goods is November 22. Delta Omicron is counting on the two drives to be successful so that both the Diabetic children and the needy families will be helped.

Two Palm Beach Junior College faculty members are co-producing a program -- The E.R.A. is Now -- to be presented in the PBJC Auditorium Thursday, November 16 at 9:10 a.m.

Barbara Matthews, from the Social Science Department and Sunny Meyer, from the Communications Department have planned a program featuring students of Oral Interpretation and students of Feminist Psychology.

A special guest, Betty Steffens, general counsel to Governor Reubin Askew, and co-chairperson of the Commission on the Status of Women in Florida will speak.

Commenting on plans for the program, Dr. Eissey said it is in the best educational tradition:

"Students and teachers working together in a volunteer effort to educate the public on a matter of vital concern -- this is real community college action.

"I urge all who can to attend."

THE E.R.A.
IS NOW

Watson B. Duncan, III will introduce the program, followed by History and Herstory, in which students John Papsidera, Jim Lewis, Lynn Tuckwood, Gary Williams, Darin dePeahul, Tina Doumnar, with Sunny Meyer, will participate.

Edwin V. Pugh will discuss the 10th, 14th, 15th, and 19th Constitutional Amendments.

Did you Know? --Facts...Facts... Homophobia, will be presented by Charles Anderson, Terri Beermann, Laurie Mann, Kathie Oblow, Paul Vandergrift and Barbara Walk.

Dr. Richard Yinger, Meyer, Matthews and Pugh will present The Mythical Issues.

The Florida Senate, 1977, presentation will include students Beermann, Anderson, Vandergrift and faculty member Matthews.

Pugh will discuss the E.R.A. in Florida, including Election, Extension and Special Session.

Betty Steffans will bring A Special Message from Governor Askew, and Dr. Samuel Bottosto, Chairman of the Social Science Department, will introduce guests and visitors.

The program is open to the public and there is no charge for admission.

DRUG ABUSE CONFERENCE

One hundred and eighty young people from all over Palm Beach County will attend an all-day Drug Abuse Conference at Palm Beach Junior College Friday, November 17, according to John Townsend, Coordinator of Continuing Education. This conference is being co-sponsored by: The Homebuilders & Contractors Association; Palm Beach County Comprehensive Mental Health Center, the Area Drug Abuse Council, and Palm Beach Junior College.

There will be 45 students attending from each section of the county -- 15 elementary, 15 middle school and 15 high school students, says Linda Raflowitz, staff assistant of ADAC (Area Drug Abuse Council).

On Thursday evening, November 16, interested parents have been invited to a buffet and get acquainted meeting starting at 6 p.m. in the Student Activity Center Lounge.

The Sales and Marketing Club of PBJC will present its 12th annual fashion show filled with enchantment entitled "The Magic is You." It will be held Friday, November 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Food Service Building of the College.

RIDE THE MAGIC CARPET Let us take you on a magic carpet ride into a world of all the latest styles uniquely presented.

Admission is free and refreshments will be served during intermission. Come and experience the magic of fashion! -- Widdows

HOORAY FOR PBJC SOUTH!!

For the first time in the five years Palm Beach Junior College South has been located on the FAU campus, student enrollment has gone over the 1,000 mark -- 1,007 to be exact -- according to Jim Tanner, Dean of Instruction and Personnel at PBJC South.

This is an increase of 167 over the Fall Term of 1977, when 840 students were enrolled.

The largest increase was in the number of day students, which went from 516 in 1977 to 642 in 1978, up 126, while the number of evening students went up 42 from 330 to reach 372 this year.

"I'm delighted that we've reached this point in our enrollment," says Jim. But we may be approaching a point where unless we are able to find extra classroom space somewhere, or are given the go-ahead to start construction on new facilities, we won't be able to grow much more," he adds.

Jim says that PBJC South fills such a high percentage of the available seating capacity in their classrooms, "we're apparently providing what the students need.

"We may have to seek classroom space in local churches, hospitals or banks, but we'd rather stick to the academic atmosphere on the FAU campus, if possible," he continues.

A report done by Mildred Whatley, PBJC Director of Institutional Research completed September 6, shows 90 per cent of the PBJC South students live in a geographical area south of Boynton Beach, five per cent come from the PBJC Central area, four per cent come from outside the PBJC South commuting area, and one per cent have unknown zip codes.

Students in the south county area have the advantage of having a four-year college available in their own backyard, with their freshman and sophomore years at PBJC South and the junior and senior years at Florida Atlantic University.

Because of the close cooperation between the two colleges-- for example, PBJC offers classes on the FAU quarter schedule as well as the regular PBJC term schedules -- enrollment has risen.

PBJC is located at Henderson University School on the FAU campus, with administrative offices in several mobile units nearby.

Since Henderson School is in use during the day as an elementary school, PBJC South can only use the classrooms there for evening classes; day classes are held in FAU classrooms, Jim points out.

The Winter Term schedule is currently in the printing stage, and will provide the largest selection of classes for that term that PBJC South has ever offered.

TWO TUESDAYS WITH ED

Tuesdays are getting to be busy days for Ed. Last Tuesday, Dr. Eissey expanded Tuesday With Ed to the North Center, meeting with many of the personnel in a lively discussion which ranged over a large number of topics.

Reactions were so good, Dr. Eissey is now setting aside the second Tuesday afternoon of each month for Tuesday With Ed at PBJC North. Joan Holloway says the idea is very good. "Dr. Eissey is certainly doing a marvelous job of explaining very well what is happening. He has good rapport with the PBJC North faculty, and his visits are always helpful."

Francis Barton: "One of the really fine things that have happened on this campus. He not only gives an attentive ear to us, but he lets you know what is going on in the entire college."

NOTICE

Effective Monday, November 20, 1978 mail station numbers have been changed in order to expedite the mail sorting process. The listing of numbers appears in the new Campus Telephone Directory.

DEADLINE

Due to the Thanksgiving Holidays, the deadline for items for the next Monday Report will be Wednesday, 12 noon, Nov. 22. The following week the deadline will return to Thursday noon as usual. Bring written articles to Dr. Erling's office.

LET'S ALL GREET THE NEW PACERS

You will have your first chance to see the 1978-79 basketball Pacers over the Thanksgiving Holidays, and we can't think of a better way to get in some wholesome entertainment. Besides, it's free for all PBJC employees. Athletic Director Tom Mullins is promising season passes for everybody.

The Pacers will go on view for the home crowd at 7 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 23, when they play the first game of the Thanksgiving Tournament, facing a team from Hutchinson, Kansas. A second game between Hillsborough and Delgado, from New Orleans, will start at 9 p.m. on the same night.

If you can't come Thursday, make it for Friday, as the same teams will be playing and the tournament winner will be decided on Saturday.

Coach Joe Ceravolo will be starting from

The Beachcomber has again won an All-American rating, this time for the Winter Term of 1978.

BEACHCOMBER IS AGAIN
ALL-AMERICAN

The Beachcomber received "marks of distinction for coverage and content; editorial leadership and opinion features; physical appearance and visual communication; as well as photography and the use of graphics.

Editor-in-chief during that time was Doug Hughes, now attending the University of Florida in Gainesville.

Associate editor, news, was Eden White; Gunda Caldwell was associate editor, editorials, and Bob Freeman was photo editor.

The advertising manager at that time was Lisa Borbonus. Venture editor, as well as PBJC North representative, was Kathy Cavanaugh.

Co-editors, sports were Jim Swann (presently a sports writer for the paper) and Sherman Donnelly. Cyndy Byrd was PBJC South representative.

NEW PURCHASE ORDER FORMS

The Purchase Order Forms have been revised in order to run more efficiently on the Computer Terminal Printer and yield greater legibility on all copies.

Consequently, effective immediately, the Department Originator copy will be blue in lieu of the canary color. Color change only -- don't be confused!

KEEP ACTIVE

A table tennis tournament is scheduled to begin November 27. This is a single elimination tournament open to beginners and pros.

Anyone interested in forming a Backgammon tournament meet in the gym on December 4 at 2:30.

For these activities and more, contact the Intramural office 4/K in the gym.

THANKS

I want to thank all my friends at PBJC for your thoughtful expressions of concern during my recent stay in the hospital. Your cards, your phone calls, your visits, the lovely planter from the United Faculty -- all these lifted my spirits greatly.
-- Carl R. Knittle

I want to thank my friends and colleagues for the cards, flowers, phone calls and visits during my bout with the surgeon's blade.

You all really helped me through a rather grim encounter. Believe me, I will be ever grateful. -- Buckley Rader

It was the Barb and Sunny, Ed, Rich and Sam Show, presented to an almost full auditorium of mostly approving people.

THE E.R.A.

Students from Sunny's Oral Interpretation class and Barb's Feminist Psychology classes had parts in the factual and interesting presentation.

Betty Steffans, special counsel to Gov. Reubin Askew, told supporters they should make their views known to their legislators in Tallahassee.

Officials from local, county and the state sat in front-row seats, and were introduced by Sam.

Mrs. Violet Doummar, an opponent of the E.R.A. -- she's chairman of Stop E.R.A. in Palm Beach County -- sat quietly through the program (in which her daughter took part) and has asked for equal time to present an opposing view.

A standing ovation greeted the program's end.

NOVEMBER BOARD

Palm Beach Junior College trustees approved a long list of items in a short meeting Wednesday, Nov. 15.

The trustees approved without comment a plan to evaluate the President of the college annually.

Dr. Edward Eissey, PBJC president since September 1 of this year, suggested the evaluation and an evaluation instrument has been developed by the staff of the college.

The trustees received with thanks a check for a $400 scholarship from the Scottish Rite Foundation of Florida with John Wymer, administrator of Good Samaritan Hospital representing the Scottish Rite.

They received notification of a grant to reimburse costs of a summer workshop in Orlando, a grant of $22,000 for expanding on-line registration by Edison Community College, and a grant of $69,000 for upgrading computer hardware.

The board approved the schematic drawings of the Instructional and Cultural Center for the Glades campus, and authorized sending the drawings to the State Department of Education for approval.

FORENSICS ADVISOR

Emily Hamer is the new advisor for the Forensics Program according to Dr. W. Ervin Rouson, vice president for student activities.

A graphics technician for the PBJC News Bureau, she is a PBJC graduate, a former Beachcomber editor, and formerly worked for the Suburban Reporter and WeekDay publications.

"We're actively seeking students to participate in the Forensics Program," Emily says.

scratch with this year's Pacers. Last year's miracle team, the "Eight is Enough" gang that gave us our first state champions, and a seventh place finish in the Nationals, are all now playing elsewhere, except Mike Owens, who is lost to grades for the first semester.

A good recruiting year, particularly outside the area, has given coach Ceravolo plenty of raw talent which can hopefully be molded into a team during the year.

It has more overall height than any Pacer team in history, with two players at 6-8 and two more at 6-7. By contrast, last year's tallest players were two at 6-6.

It also has a couple of the smallest players ever, here, one at 5-7 and another at 5-9.

In between, in terms of height, are guards and forwards who had hot shooting hands in high school. Whether they can make it in college remains to be seen.

By the time you read this, the Pacers will already have played two games, both away, one against last year's state runner-up Florida College, and the other against Manatee.

The team this year promises to be an interesting one, and, if things go well this year, we will be in an even better position next year.

Let's get in on the ground floor of what promises to be an exciting two years in Pacer Basketball. Set aside some time over the holidays to welcome the new Pacers.

LET'S ALL HELP IN THE GOODWILL BLITZ

A two-day Goodwill Blitz on next Monday and Tuesday, (December 4 and 5), is being planned by the Student Government Association, and they are asking all of us to help.

Tom O'Rourke, SGA President, has appealed to all PBJC organizations and individuals to assist in gathering what he hopes will be a "mountain" of clothing and repairable household items for Goodwill Industries on those days.

Now is the time for cleaning out the garage and attic of items you are never going to use, anyhow, but you just hated to throw away.

The SGA is planning a massive telephone calling system that will alert every PBJC student prior to the two days of the blitz.

"We want everyone to help us to give a boost to this really worthwhile organization," Tom says.

"Veronica Herndon is heading a student committee working on the blitz, and we are hoping for a real mountain of usable items both days."

Linda Morton, Director of Human Services for Goodwill Industries attended a meeting of student organizations last Monday.

Among the services offered by Goodwill, she said, are aptitude testing, vocational adjustment, pre-vocational work development, work-habit training and therapeutically-oriented work.

The fair market value of items donated to

COURSES BY NEWSPAPER, TV

We are moving rapidly ahead with our plans to offer courses by newspaper and by television in the Winter Term

In our planning, we are leaning heavily on the expertise developed by other community colleges in Florida who have preceded us in these fields.

Their experience has shown that administratively, such courses are better placed in some part of the college which acts in an Open College concept, whether that name is used or not.

Consequently, even though these are credit courses, the Continuing Education Department has been asked to carry the primary responsibility for developing and implementing these courses. -- Eissey

TRAVELLERS

Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, R.N., Coordinator of Continuing Education, recently attended a four-day workshop on Continuing Education Planning, Design and Implementation held at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, October 23 - 26.

The Symposium, sponsored by the Florida members of the Society of Women Engineers, presented the opportunities for today's women in engineering and the sciences, and challenged women to enter careers in these fields.

The theme for this fifth annual symposium was Potential Unlimited.

Students who accompanied the professor were Michelle Burns and Bianca Gallo, Bari Staup, and Joanne Tillman.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

One of the great things about the Christmas Season at PBJC is the opportunity to hear the holiday concerts by the Music Department, and this year we will have two.

Tonight at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium, the PBJC Community Orchestra and the combined bands of PBJC and Florida Atlantic University will perform.

The PBJC Community Orchestra, conducted by James Gross, is made up of PBJC students as well as musicians from the area.

The PBJC Concert Band is directed by Sy Pryweller, and the FAU Concert Band is directed by Dan Callahan.

Tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium, the PBJC Concert Choir and the PBJC Pacesetters, both directed by Pat Johnson will present selections from Handel's Messiah, and other music from classical through pop, folk and rock.

Tickets for both concerts ($2 each) may be purchased in advance in Room HU-20 on the main floor of the Humanities Building from 8 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m., and at the auditorium door on the 4th and 5th.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD MEN AND WOMEN TO COME TO THE AID OF THEIR COLLEGE

If you are one of those people who have been asking what you can do for your college instead of spending all your time thinking about what the college can do for you -- here is something specific, important, and urgent that you can do for PBJC, and all of us who work here. Please read the rest of this article, and act on it.

We need people who will be willing to take a package of recruiting materials, (brochures and posters), to condominiums and other agencies in touch with senior citizens, explain what we are trying to do to recreation directors or others in charge, and get our posters put up and brochures delivered. In addition, we would like the volunteer to contact suitable businesses in the area of the same condominium and try to place counter brochures, and/or posters.

Jesse Ferguson, Chairman of the Recruitment Committee, in the Registrar's Office, and Paul Butler, in SAC North, will have materials on hand before the end of this week, and it is imperative that these materials are displayed before everybody leaves for Christmas vacations.

*Please call Jesse at 219 or Paul at 217 if you would be willing to do this. They have a list

The mentalist, Kreskin, comedian David Frye, and activist/comedian Dick Gregory will appear in assemblies at Palm Beach Junior College in the Winter Term, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Y. Davey, Chairman of the PBJC Assembly Committee.

KRESKIN,
DAVID FRYE, AND
DICK GREGORY

"This is the first time ever PBJC students have had an opportunity to vote on those they wish to appear in assemblies at the college," Mrs. Davey said.

Three students on the assembly committee, Susan Zier, Phillip Higgins and Tom Edwards sorted through piles of brochures put out by various booking agencies describing the talents of lecturers, musicians, entertainers and dancers.

The three came up with a list of eight possibilities, David Frye, comedian; Mac Franpton Trio, musicians; Kreskin, ESP; William Windom, one-man shows on James Thurber and Ernie Pyle; John Chappell, one-man show on Mark Twain; Dick Gregory, activist/comedian and "Mr. ESP", an unidentified mentalist.

The eight names were placed on a ballot so that students could select the entertainers of their choice, the top three vote getters to appear in Winter Term assemblies.

The ballots were placed in the Student Activity Center Lounge (SAC) and outside the cafeteria on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 14 - 16, with these results: Kreskin, 103 votes, David Frye, 103 votes, Dick Gregory, 93 votes.

No dates have yet been set for assemblies.

TURKEY TROT WINNERS

Members of the faculty, staff and student body turned out in great form for the annual college Turkey Trot, November 16, sponsored by Intramural Association, according to Roy Bell.

Winners of first place in each division won a turkey; second place, a roasting chicken, and third place, a frying chicken.

Dick Rusche took first place among the men faculty runners, with Tom Mullins, second, and Dr. Richard Yinger third.

Sunny Meyer came in first for the second straight year in the women faculty division, with Lillian Dooies second and Dorothy Witherspoon third.

Winners in the men's group were Hamid Faquir, first, Mark Westberry, second, and Tom Griffith, third.

Women's staff winners were Jann Ackerman, first, Donna Cremeans, second, and Joyce Pawley, third.

Women student winners were Jacquelin Dempsey, first, Denise Dechane, second, and Mandy Moore, third.

Men student winners were David Lenz, first, Tom Hansen, second, and Jim Swann, third.

LET'S HEAR IT FOR JOE

Joe Lesko won three trophies in the Intramural Bowling League for the Fall Term -- high game - 247, high series - 611, and member of first place team, the Wildcats.

of 74 condominiums and 7 agencies and would be happy for your suggestion of others, perhaps your own church.

The chances are that one of these places will be near where you live, so that a half hour, or an hour at the most would do the job.

The Recruitment Committee has been donating an hour each week for several weeks to this and other projects, and simply cannot take on the personal delivery necessary to make this important project succeed.

As you know, if you read the Monday Report regularly, we had more students enroll in the Fall Term, but, on the average, they took fewer classes, with the result that our Full Time Enrollment (FTE) remained almost exactly even with a year ago. It is essential to the present funding and future planning for us to increase FTE in the Winter Term.

The Recruitment Committee decided that one of the ways we could have an immediate impact was to increase awareness of our senior citizens of the $4 courses they have available to them. There has also been extensive planning for Continuing Education courses to supplement the credit courses in subjects that are likely to be oversubscribed after our advertising.

Please help in this project. Especially if you know someone who lives in a condominium who would be willing to give you some inside help on placement. Call Jesse or Paul right away.

TUESDAY WITH ED

Just a reminder that Tuesday With Ed is tomorrow at PBJC Central and December 12 at PBJC North. Attendance at PBJC Central is limited to the number that can get into Conference B, so it is better to reserve a place by calling the President's Office, Extension 200. Things get started at 1:30 p.m.

GOOD FOR BARBARA

Our congratulations to Barbara Matthews, who was a finalist in the Education and Research category at the recent Women's Achievement Awards Luncheon held at the Helen Wilkes Hotel.

Barbara was nominated by the Early Childhood Club at PBJC and by the National Organization for Women (NOW) in Palm Beach County.

The Palm Beach County Commission on the Status of Women sponsored the event, at which seven women in the county were honored for their achievements in Industry and Business, Entertainment and Sports; Community Involvement; Health and Social Welfare; Art Literature and Music (Miss L. M. Royce won the award in this category); and Education and Research.

VISITORS

The PBJC Center for Early Learning was visited by three child care workers from Marion County, Thursday, November 30, and on December 8, the Director of Teacher Education and other staff members from Eckerd College will visit the Center to see how the Montessori teacher training program is carried out.

PBJC was the first junior college in the country to offer Montessori training.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

We, the faculty and staff of PBJC - North, are inviting everyone to join us in our Christmas fun and frolic on Friday, December 15. We will be at the Village Club Apartments Clubhouse at the corner of Purdy Lane and Kirk Road in Palm Springs. Dress: informal. We would really enjoy having all of you from other campuses eat, drink, sing, dance, and cavort (cavort?) with us, but we make two requests: (1) come after dinner (say, from 9:00 p.m. on) and (2) bring your own potables. See you there?

AND ALSO, BEFORE CHRISTMAS

You will be receiving a notice, soon, of a first-time-ever meeting of the entire college community on December 19, 10 a.m. in the auditorium. We will see all of you there.

CHRISTMAS IS ALREADY HERE

One student in Dr. Robert Suttle's sales and marketing classes have got to be looking at their teacher with a little more respect these days. Anybody who can sell himself in less than five months so well that he can steal our own slim and terrific Dot Whatley from her local admirers has got to be some kind of salesman. For those of you who didn't know, the stranger from North Carolina by way of Oklahoma State and Dot were married Thursday. Wow! What a Christmas present!

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to our music department and to those terrific talented students on two excellent Christmas programs last week. If you haven't been getting out for the programs put on by our music department, you are missing one of the finest benefits from being associated with Palm Beach Junior College.-- Eissey

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Since Dr. Eissey will be out of town on Tuesday, December 12, the next Tuesday With Ed at the North Campus will be on Tuesday, January 9.

The Office of the Evening Registrar will be closed December 22 through December 26 and December 29 through January 1, 1979. Work hours December 27 and 28 will be 8:00 A.M. - 4:30 P.M.

HOW TO GET A LOAN

If you have been thinking of starting a small business, but don't have the capital, or have a friend who is in this position, you will want to attend a free lecture in BA-313, December 13, 7-10 p.m. The lecturer will be Leo N. Rayball, Loan Officer of the Small Business Administration, West Palm Beach, and he will tell us how to obtain government aid in starting a small business. Avel S. Abrams, instructor of the professional salesmanship class, says that you are all cordially invited.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Northwestern Michigan College has developed a Faculty-Administrator Exchange Program Directory for two-year junior and community colleges. The purpose is to enhance the professional development of both faculty and administrators and to recognize the specific position of the two-year college in higher education. For a copy of the form to register with the directory, write Community and Junior College Exchange Office, Northwestern Michigan College, Traverse City, Michigan 49684. -- Paul Graham

CLASSROOM VISITS

Dr. Eissey has added another item to his already busy schedule -- classroom visits. He has already made a number of brief appearances whenever his schedule permits, and has been welcomed by teachers and students.

"I believe it is important for the students to be able to know and to see the president of the college," Dr. Eissey says. "I also think it is important for a president to keep in close touch with what is happening in the classroom. The inter-action between teachers and students is the most important activity on any college campus."

OVERTIME FOR CLASSIFIED PERSONNEL

Department Chairpersons are reminded that when it is necessary to have classified personnel work beyond their normal work week, prior approval must be requested in writing from the President.

Such overtime must be reported on the appropriate form provided by the Payroll Department and must be submitted on the last working day of the week or at the close of the pay period, whichever occurs first. -- Tate

When Grant Bartels leaves as PBJC security chief and goes to his new position as the director of the Palm Beach County Law Enforcement Applicant Processing Center on January 4, he won't be going very far.

His new office will be located in the Criminal Justice Institute, Room CJ-4E.

The deadline will be Wednesday, 4 p.m. and the delivery will be Wednesday, December 27 and Tuesday, January 2, for those who are not here on December 27. Please think ahead for any items you need published through the first week in January, and bring them to Dr. Erling's office.

WE ALL GET TOGETHER

Everybody, but everybody will get together tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the auditorium.

Please be on time. Things will move fast and you will not want to miss anything.

A number of actions having to do with construction and renovation are planned including:

Educational specifications for an addition to the bookstore, final plans for air conditioning the classroom wing of the Administration Building, contract for engineering the air conditioning of the gymnasium, and development of plans & specifications for tennis courts and handball courts at Glades campus.

You are always invited to attend board meetings, which are held on the third Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

GENE ARANT

A member of the Art Department faculty -- Gene Arant -- is one of about six persons in the nation teaching the dye transfer process in photography, according to a letter he received from Eastman Kodak.

This is a process used in making color prints. "The dye transfer process as we know it today, started in the late 30's. It makes the most permanent color print you can obtain in photography, and is used in all phases of color reproduction work," Gene explains.

"When color film was developed and improved, most photographers changed from dye transfer to the simpler photo chemical process, but recently there has been a trend back to the earlier, more complex method," Gene adds.

According to Eastman Kodak, sales of supplies necessary for the dye transfer process have doubled recently. Gene is presently writing a book on this process. The senior instructor, who has been on the PBJC faculty for ten years, didn't get started in the art profession until he was close to 30.

"All my life I wanted to be an artist, but I had to make a living in a field I already knew, while what I really wanted to do got pushed farther and farther into the background," he comments.

After serving in the Air Force for two years he became an aircraft mechanic in Miami and Bartow for awhile and later had his own automotive repair business for six years.

"One day I just decided I was going to attend PBJC, so I closed the shop, and did just that," he continues.

After receiving his associate in arts degree he went on to Florida State University.

The trustees, in their final meeting of 1978, approved the Courses by Newspaper and TV, and also approved reducing the age of senior citizens who can enroll for our $4 price to fill classes on January 12 from age 65 to age 62.

They also received information about administration plans for a Weekend College to begin in the Fall Term.

Another noteworthy addition beginning even earlier, are two new A.S. Degree Programs approved by the trustees, Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter, and Chartered Life Underwriter. Dr. Graham has been working with the insurance industry for some time, and these programs, which will entitle the successful student to apply for the CPCU

1978 -- ENDINGS

As the year ended, we all got together for the first time ever for an hour and a half review of progress and prospects. Since all of you were there, it would be redundant to review the meeting here. There is grass roots movement to bring the PBJC Earth Tremors back for a return engagement, but nobody's been able to locate Dr. Miles, who was last seen in the cafeteria, insisting loudly that he did not, either, make a mistake. "It was just a gag," he said loudly to anybody that would listen, "we planned it all ahead of time just for laughs."

We had the usual number of Christmas gatherings of assorted sizes and dispositions in different departments, and then left, thanks to a presidential dispensation, at 2:15 p.m. on Thursday.

Also as usual, many employees were taking the workdays between Christmas and New Year's as vacation days. As this is written, it is apparent that there won't be too many here to read this as a Wednesday report, so most of you will be reading it as a Tuesday report on January 2.

1979 -- BEGINNINGS

In addition to regular registration, in which most of us are involved immediately, there are other important registration dates coming up soon. The first are January 10 and 11, when the registration for our first course by newspaper and our two courses by television will take place. Then, on January 12, 9 a.m. till noon is a special registration for senior citizens which we hope will see many more seniors enrolling in unfilled classes.

All of us have a stake in registration, and anything you can do to make this process as pleasant and efficient as possible will be something you have done to help yourself. As you know, our two main sources of funding are student fees and state funding, both of which go up when we have more students taking more hours of courses.

The board also approved Dr. Eissey's plans to seek four things from the legislature: (1) North Campus Capital Outlay. (2) Matching funds for a swimming pool. (3) Permission for a referendum for a 1/2 mill ad-valorem tax levy. (4) Support of a bill to allow Florida Atlantic University to sell their property on 45th Street and use the money to build on our North Campus.

Also approved were the construction projects reported in last week's Monday Report.

COURSES BY TV

As of Thursday, January 4, 2:30 p.m., there were already more than 35 applications mailed out for the two new courses by TV. This is an "encouraging" response, according to Betty Woolfe, heading up the effort for Continuing Education.

"We've been hampered by the telephone service which has been jammed with regular registration this week," Mrs. Woolfe said. "But we still have TV ads running next week, and registration goes on through January 13."

The college could not have entered into the

WE OUTGROW OUR COMPUTER AND ADD A NEW ONE - IN THE MIDDLE OF REGISTRATION

What a time for us to outgrow our computer system. The weather was cold and the lines were long.

"If all had gone as planned, the new IBM 370/138 would have been installed by January 1, all ready for the influx of students for registration on the 2nd, but the inclement weather throughout the county caused a heavy drain on the IBM maintenance crews, making it impossible to meet our deadline," explained Jack Kelly, new Director Data Processing.

"The growth of all our campuses, in addition to all the campuses of Indian River and Edison Community Colleges which we also service, had caused our old computer to reach its saturation point, with all 41 terminals registering at once," he added.

"For two days I was analyzing and juggling computers and feeling frustrated because of the breakdowns which caused the students to stand outside in the cold.

"One of the things I became aware of, during this time, was the total dedication of Charles Graham and the staff in the Registrar's Office.

"Dr. Eissey spent an hour talking to the students outside in the cold, and later spoke to students inside, and even answered phones," Jack continued.

"We needed a block of eight hours to install the new computer, so last night (Jan. 3) from midnight to 8 a.m. our staff and IBM personnel worked to get the 138 installed and ready for registration today (Thursday, January 4). Now, students are being registered every 10-15 seconds," Jack said.

Kelly said the new computer as a piece of hardware is a partial solution to the problem.

"The ultimate solution is to streamline the programs and the computer software so as to better fit the new computer system.

"This is one of our major objectives, which we hope

FLORIDA COMMUNITY COLLEGE WEEK

Florida Community College Week - the first ever held - will be observed by Palm Beach Junior College and the 27 other community colleges in Florida, Jan. 21-27.

Florida was the first state in the nation to adopt a master plan (largely originated

The figures coming out of the computer on Wednesday night, (the latest available as this is written), make it look like we have the largest enrollment on record, at least in terms of the number of credit students we are serving. The total figure, 8,562, is so good that everybody is quick to point out that only 7,442 of that number have their fees in balance, and there are 711 with payments due.

Despite these possible negatives, there is a growing feeling that we will be able to claim some real success in our recruiting efforts when we get settled into the new term. There is also a positive or two -- the Senior Citizen registration taking place on Friday, and a few other late registrations for credit.

The preliminary figures available now show 5,486 at PBJC Central, 1,116 at PBJC North, 869 at PBJC South, 572 at PBJC Glades and 480 in the Mixed Campus category.

Day students still outnumber evening students at PBJC Central and PBJC South, but the reverse is true at PBJC North and Glades. Overall, day students number 4,724 and evening students, 3,838.

The FTE number, (Full-Time Enrollment), perhaps the most important number of all, since this is important in determining the amount of funding we receive from the state, was 2,312.7.

By comparison, last Winter Term's enrollment was 8,191 and the FTE was 2,295.6.

It is obvious that the trend of recent years toward more students taking fewer classes is continuing. Despite this, we are more than holding our own. At a time when college enrollments in many parts of the state and nation are declining, we can feel pride in our steady increase.

by PBJC alumnus, Dr. James L. Wattenbarger in his doctoral dissertation).

Dr. Wattenbarger and Dr. Lee G. Henderson, also a PBJC graduate, were the first two men to head the Division of Community Colleges in the State Department of Education.

Florida Community College Week is sponsored by the FACC (Florida Association of Community Colleges) the only professional organization in education which is open to staff, faculty, administration and trustees, an organization which lobbies for the community college cause in the Florida Legislature.

The PBJC chapter of the FACC has designated each day during the week of January 21-27 to call attention to a different facet of campus life. The day-by-day list follows:

The hills and 'hollers' of Appalachia, Vanceburg, Kentucky, were home for two weeks of volunteering last summer, for a brother and sister from Riviera Beach, now attending Palm Beach Junior College.

Bryan Boudreault, 20, an elementary education major who plans to teach deaf or retarded children, and his sister, Donna, 19, whose goal is social work, chose the Holy Redeemer Catholic Mission in Vanceburg for their volunteer stint.

BROTHER AND SISTER STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

After first obtaining two letters of recommendation each, and receiving a donation of $70 toward their project from their parish, St. Francis of Assissi, Riviera Beach, the two set out in their 1968 Volkswagen. Six repair jobs later, they arrived at their destination.

The primary purpose of the mission, headed by Father Pat, and its Glenmary Society, made up of nuns, priests, brothers and lay people, is to bring the gospel to the people of Appalachia.

They also carry on a number of other activities, including building houses for those in the area whose homes had burned down, taking a census of the Catholic families in the communities nearby, and running a Vacation Bible School (Bryan, who plays guitar and sings, was in charge of the music program).

Bryan and Donna soon met the 13 other volunteers, and found that all of them came from the northern U.S.

"They seemed surprised that we had come all the way from Florida," Donna said.

"In the two weeks we were together, the volunteers were like members of our family," Bryan added.

Each of the volunteers was assigned a partner. "My partner was an 80-year-old nun from Chicago, Sister Mary Elise, who looked and acted at least thirty years younger," Bryan said, "and we got along so well. She loves the mountains and comes back as a volunteer every summer."

He learned that his partner's best friend is the former Austrian nun, now the Baroness Maria von Trapp, on whose story, The Sound of Music was based.

The volunteers ate together in a dining room above Appalachian Industries, a factory which had been set up by Father Pat, so that the residents could make the beautiful handcrafted furniture, pottery and other items, for which the area is famous.

"This way, the Appalachian area residents can earn a living without having to leave their homes," Bryan said. "Father Pat feels it's important that the mountain people not lose their heritage."

Leaving the mission was difficult for Bryan and Donna. They were given a "Glenmary Goodbye," which includes decorating the departees' car with daisies and other wild flowers, and lining up alongside the road waving and throwing more flowers, as they drive off.

"We drove down the road for a bit, looked at each other, stopped the car, and broke into tears," they said.

When Donna gets her degree in social work she hopes to go back to the area permanently to work, volunteering for the mission on the side.

W-2

The W-2 reports are scheduled to be mailed today. Since Unit Personnel are now receiving two checks per month, the check received December 20 will be included as income for 1978.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Effective January 1, 1979 the Federal Government has increased the Social Security rates for the employee and the employer from 6.05% to 6.13%. In addition, the maximum upon which deductions are made has increased from $17,700 to $22,900.

RETIREMENT

State retirement contribution reports will be issued this week; please note that the income reported reflects payroll checks received through June 30, 1978.

POSITION VACANCY

The following position vacancy is being announced:

Coordinator of Veteran Affairs: Position requires a bachelor's degree, and military veteran preferred.

Interested applicants should contact the Director of Personnel.

LET IT BE KNOWN

Almost everybody on the staff has had to field complaints about the parking fee, so it is nice to begin to see some really tangible results -- LET IT BE KNOWN, therefore, that the new paving south of the Auditorium and Humanities Buildings and on the north access road to the campus came from parking lot fees. Without the fees we would not have had the paving.

We also understand that some scholarship funds are accumulating, and that announcements about the use of these funds will be coming in the near future.

HOORAY FOR CANTEEN CORP.

The Canteen Corp., which has our vending machine franchise, has upgraded eight or so of their machines, with a couple yet to go. All of the soft drink machines have been, or will be, changed from the paper cup to the can-type dispenser, and candy, cigarette and pastry machines are being upgraded.

Also, a $1 bill changer has been added inside the Finance Office to make it easier to get change for the machines. We are happy for these signs of progress.

STOP E.R.A. PRESENTATION

In an effort to air both sides of the Equal Rights Amendment Issue, a Stop E.R.A. program will be presented February 7 at Palm Beach Junior College, according to Dr. Samuel Bottosto, Chairman of the Social Science Department. On November 16, PBJC faculty members, Barbara Matthews and Sunny Meyer, co-produced 'The E.R.A. is Now', a presentation tracing the history of equal rights in the U.S., which gave the E.R.A. supporters' point of view.

The February 7 program will be sponsored by the Palm Beach County by Women for Responsible Legislation.

WE DID IT! RECORD ENROLLMENT

The largest number of students ever to enroll at Palm Beach Junior College is now attending classes according to Charles Graham, Registrar.

"We have registered 8,709 credit students for the Winter Term," Graham says, "which is 311 students more than we had in the Fall Term of 1978, our previous all-time high."

The gain in students over the number for the Winter Term a year ago was 518, and the 8,191 for that term was also a record up to that time.

The most significant gain scored by any of the four PBJC centers was at PBJC South, where 943 registered as compared to 776 a year ago. PBJC North went to 1,443 from 1,367 a year ago. PBJC Central and PBJC Glades both made small advances. Only credit students are counted in the registration figures. Thousands of additional students are served by the college in non-credit classes of many different types.

A trend which has been apparent for several years -- more and more students taking fewer classes -- continued in the Winter Term, Graham said. The 8,709 students this term are taking 69,354 semester hours of credit. The 8,398 in the Fall Term took 70,424, and the 8,191 of a year ago took 68,113.

In addition to the significant increases at PBJC South and PBJC North, there were also significant increases in two other categories, Graham said.

One was the 244 students enrolled in Courses by Newspaper and TV. These courses were offered for the first time in the Winter Term. The other was a significant increase in the number of senior citizens taking advantage of a special $4 per course registration fee.

to fill vacant spots in classrooms.

"If you add the gains at South and North to the Newspaper and TV Courses and the senior citizens, you have just about equalled all our gains over a year ago," Graham pointed out. "At a time when college enrollments throughout the country are falling, we are very happy to be able to report a continuing increase."

COME TO HOMECOMING

The PBJC Student Government Association is sponsoring the first Homecoming in years, February 1 - 3, and is inviting the staff, faculty, administration, students, alumni and community to take part in the activities.

The theme is "Around the World in 80 Days."

Students had an opportunity last week to nominate those they wish to be Homecoming King and Queen and members of the Homecoming Court.

Take a look at the calendar on page one for all the events. There'll be Dress-Up Days (in keeping with the theme) Exhibition Day, a Pep Rally and Parade and the Early Childhood Club will have the Children's Walkathon during Homecoming Festivities.

A Barbecue will take place on Saturday, February 3 at 2 p.m. for people from the community, alumni, students, staff, faculty and administrators, and the basketball game with the Pacers playing Indian River Community College (pre-game show starts at 6:45 p.m.) and the Homecoming King and Queen will be announced at the half (8:30 p.m.) with an SGA Party following in the SAC Lounge.

Come and support the Homecoming activities!!!

CHANGE OF DATE AND TIME

The date and time of the Stop E.R.A. Program have been changed to February 12, 11 to 12 in the SAC Lounge. This program will be sponsored by the Palm Beach County Women for Responsible Legislation.

1978 LEGISLATION ON TEACHER CERTIFICATES

Effective July 1, 1979 ranks will no longer be shown on Florida teachers certificates. After that date, certificates issued will be substitute, part-time, temporary and regular. All regular certificates will be valid for five years regardless of the level of training attained by the applicant. Teachers currently working toward eligibility for a Rank II Post Standard must complete all course work and file a completed application with the Teacher Certification Section of the Department of Education by June 30, 1979, in order to be issued the Post Standard Certificate. Teachers who have not completed all course work on their Post Standard Certificate by June 30, 1979, will be issued a regular certificate valid for five years. This holds true regardless of the date the plan for course work leading to a Rank II Post Standard Certificate was approved by the Teacher Certification Section of the Department of Education.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE JC MONDAY REPORT:

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

January 19, 1979

Mr. Dennis Alber, President
United Faculty of Palm Beach Junior College
Lake Worth, FL 33461

Dear Dennis:

As you no doubt realized by the end of our third meeting on January 16, which I invited you and the union officers to attend, I was keenly disappointed that the union has not enthusiastically endorsed the administration's plan to attempt to bring $9 million in additional revenue to the college over the next three years -- if we can obtain the backing of the tax payers of the county for our plan.

As you know, I have offered, and still offer, (although the time for acceptance is growing short), to include the union leadership in ALL planning for use of the funds derived from ad valorem taxes, if we obtain them. The union leadership would also be a key part of whatever effort is made to inform taxpayers of our needs and encourage them to vote for the millage. As you know, the ad valorem taxes would be used for providing the community with an enlarged auditorium for cultural performances, for long overdue repairs to equipment and facilities, to obtain badly needed additional parking areas, curriculum development, programs for the elderly, handicapped, and to meet community, faculty and staff needs. I have asked you to help me formulate the plans. The answers you are seeking will be in the plans I have asked you to help to develop.

Not once have you, or any other member of the union, given an answer when I asked how expenditure of $9 million for Palm Beach Junior College could possibly be anything but an asset and not harmful to any member of the faculty -- and yet, for precious months, with time growing shorter, the union withholds support as if this were a chip in a bargaining game.

I cannot help but be reminded of the union's attempt to bargain over my offer to have the union appear as an essential part of the inaugural ceremony until it was too late, and the offer had to be withdrawn.

Then, on Wednesday, January 17, 1979, after our Tuesday afternoon meeting, I learned that while you and other members of the executive committee were busy looking a gift horse in the mouth, others were busy biting the hand that feeds them.

At the moment we were talking, a United Faculty Newsletter was being sent out, which by the use of misinformation, innuendo, false assumptions, and a viewpoint that breathes mistrust and suspicion into every word, makes attacks on TV and Newspaper Courses, the Weekend College, and our part-time faculty, lumping these and other concerns together in questioning the quality of education at Palm Beach Junior College.

NEWSPAPER AND TV COURSES. These are packages, approved by the State Department of Education, developed by panels of distinguished scholars, usually by means of grant funds under the direction of fully accredited institutions of higher learning. There is no lessening of quality here, and our very first venture in this area has succeeded beyond any reasonable expectations. We enrolled 244 students in these courses. Many of these students would not have been in contact with Palm Beach Junior College except for the Newspaper and TV Courses. The pot shots by the editor of the Union Newsletter are aimed at the programs which will provide additional revenue that could allow us to meet faculty needs.

THE WEEKEND COLLEGE. This has been approved in concept only, at this stage. It, like the Newspaper and TV Courses, is already a successful procedure in other college systems. It, too, may generate additional FTE, and as you know, the faculty will be given an opportunity to teach. The implication that this, in some unknown and mysterious way, would depreciate quality at PBJC, is totally unwarranted.

PART-TIME FACULTY. The editor's implication that part-time faculty at PBJC is not professional, and the statement that "only the full-time faculty can give their dedication to the profession, to the students, and, to the college" are not only false to fact, but, irresponsible.

Many of our part-time faculty are professional educators whose dedication to the profession, the students and the college is a match for any of us who are full time. Many of them are former teachers here, teaching now because of that dedication. Some are professionals in other fields -- but, equally dedicated to the task of teaching. In truth, it is only through the use of selected, well-qualified part-time instructors that the college has been able to maintain its current wage schedule for full-time teachers. Here, again, it does seem that the editor is biting the hand that feeds you.

I DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THE EDITOR OF YOUR NEWSLETTER ACCURATELY REFLECTS THE ATTITUDES OF A MAJORITY OF OUR FACULTY.

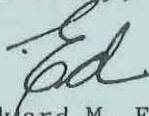

It is discouraging to continually try to come up with plans in order to improve the college's financial condition and to give you an equal share in the very first planning stages -- only to find that you have delayed for many months your decision as to whether you want to join in our effort. The union stands on the sidelines and gripes about not being included in decision making and yet cannot make a decision.

I do not believe that the faculty of this college really wishes to go back to the bargaining table and make angry demands for dollars that are not there instead of spending its energies in helping their college to produce the additional revenue to establish an adequate budget. Realistically, however, I must face the fact that this is precisely what a few want.

As you know, we have scheduled an appearance before our county legislators on January 29, to discuss 1/2 MILL AD VALOREM TAX, NORTH CAMPUS, AQUATIC FACILITY FOR HANDICAPPED-COMMUNITY AND COLLEGE, SICK LEAVE PAYMENT AT RETIREMENT, LEGISLATIVE ISSUES TO THE LOCAL DELEGATION. I have asked your union to be with us, and as of this date, I have not received a yes or no. I literally begged the union officers to team up with our plans and ideas so we can move forward together. All I am receiving is "no decision, we aren't sure of what the faculty wants us to do," etc.

Dennis, I am publicly asking the faculty union officers to be a part of the team which will develop the plans for the millage election. The water is great...jump in with us! We need and want to work with you.

Sincerely,

Edward M. Eissey
President

TRUSTEES MEETING

Dr. Eissey received the unanimous backing of trustees for all five items he plans to present to the county legislators at the January meeting of the board.

The trustees agreed to sign a resolution of support for the one half mill ad valorem tax referendum, and directed Dr. Eissey to continue to press for the other four items: 1. Funding for the North Campus. 2. State funds to match the $450,000 from the county for an aquatic facility. 3. Pay at retirement for one half of all accumulated sick leave, not just one half of the first 120 days. 4. The PBJC position on state funding for community colleges.

Dr. Eissey's appearance is scheduled Monday, January 29, at the Boynton Beach City Hall. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m., and Dr. Eissey is scheduled at 8 p.m. It will be an important moment for the future of Palm Beach Junior College, and your attendance and support would be welcome.

At the meeting of the trustees, a student, Paul Mills, asked the board to take what he called "a bold, new step" and allow alcoholic beverages to be sold at some student Government Association functions.

Dr. Philip Lichtblau, board chairman, said his personal belief was that alcohol had no place at either a hospital or a school. Mrs. Susann Anstead said she thought there might be some specific evening social events where alcohol could be served, but that the idea of taking along a six pack to the next basketball game was not good.

The item was referred to the board's Student Affairs Committee. A meeting of the committee for that purpose has been set for Tuesday, February 6, noon, in Conference Room B.

The Palm Beach Junior College women's tennis squad opened its season Saturday at home against FAU. This is the first of two matches against FAU for the Pacers.

Coach Julio Rive is anticipating good things from his girls and feels this is the best team PBJC has ever had.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TEAM BEGINS SCHEDULE

Rive has good reason for his optimism as the Pacers went undefeated in seven exhibition matches, including two victories over Indian River, last year's state champion.

The starting lineup for the Pacers will consist of Alexi Beggs at the No. 1 spot, while the No. 2 and No. 3 spot is still being contended for by Kim Wishard and Patti Zoratti. Astrid Robinson and Kim Tasker are in contention for the fourth and fifth spots while Jennifer Gold will play at No. 6. In the doubles action it will be Beggs and Wishard at No. 1. Robinson and Zoratti will play at No. 2 and Gold and Tasker will play at the No. 3 spot.

Beggs is a familiar name at PBJC, where Alex's older sister, Vicki, was No. 1 for two years, leading the team to some of its best years before going on scholarship to Miami University.

On February 1 the Pacers will compete in the Early Bird Invitational at Miami Dade South. The tournament will consist of the eight top placing teams from last year's state tournament and is to display the caliber of play in the state. Rive feels it should be very beneficial for the Pacers to see these other squads, since some of them are not on the regular schedule and this is their only chance to view them before the state championships.

The Pacer's 79 schedule includes twenty dual matches with fourteen of them against conference opponents. Also on the schedule are two matches with FIU and one with Dartmouth.

NEW BEACHCOMBER STAFF

Names of the Winter Term staff for the Palm Beach Junior College weekly newspaper, the Beachcomber, have been announced by faculty advisor, Dr. Arthur Noble.

They are: Laurie Man, and Cecilia Vock, both from West Palm Beach, co-editors-in-chief; Jill Williams, Palm Beach Gardens, former editor of the student yearbook-magazine, the Galleon, layout editor.

REMINDER

Please send to the Office of the Registrar all students who do not appear on your class rolls and have not been authorized to be added. Some students' schedules were dropped from terminals in error, and should be reinstated.

It may not be the best baseball played on Adeimy Field this year, but it might be the most fun. The game gets underway at 1:30 p.m. Regular press day activities follow.

CONDOLENCE

Our deepest sympathy to Jim Trichler, whose wife, Mary, died suddenly Wednesday. Mary had been ill for some time, and had just recently returned from the hospital.

PBJC student, Meloyde Newbold has recently returned from a four-day observance of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr's birthday in Atlanta. Meloyde, who had a personal invitation to attend from Martin Luther King, III, went as a representative of PBJC, with the Student Government Association defraying the cost of the trip.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

The student had met Mrs. Coretta King last November, when Mrs. King was a speaker at a Bethune-Cookman Banquet at the Helen Wilkes Hotel, WPB, and has corresponded with the widow and her son since that time.

Among dignitaries and celebrities Meloyde heard at the various events she attended were President Jimmy Carter, U. S. Postmaster General, William F. Bolger, Jr., author Alex Haley and Stephanie Mills, star of The Wiz.

Meloyde will report on her experiences to the SGA Executive Board, when she will thank everyone at PBJC (you know who you are) who helped to speed up the paper work, so that the funds for the trip came through in time.

JIM HOUSER, ONE-MAN SHOW

A one-man show of the work of Jim Houser, PBJC artist, will be held at the David Findlay Galleries, 984 Madison Avenue, New York, January 24 through February 17. A reception for the artist will take place January 27 at the gallery.

Houser, who has received numerous prizes for his painting, has received two $2,000 Atwater Kent awards, a Channing Hare Award and four Hors de Concours (not competing for a prize) awards from the Society of the Four Arts.

Jim is listed in Who's Who in American Art, has had a large number of one-man shows throughout the country, and his work is included in many museums and major permanent university collections.

That community colleges, PBJC included, get $437 LESS from the state for educating one full-time student than the amount the state gives to universities for educating freshman and sophomore level students there?

That community colleges are being asked to educate more students each year since 1972 with an amount of money that has 22 per cent. LESS purchasing power than the amount we received in 1972?

That all three major segments of education in Florida, (K-12, Community Colleges, Universities), have fallen behind the consumer index in state funding levels?

That the community colleges have fallen FAR, FAR behind the index? (Please look carefully at the chart and information on page 6.)

That Commissioner Turlington has recognized these facts, and is asking for $10 million next year and $21 million the following year to bring us up from 70 per cent to 85 per cent of the amount given universities for comparable classes?

These facts, and many more, were brought to the attention of the legislators who represent PBJC, Indian River, Broward and Edison at a meeting in the Foodservice Center Tuesday.

Almost every speaker at the meeting acknowledged the fact that all segments of education in Florida need additional funding, just to keep up with inflation without considering needed improvements, but the issue of inequitable funding between the different segments was also met head-on.

Attending were delegations from all four colleges led by their presidents, trustees of all four colleges, the legislators, representatives of FACC, and the press.

(Cont. on page 2)

DID YOU ALSO KNOW?

That community colleges are serving 615,000 people this year, one out of every 14.6 people in Florida?

That we serve more than twice as many people as the university system?

That YOU CAN HELP by reminding legislators of some of these facts as they prepare for the upcoming session of the legislature?

That Dr. Eisey will be presenting PBJC's needs to the county legislative delegation tonight at the Boynton Beach City Hall at a meeting beginning at 7:30 pm and that the outcome of this meeting is important to you and to PBJC?

Please look at the chart on page six, and stay alive to the happenings in the state legislature this year. All legislative sessions are important, but his one is super important as far as the future of PBJC is concerned.

INVITATION

SIXTH ANNUAL CHILDREN'S WALKATHON

The PBJC Center for Early Learning will hold its sixth annual Children's Walkathon during the Palm Beach Junior College Homecoming festivities, according to Mrs. Kathy Bowser, Director of the Center.

"The Early Childhood Club members decided to have the Walkathon on Thursday, February 1 from 9 am to noon at the PBJC Tennis Courts on the first day of Homecoming," Kathy said.

The Center expects the 22 students who attend the Montessori-oriented school for children of students, faculty and staff members at PBJC, to walk in the annual event.

College students, faculty and staff members as well as members of the community are encouraged to sponsor children in the Walkathon, which was established to raise funds for the Center and for projects of the Early Childhood Club, Lisa Montagnino, club president explained. Approximately $300 was pledged last year; donations will also be accepted.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Although he meets the third ranked college team in the nation on February 4 at the West Palm Beach Municipal Stadium, Coach Dusty Rhodes believes the 1979 Palm Beach Junior College Pacers will not be overwhelmed by any opponents this year.

An Exciting Season For Pacer Baseball

Dusty's confidence has been bolstered by decisions by three of his better pitchers to stay with the Pacers rather than to go into professional baseball after the January major league draft.

Joe Siers, former Atlantic High School pitcher, was picked in the fourth round by the Los Angeles Dodgers. He had a 5-2 record with the Pacers last year, and a 1.62 ERA. Randy O'Neal, drafted by Montreal, and Jeffrey Etsell, drafted by Houston, both freshmen, also opted for the Pacers instead of the draft. With Keith Parenteau returning from last year, and ace relievers Dwight Tidwell and Leland Wright, plus freshmen Jim Hoskins, Jeff Morgan and Tom Price, Dusty has more good pitchers than he has ever had on one team at PBJC. The rest of the team is also a blend of proven veterans battling for their positions against talented newcomers.

After the game against Miami University on February 4, the Pacers will face four more of the major four-year college teams in the state in the next two weeks: Florida State, Florida International University, University of Florida, and Florida Southern.

The Pacers play six games in the stadium, and a ticket good for all six games may be purchased for $5.00.

Then the schedule plunges into the middle of conference play in Division IV -- the toughest conference in junior college baseball in the country.

Dusty told sports writers at a press day last week that these games and the rest of a 70-game schedule hold no fears for him. "After all, if these guys were playing for a minor league team, they'd be playing more than 70 games," he said.

The coach's comments came at a late luncheon following an inter-squad game in which the local sports writers from the electronic media coached and played on the green team with the sports writers from the print media. The green machine won a three-inning game, 6-2.

HEMOGLOBIN??

EAT plenty of protein and iron - it's time to increase your hemoglobin - the Blood Bank is coming on Wednesday, February 7 from 8:00 am - 4:00 pm. Let's all try and meet the goal of 50 pints. Remember it's for a good cause, YOU! -- Schmiederer

An article written by Dr. Richard E. Yinger, Associate Professor of Social Science at Palm Beach Junior College, was published in the January issue of Alternatives Magazine.

We Get Published --
Dr. Yinger, Dr. Smith Entitled "Close Encounters of the Fourth Kind, Views of an Exosociologist," the article tells about the progress made in the last 20 years in the field of aero space, but points out the lack of preparation "for the possibility that we are not the only living things in the universe." Dr. Yinger first introduced the term Exosociology, which is defined as the sociological investigation of the possibility of extra-terrestrial life and its possible implications on earth, in a paper he presented to the Pennsylvania Sociological Society in 1974.

Dr. D. Larry Smith published an article in the November edition of the International Journal of Instructional Media entitled: "Back to Basics: Media Based Language Arts Curriculum."

Dr. Smith is an Associate Professor at FAU and an Instructor at PBJC - South.

TUESDAY WITH ED

Do you have a problem that the President of the college might help solve? Do you have an idea about how to get things done more efficiently? Would you like to know more about some aspect of the college operation?

If the answer is "yes" to any of the above, you should call the President's office, (Ext. 200), and reserve one of the remaining spaces for Tuesday With Ed, February 6 at 1:30 in Conference Room B.

These sessions have been responsible for a number of changes in college operation which have smoothed away difficulties that in some cases had existed for many years. Let's keep it going that way.

to complete before the next registration in March," he said.

Charles Graham echoed Kelly's words about cooperation and dedication, and said the students, too, seemed to take the delays with good grace for the most part.

He said any attempt to compare registration with a year ago is sheer guesswork, at this point.

"I can't even get good figures for PBJC Central, much less for the other campuses," he said. "Then, too, we have later registrations for TV courses, and Courses by Newspaper. Year-to-year comparisons are getting more difficult all the time."

course by TV field this term if it had not been for cooperation from Miami-Dade and other colleges already providing this service. Results at this point are good enough to indicate that effort spent in this field will be rewarding. Many of those who telephone in are thrilled that the college is reaching out to the community with courses by TV and newspaper.

The evening bulletin is an excellent source of information on the courses by TV, and Betty will be happy to give you more information to pass on to your friends.

COURSES BY NEWSPAPER

As of Thursday, January 4, at 3 p.m., there were 67 applications or requests for applications for the course by newspaper, assuring a success in this new venture financially as well as in community outreach.

Applications are from a wide range of persons: -- nuns, teachers, ministers, priests and psychologists, among others, according to John Townsend, heading this project for Continuing Education.

"One person from Lakeland is taking the course," he said. "She was here on vacation at Christmas, and is having her mother clip the series and will drive in for the meetings on campus."

"We will register at least 75 and possibly 100," Townsend predicted. If you know someone who might be interested, have them contact John for more information. Deadline for registration is January 13.

The cooperation of the Palm Beach Post has been excellent, and we are grateful for their help.

As you know, both the course by newspaper, and the two courses by TV could be used for recency of credit by teachers seeking to renew their certificates with the State Department of Education, and some of our applications are from this source.

HEALTH ORIENTED COURSES

Members of the PBJC community who have friends or relatives who are RNs or LPNs may want to tell them about the large number of health-oriented courses which meet the requirements for the new mandatory continuing education requirements of the Florida State Board of Nursing. Some of the January courses (held at different locations throughout the county) are Basic Electrocardiography, Pharmacology Update for Nurses, Medical Spanish, II, Alcoholism, Professional Journal Review, Death and Dying for Nurses, Common Skin Disorders, Gerontology: The Science of Aging, Decubitus Ulcers, and Stroke. Contact Elizabeth Bell's office for info and brochures, Ext. 312.

ENGLISH-SPEAKING UNION SCHOLARSHIP

The Palm Beach Branch of the English Speaking Union will award a scholarship grant of at least $800 to a teacher from a school in Palm Beach County to attend summer school in England or Scotland this summer. The Universities of Birmingham (at Stratford-Upon-Avon), Kent, (at Canterbury), London, Oxford and Edinburgh are offering specific courses. The $800 covers most of tuition, board and residence for the courses, (usually between $1,100 and $1,200), but not transportation.

Deadline for receipt of applications is January 16. After selection by the local English-Speaking Union, the selection committee of the Institute of International Education in New York must also approve, and the New York committee is inclined to favor candidates under 35 years. Teachers wishing to apply should act as soon as possible. Applications and other information are available in Dr. Erling's office.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

For those interested in the international dimensions of post-secondary education, Consortium for International Education in cooperation with Brevard Community College will again be offering overseas travel/learning experiences in Europe and the Orient designed specifically for teachers. Some of the disciplines being organized for the summer of 1979 are:

June 9 - June 30 - 3 weeks

Allied Health and Nursing (Orient)
Ancient Civilizations (Egypt, Israel, Greece)
Ecology/Geography/Anthropology
(Australia/New Zealand, New Guinea)

Art and Architecture in Europe
Police Administration (Europe)
Electronic Engineering Technology (Orient)
Spain: Yesterday and Today

Telephone calls about our $4 senior citizen classes have been coming in at a steady pace all through registration, in spite of the difficulty in getting through to the college at that busy time. The indications are that we will have an unusual number of 62 and older students here on Friday morning to register for the unfilled spots in classes. Please extend every courtesy to these prospective students. As you know, the college is actively seeking to expand its services to the ever growing number of retirees in our midst, and a pleasant experience here on Friday is mandatory if we want to continue the interest our brochures have started.

SENIOR CITIZEN REGISTRATION

Continuing Education is planning to be on hand to offer a wide variety of workshops once we have filled the most popular classes. As in the past, courses in arts and crafts and sports lead the list of those in which the seniors are interested. We are all hoping that this recruiting effort will pay off.

OTHER WOMEN'S STUDIES

A wide variety of Women's Studies, Seminars and Courses, starting the week of January 8 and continuing throughout the month (including the Dress for Success Seminar and Fashion Show, planned by Doris Gaunt) will be offered through Continuing Education. Such seminars as Marriage and Its Alternatives, Women and Stress, Human Sexuality, Women and Art, Feminist Psychology and Sexual Assault Prevention, Courses on Assertive Communication, Women and the Law, and many other topics will be offered at PBJC Central, South and North, as well as at Howell Watkins Junior High School. Call Betty Woolfe's Office, Ext. 313.

1978-79 PACERS

As expected, Joe Ceravolo's Pacers are taking some lumps while the high school basketball players are being turned into college players. But, also as expected, they are putting up a real battle against every team they play, even though lack of experience and playing time together has not produced many wins to date. It is an interesting team, and we may have another team that will jell during the last half of the season. Come on out and support the team while they really need you.

CLU AT PBJC

Beginning in February, classes will begin at Palm Beach Junior College to prepare insurance employees for the Chartered Life Underwriter exams which take place in June.

This is a new cooperative effort between the college and the community, and is the result of discussions between Dr. Paul Graham and local members of the insurance industry.

In all, there are ten new courses offered in the CLU Diploma program. By combining these courses with our regular general education classes, insurance employees may earn Associate Degrees while obtaining CLU status.

Insurance is one of the leaders in industrial education and cooperation between the local industry and PBJC should benefit both.

LUCY BOOTH

The Palm Beach County Kidney Association will be visiting the Lucy Booth on January 17, 1979, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. The Lucy Booth will be located at the North side of the Cafeteria. Please stop by for "Healthful" information. -- M. Cannon, Clinic Nurse

THANKS

The sympathy and concern expressed recently by everyone, through flowers and cards, was much appreciated by my family and me. Thank you all. -- D. Whitner

READING CENTER

For those students desiring to improve their reading and study skills, the Reading Center will be open for six hours per week to volunteers during the winter term. The hours are:

| M | T | W | TH | F |
|--------------|----------------------------|--------------|-------------|--------------|
| 9:50 - 10:50 | 8:00 - 9:00 1:00 - 2:00 | 12:00 - 1:00 | 1:00 - 2:00 | 9:50 - 10:50 |

COOK APPRENTICE PROGRAM

The first course in the new three-year American Culinary Federation Cook Apprenticeship Program at Palm Beach Junior College is over, and a new course Food Service Practicum I, is starting today, 1 - 5 p.m.

The apprenticeship program for cooks consists of 432 hours of theory offered at PBJC, and 6,000 hours of on-the-job-training. The program is planned in six semi-annual stages with flexibility to shorten or lengthen any period according to individual ability.

Many of the apprentices already in the program are dreaming of some day opening a restaurant of their own.

Gloria Bell, 19, North Palm Beach, feels the course just completed, Introduction to Culinary Federation Apprenticeship gives a good idea of what the program is all about.

"We're learning all about the restaurant business, including management, and I believe a person could run his or her own restaurant after completing the three-year program," she says.

Gloria is working at the Boca Raton Hotel and Club for Chef Marvin Love, "doing mostly prep work, making hors d'oeuvres, and working on luncheon platters for conventions."

Gloria and Pamela Mezo, 20, Boca Raton, are the only women in the class. Pamela is also at the Boca Raton Hotel and Club, putting together cold meat platters, cheese boards and many varieties of salads.

"One day I went in to work at 3 a.m. to make 700 cold platters for a luncheon," she says.

Pamela hopes to specialize in the field of pastry, one day owning her own place.

Peter Stetson, 21, now of Lake Worth, came here from Connecticut. He already has an associate of arts degree in culinary arts from Johnson Wales College in Providence, Rhode Island. Peter, who works at the Breakers Hotel, dividing his work between the Golf Club, the Beach Club and the main kitchen, is enjoying the chance to work in short order cooking as well as for banquets, parties and sit-down dinners.

"I always cooked at home, even when I was little, and later took home ec courses in high school," he says.

He would like to have a restaurant of his own in New England eventually.

Mark La France, 24, of Hobe Sound, (originally from Massachusetts) works in the Turtle Creek Country Club for Chef Chris Panagacos, president of the Palm Beach County Chefs Association. Like the other apprentices, he says: "When I get rich and famous, I hope to open my own place."

IT WAS A GOOD GAME -- AND EVERYBODY IS WINNING

Dr. Eisey once played on the Palm Beach Junior College baseball team, but he never had a better night at the plate than he had last Monday before the county delegation to the State Legislature.

In the swimming pool he hit a home run -- unanimous approval.

On two other major issues, the North Campus and the half-mill levy, he hit two-baggers -- he's on base with a good chance of scoring.

On sick leave pay and the major community college legislative packet, both involving general, rather than local bills, he was given good advice as to how to proceed.

ALCOHOL PLUS MONEY EQUALS A LIVELY DISCUSSION

Although it is not as certain as most chemical reactions, it is quite well known that if you mix alcohol and money, spontaneous and lively differences of opinion are quite likely to break out all over the place.

If last Tuesday's meeting of the Student Affairs Committee of the trustees is a reliable indicator, just talking about alcohol and money in the same meeting will produce some of those same reactions.

At times the meeting threatened to break up into an argument between two persons -- for instance between a student opposing alcohol on campus and one favoring it -- but Mrs. Homer Hand,

(Cont. on page 2)

ALCOHOL PLUS MONEY

Committee Chairman, occasionally reminded everyone to get the chair's permission to speak, and this kept the meeting in line.

After all viewpoints had been heard, Mrs. Susann Anstead moved to allow alcohol at specific events with the prior approval of the President. Her motion died for lack of a second. Mrs. Hisetta Dyson moved to recommend to the board that no change be made in the current policy, and that passed, 2-1.

The committee then took up an item not on the original agenda -- a proposal by Dr. Eisey that student activities be required to prepare line item budgets for the next fiscal year, and that these budgets be presented to management and funded in exactly the same way that all departments on campus are budgeted and funded.

Mrs. Anstead pointed out that Dr. Eisey's proposal would reverse a decision made several years ago by the board. She said the current system was working.

Dr. Eisey said expenditures were being made which in his opinion were not wise, and that he could not remain fiscally responsible for expenditure of funds over which he had little control.

Mrs. Anstead read from current policy, which gives the President veto power over student activity budgets, and said that provision had been made so the President could exercise control. Dr. Eisey said he had received no such budgets.

Tom O'Rourke, Student Government Association President, said he thought the proposal was "awful." Dr. Eisey presented letters from some student government activities favoring his proposal.

After a long and lively discussion, (during which Dean of Student Activities Bob Moss introduced himself as a man in the Wild Life Management business), Mrs. Anstead's motion to postpone action until a later meeting of the committee did not get a second. Mrs. Dyson's motion to approve the President's plan passed, 2-1. Mrs. Hand explained that her lack of a second for postponement was only because there are at least two and a half months before final board action, with ample opportunity for everyone to be heard.

CHILDREN'S WALKATHON

When all the pledges come in proceeds from the Children's Walkathon held Friday as one of the events in the Palm Beach Junior College Homecoming celebration, should total more than $300, according to Kathleen Bowser, Director of the PBJC Center for Early Learning, which co-sponsored the "walk" along with the Early Childhood Club.

Some of the children were dressed in costumes of different countries in keeping with the Homecoming Theme: Around the World in 80 Days.

Ryan Mazzeo, four, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Mazzeo, West Palm Beach, whose mother, Judith attends PBJC, completed 14 laps around the PBJC Tennis Courts, a total of three and a half miles, more than any of the 17 other children participating.

Scott Hilliard, almost five, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hilliard, Loxahatchee (his mother Patricia is a PBJC Biology instructor), completed 13 laps.

Joey Schneider, five, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schneider--he's personnel director at PBJC--finished 12, as did Brendan McDermott, son of James and Donna McDermott.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Ed Pugh, of the Social Science Department, has initiated a survey on Rewriting the United States Constitution in his Introduction to Political Science class.

SHOULD WE HAVE A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION?

The 34 members of his Monday, Wednesday and Friday 7:30 a.m. class were each given 10 copies of the survey to be filled out by anyone willing to do so.

Ed, President of the Palm Beach County Historical Society, was recently appointed to the newly established Palm Beach County Historical Commission.

A newspaper article in the Feb. 4 Post-Times by Andrew Mollison of the Cox Newspapers Washington Bureau prompted the survey.

Entitled "Rewriting the Constitution?", the article stated that Utah recently became the 25th of the 34 required states necessary to ask Congress to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of drafting a budget-balancing amendment.

Supporters of an anti-abortion amendment have also obtained approval of 13 state legislatures for their project.

According to the article, President Carter said a convention would be an "extremely dangerous" and "radical departure" from the custom of having Congress rather than a convention submit amendments to the states for approval.

Economist Milton Friedman on the other hand agrees with Abraham Lincoln's views when he said in 1861 that a convention would be the best way to keep the federal government from interfering in any state's right to allow slavery.

$25,000 GIFT

The activity around Dr. Eisey's office next Monday morning, 8 - 8:30 a.m., will involve the assembling for permanent display of an unusual gift to the college: A bookcase and books from the historic Constancia --Uncle Sam Plantation.

One of the few fully authenticated furnishings of the famous plantation to survive, the bookcase is the gift of Gerrold F. Jacob, an attorney who lived for several years across Congress Avenue from the college, now a resident of Tallahassee.

Uncle Sam Plantation was a popular landing point halfway between Baton Rouge and New Orleans on the Mississippi for much of the early history of the United States. It was one of the largest, and purportedly one of the finest examples of architecture in the South during that period.

The bookcase has been officially appraised at $25,000.

CHINA TODAY

With China up front in the news these days, a free six-session series offered by Continuing Education on China Today should be fascinating, hearing people who have recently returned from China give their views on different facets of life there.

This course is proving to be very popular and 80 of the 100 seats were already taken as of Thursday morning. Call Continuing Education to reserve a seat, if any are left. All lectures will be held at 7 p.m. in the Library, Room LR 347.

CLASSICAL GUITARIST

Guitarist JORDAN STOYANOFF, protege of Silvio J. Estrada (former Instructor of Music at PBJC) from 1968-1976, traveled to San Diego to study under the Romero Brothers, for the past two years. He now returns for further study with Mr. Estrada after completing several concerts throughout California. He will present a program February 20, 1979 in the AUDITORIUM, from 11 am - 12. Students, staff and faculty are invited. This program is open to the public at no charge. NO classes will be dismissed. --Davey

CONDOLENCES

Friends of Dr. Robert Smith, our trustee until last year, will be saddened by news of the death of his wife, Bettye. It is our understanding she passed away after a brief hospitalization following a recurrence of an older health problem thought to be under control. Funeral arrangements will be made through Coleman Funeral Home.

HOMECOMING

Although the Pacers lost the Homecoming game, almost everyone connected with the overall festivity felt it was a success, and the students are already planning for a bigger and better event next year.

If you missed the pep rally or the parade this time around, make a note now to get in on the action next year.

NOW CHAPTER

A Palm Beach Junior College Campus Chapter of the National Organization for Women is being formed for Students, Staff and Faculty - NOW is the Time - Details later.

Remer (Sonny) Young is the new manager of Systems and Programming in the Data Processing Department, according to Jack Kelly, Director.

Young comes to the college after more than ten years with the Palm Beach County School Board. A native of Pahokee and a 1968 PBJC graduate, Sonny attended Data Processing Schools sponsored by IBM.

MEET SONNY, MANAGER, SYSTEMS AND PROGRAMMING

The new manager will coordinate the work of the programmer analysts, the senior systems analysts and the programmers, and will work with operations to upgrade the software and hardware development.

Sonny recently found an old undated clipping among his late father's papers telling of his 30-yard run to a touchdown, the only score in a Pahokee Junior High School game with Clewiston. The clipping also mentioned that Ed Eissey (now PBJC president) had that day taken over as football coach of Central.

Sonny and his wife, Betty, are parents of two sons, James, 14, and Jeff, 10, and the family has a home in West Palm Beach, but are planning to move to seven acres they own in Loxahatchee in about a year.

As to Sonny's Data Processing plans at PBJC: "One of my projects will be to study the new IBM 370-138 which was installed recently, and then use it to the best of its capabilities," he says. "We've already projected heavy academic usage of our IBM 370-125. "I want to learn all about the present PBJC projects, as well as the future needs, and then prepare a development plan for the use of both computers," he adds.

TRUSTEES WILL MEET AT PBJC GLADES

Although media attention at the upcoming trustees' meeting Wednesday night at the Glades Campus may still be focused on the proposed revision in student activity fee accounting -- the media generally follows controversy -- there are other items of considerable importance to the college on the agenda of the meeting.

An arrangement whereby some of the athletic fields at PBJC North will be constructed free of charge to the college in return for their use by the Benjamin School will be up for approval.

The educational specifications for conversion of the Basic Studies/Math Lab areas will come before the board.

Preliminary drawings for the cultural and instructional center at the Glades Campus will be ready for board inspection prior to sending them to Tallahassee.

The board will be notified of expiration of terms of Mrs. Susann Anstead and Mr. George Michael on May 31.

GOOD GOING, TONY

Dr. Tate has recently received a handsome certificate of appreciation from the Association of School Business Officials of the United States and Canada. Tony was on the program of the 64th annual meeting of this prestigious association, October 1 - 5, in Washington, D. C., and the certificate, signed by the Executive Director and the President, was a result of that participation.

It's good to see our people getting the recognition they deserve.

Dr. Eissey has received a cordial reply from Governor Bob Graham to the letter printed in the February 5 Monday Report. The Governor, of course, made no mention of specific commitments, but did say that "I will be as generous as possible to the community college program, keeping in mind my responsibility to adequately fund all the State's endeavors."

THE GOVERNOR -- WILL HE VISIT?

"I am glad to have your thoughts on the matter," the Governor continued, "and to know the situation at Palm Beach Junior College. Please continue to let me have your opinion on issues affecting our community colleges."

A handwritten note at the bottom of the letter says, "Ed -- I look forward to a return visit to your campus in the near future.....Bob."

NEW DIMENSIONS

Dr. Eissey spoke at an Institute of New Dimensions luncheon for their volunteer lecturers at the Ramada Inn Friday on "The Plans of PBJC for Older Adults."

PHI THETA KAPPA

Phi Theta Kappa has been active, both at Central and at PBJC North. The Central initiation was Sunday, February 11, when 69 members were inducted. The PBJC North initiation was to take place Sunday, February 18, and it is our understanding that about 30 will have been inducted there by the time you read this.

BURT REYNOLDS THEATRE

Thirty-five students of drama classes at Palm Beach Junior College and members of Phi Rho Pi, the PBJC drama society, were invited to attend the first luncheon performance of the apprentices at the Burt Reynolds Dinner Theatre recently. The students were accompanied by Watson B. Duncan, III, Frank Leahy, and Sunny Meyer.

The apprentices, most of whom are former PBJC students presented a shortened version of the musical, "Bye Bye Birdie."

Those appearing were: Bobby Amor, Roger Keiper, Ann Morrison, Patricia Koopman, Patrice McKinley, Meg Rainey and Jack Pinkney.

Sunny described the theatre: "It's really beautiful. The walls are covered with red embossed wallpaper, the floors have red carpeting and the stage has a proscenium arch, with a thrust apron extending into the theatre, rather than the usual arena stage used in most dinner theatres.

"The theatre seats about 400. It isn't overly ostentatious. It has an intimate quality. You can look up and see the steel girders, giving it a theatrical quality. The luncheon shows are presented on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and the doors open at 11 a.m."

After the show -- "colorful, bright and delightful, and very well received by the audience" -- the group spoke for an hour and a half to actresses, Sally Field, Tyne Daly, and Gail Strickland, who are presently playing in Vanities at the theatre.

The gist of their remarks to the students was: "Don't give up, have faith in yourself, and be sure to get as much training as possible on the local level."

Altogether, the trip was marvelous, exhilarating and inspiring, according to Sunny.

IMPORTANT NOTICE LOOK LOOK LOOK

Although Charles Graham attempted to reserve the West Palm Beach Municipal auditorium way back in March, 1978, for the May 9 date of graduation, and for many months it appeared that we would have it despite a previous commitment the auditorium manager thought might be cancelled, it is now certain that we cannot have the auditorium on May 9.

Therefore, commencement has been rescheduled this year for May 8, 1979. Please make your plans accordingly. It should be noted that for 180-day and-210 day employees, May 9 still remains a duty day.

WIDOWED VOLUNTEER AIDES

Project Speak-Up at Palm Beach Junior College and the Widowed Persons Service will co-sponsor two free training courses for volunteer aides to work on a one-to-one basis with the recently bereaved.

The three evening sessions will be offered Tuesday nights from 7-10 p.m. starting February 27.

The three morning sessions will be presented Thursday mornings from 9 a.m. to noon starting March 1.

Both courses will be held at PBJC.

For further information, or to register, call 967-9164 mornings or 832-0304 afternoons.

MAYO SMITH TOURNAMENT

The first Mayo Smith Memorial golf tournament has been scheduled in conjunction with the third annual Palm Beach County Sports Hall of Fame induction dinner.

The golf tournament will be played March 3 at the Wellington Country Club, with starting times from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The dinner is slated March 4 at the Challenger Country Club at 6:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the tournament will be used for athletic scholarships, primarily at Palm Beach Junior College. Entry fee will be $25 and will be tax deductible.

Smith, a life-long resident of Lake Worth, was one of the first three inductees into the Hall of Fame in May, 1977, being joined at the time by golfer Jack Nicklaus and retired Times sports editor Bob Balfe as charter members.

A former baseball manager who led the Detroit Tigers to the World Series championship in 1968, Smith died during Thanksgiving week in 1977.

The golf tournament is co-sponsored by our PBJC Sports Foundation and the Palm Beach County Sports Hall of Fame. Heading the committee are Tom Mullins, Larry Bush, sports editor of The Times and member of Hall of Fame committee; and Lynn Taliaferro, co-chairman of the first Palm Championship sponsored by the Times last October. For information and entry, contact any member of Hall of Fame committee or tournament committee.

The Festival will begin at 9 a.m. with a welcome by Watson B. Duncan, III. Then each high school will present a one-act play or a cutting from a longer play. After each production J. Robert Dietz, guest director at Florida Atlantic University, will give an oral critique.

Participating high schools and the productions to be presented include the following:

Suncoast High School: THE LOVELIEST AFTERNOON

PBJC drama students are now in training to work as technical staff in the capacity of stage managers, set crew, lighting crew and hosts for the visiting high school drama directors and students. This practical experience in technical work serves as laboratory experience as another needed facet in the PBJC drama students training leading to their professional work in the theatre.

According to Sunny, this year's Festival should be "the biggest ever" and she hopes that everyone will attend the Drama Festival. So tell all your friends and relatives, it's an event you don't want to miss.

GOOD GOING, SUNNY!

Sunny Meyer spoke at the Institute of New Dimensions Thursday in the auditorium on "Cultural Resources in Palm Beach County: Theatre is alive and well and thriving in Palm Beach County."

COME SEE OUR $25,000 BOOKCASE

All week people have been dropping by the reception area in the administration building, just outside Dr. Eissey's office, to admire the tall, European Oak bookcase which has been donated to the college. Even without the rare, leather-bound volumes which fill the bookcase, the appraised value of the historic furniture is $25,000. Included in the books are works by Voltaire, Rousseau, Thiers and Lamartine, and a complete set (28 volumes) of James Fenimore Cooper's works translated into French.

We are hoping to duplicate some informative material about the gift from former Lake Worth City Attorney, Jerrold Jacob and his wife, so that anyone who wishes can become familiar with its historic background.

In the meantime, feel free to drop by and look at the newest donation to the college.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Dr. Edmund Gleazer, President of the American Association of Community/Junior Colleges paid us a visit last Tuesday afternoon. He had planned an all-day visit, but was snowed in, and lucky to escape Washington.

He is planning to write a new book detailing some of the reactions of junior colleges to the facts of life in the 70's, and it is almost certain that some of the information he obtained here will be included.

He spoke briefly with Dr. Eissey, who had other commitments and had to leave early. He then talked for nearly two hours with members of the President's staff, and expressed great interest in many areas of our operation, particularly in the academic areas. Dr. Graham then gave him a quick look at our campus.

Dr. Gleazer planned visits to Indian River, Edison and Gulf Coast before going to Tallahassee to meet with the President's Council.

Our trustees voted 4-1 to place student activity fee funding on the same basis as all other college funding at the February meeting of the board, Wednesday at PBJC Glades.

The board's decision, opposed by Mrs. Susann Anstead, began the process of repealing two board rules, one of which set aside $1 per credit hour for a student activity fee, with the other setting up procedures for using the funds.

The board heard from everyone present who asked to be heard prior to the vote, and the change was opposed by a number of student speakers, including Tom O'Rourke, President of PBJC Central's Student Government Association, and Sam Sasser, Vice President.

TRUSTEES ACT IN GLADES MEETING

Two prior hearings by the Student Affairs Committee of the board on this question had already been held and this time the speakers were more eloquent, but essentially covered the same ground.

Before the vote on the motion, a move to table by Mrs. Anstead was seconded by Dr. Philip Lichtblau, Chairman, but failed 2-3.

The board also voted, by the same 4-1 margin, to leave rules forbidding alcoholic beverages on campus intact, but this question, also argued at a previous committee meeting, was discussed only briefly before the vote.

The board adopted a new rule, lowering the age of participation in the college's senior citizen reduced rate program to 62, and also allowing a mixture of reduced rate and regular rate classes.

Plans for the Glades Auditorium were approved and sent to Tallahassee.

Mrs. Homer Hand, trustee whose home is in the Glades, said the new auditorium would be the most important new building in the Glades since the PBJC Campus was built.

"We already have some reservations for the auditorium through 1990," she said. She mentioned Watson B. Duncan, III, and Claude Edwards as being especially helpful in the planning of the new facility.

A plan to obtain construction of athletic facilities at the North Campus at no cost to the college was postponed until a special meeting, set for February 28, noon, in Conference B in the Administration Building, PBJC Central.

The special meeting had already been scheduled to receive bids for elevators for the handicapped program, and handball courts, and the PBJC North plan was added to that agenda.

GRADUATE STUDY FOR BLACKS

Black students applying for graduate or professional study for the first time at the University of Florida are eligible for a $1,300 stipend for the summer quarter, June 18 to August 25. Application deadline March 1....Dr. Graham

Dick Gregory, who first attained fame as a comedian, but has also been called "the world's foremost freelance humanitarian", will speak on "Social Problems: Social or Antisocial?" at an assembly Tuesday, March 6, from 9:15 to 10:30 in the Gym. Classes will be dismissed for this performance.

TUESDAY WITH DICK GREGORY

Born in the Black ghetto in St. Louis, Missouri, Gregory became a state champion in track and field, going on to more track honors at Southern Illinois University, in Carbondale.

Gregory chose a career in comedy at a time when Black comedians received bookings in mainly Black clubs and theaters. In 1961 he was called as a last minute replacement at the Playboy Club in Chicago and was an immediate sensation, soon appearing in all the top clubs in the country and on major television shows, opening the doors to other Black entertainers.

During the civil rights movement of the 60's Gregory took part in every major demonstration for human rights in America, giving many benefit performances for civil rights and other causes. He was jailed a number of times including two terms of 45 days each, once for his protest against de facto segregation in the Chicago public school system. The second 45-day term was because of a demonstration with the Niqualy Indians in Washington State in which they demanded full participation in American Society for the Indians.

He fasted during both confinements, taking only distilled water for nourishment. Because of his activities he lost over a million dollars in canceled bookings.

In 1970 he went to Toronto, Canada for a 71-day fast to dramatize the drug problem in America, because he felt that the government practice of punishing the victims--the drug users--rather than the drug providers, was wrong.

After his last show at Paul's Mall in Boston in August of 1973, Gregory announced he was leaving the nightclub circuit because the late hours interfered with his potential for human service.

Before his 1974-75 lecture season Gregory completed an 800-mile run from Chicago to Washington, D. C. to call attention to the problem of hunger in the world, and to prod the national conscience.

He is now a sought-after lecturer, lecturing at 300 colleges during the year, and addressing business groups as well.

The onetime champion athlete and acclaimed comedian says:

"The real champion, I have come to understand, is the man who has risen to the crest of life's highest purpose--singular and complete devotion to serving one's fellow man."

ROUTING LOOK LOOK

Any material, ALL material involving grants, donations, foundations, and alumni should now be routed to Jim Brannigan, mail station #20. It will save much time if this is done.

TUESDAY WITH ED

If you have suggestions for our President, it is not too early to get your name on the list for the next Tuesday With Ed. On the Central Campus - March 6 and at the North - March 13. Call the President's office to reserve a place.

Those who attended, and there were 15 or 20 from the college including faculty, staff and trustees, got a good lesson in the difficult art of practical politics. Although the evening was successful, it was not at all easy.

Insofar as the North Campus is concerned, the legislators raised no objections at this meeting, but indicated that the proper way to get a vote on the matter was to present a resolution favoring the funding, and this will be done at a meeting on February 23.

It was the half mill referendum which kept Dr. Eissey before the legislators for nearly an hour.

The legislators were concerned with two issues. One centered around the idea that if the college received local funding state funding might be cut back. Most of the delegation wanted a statement of intent that this should not happen left in the bill, but some had a strong belief that this would be unconstitutional and would seriously weaken the entire bill. After much discussion and three votes, a compromise solution was worked out -- it will be specified in the bill that the referendum will take place in November, 1980. By that time, it will be abundantly clear that St. Petersburg's local taxes will not have cut down on their state funding. This delay of the voting date would mean that funds would not be available from the local millage until 1981, and Dr. Eissey made it clear that he would like to have the funds earlier -- but the compromise stayed in, and that is the way the bill must be written.

The second concern, voiced by Senator Phil Lewis, but clearly backed by the rest of the delegation, was that the bill did not specify that the local tax funds would be used for non-recurring expenses. Senator Lewis said he did not want the college to get used to $4 million more per year for three years in its operating budget, and then be in terrible financial straits when the money is no longer available.

It was agreed that language to this effect would be developed, and that the bill would go back to the tax committee of the delegation for this purpose. The half mill referendum received temporary approval, to be brought back to the full delegation on February 23. It is important to note in this connection that, as Dr. Eissey said to the delegation, adequate funding in one area of the budget relieves the entire budget.

Prior to the beginning of the meeting, the legislators received letters from the United Faculty and from the student government giving their support for the half mill referendum. Although there is no certain way to measure the effect of such expressions of support, there is absolutely no doubt that they are helpful. Those attending the meeting were also helpful in aiding in the creation of an atmosphere favorable to the college.

Please continue your interest in these matters. The next three or four months will do much to determine the financial future of the college.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Palm Beach Junior College

4200 CONGRESS AVENUE, LAKE WORTH, FLORIDA 33461 • PHONE 305/965-8000

OFFICE OF

January 26, 1979

(Editor's Note: This letter is a sample of the many letters, telephone calls and personal contacts being made during this period just prior to the meeting of the legislature. We believe it is important for you to know what is going on, and for you to help whenever possible.)

The Honorable Robert Graham
Governor, State of Florida
The Capitol
Tallahassee, FL 32304

Dear Governor Graham:

Congratulations on your election as Governor. We are fortunate to have a former State Senator who demonstrated consistent support for educational programs in the highest public office in the State of Florida.

A year ago, you provided St. Petersburg Junior College with leadership and support in the Senate with their local bill for a one-half mill ad valorem tax to be used for equipment and maintenance needs. Because of similar problems at Palm Beach Junior College, we are also requesting a one-half mill levy this year which we hope to submit for a referendum in the fall of this year.

I note that Palm Beach Junior College has similar problems as St. Petersburg Junior College because we are the two oldest community colleges in Florida. We began in 1933 as the first public community college in Florida. (At that time St. Petersburg was a private college).

Being the first public community college has both advantages and disadvantages. One distinct advantage is that we have had the opportunity to develop and refine many of our educational programs to assure our students of high quality instruction.

Regrettably, this advantage appears to be more than offset by our inability to meet the realistic salary needs of our faculty and other college personnel. A review of our faculty salary increases for the past four years reveals that we have granted only one reoccurring increase of 5 percent which was built into the salary schedule this year! During the two previous years we were able to grant only two non-reoccurring "bonuses" which were not incorporated in the salary schedule. The year prior to these two years, was the year the state froze salaries for college personnel even though employees in the "K through 12" system were granted increases.

Although our salaries have increased at a very slow pace, our faculty and staff who have remained continue to be among the most experienced and able employees around the state. Unfortunately, even personnel who are very dedicated to education, eventually reach a point of dissatisfaction which inevitably manifests itself in the increased personnel turnover that recently has become more apparent. As a result, we find it encouraging to know that Commissioner of Education, The Honorable Ralph Turlington, is recommending a budget which recognizes the problems of community colleges and provides the funding to solve many of these problems. We are hopeful that you will provide your strong support to this budget request.

In addition to the Basic Community College Program Fund, Commissioner Turlington has requested $12,943,896 in funds to equalize the amount for advanced and professional full time equivalent (FTE) students at the community colleges with the amount for lower division FTE students in the university system. Such equality would enable Palm Beach Junior College and all other community colleges to develop better programs and provide more competitive salaries which are essential in attracting and retaining competent personnel.

When you realize that faculty salaries have increased about 5 percent during the past 4 years (since two one-time payments of 2.5 and 2.75 percent were non-reoccurring) this average increase of 1.25 percent annually resulted in serious losses in purchasing power compared with the rate of inflation during the same time interval. Even though President Carter has recommended that salary increases be limited to 7 percent the restrictions on available funds over the past four years lead us to believe that an exception should be allowed if at all possible.

I have told our faculty and staff on numerous occasions that salaries and morale are my top priority as the new President of Palm Beach Junior College. We are hopeful that you will recognize that we, and the community college system, have important needs which have not been met in the past and must be met in the future if the community college system in Florida is to continue to be a model of excellence.

We trust that you will again respond to the needs of the total community college system when your budget is finalized. Your genuine interest in our programs is sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,

Edward M. Eissey
President

FREE SCIENCE LECTURE AND WORKSHOP

The Palm Beach Junior College Science Department will present a free public lecture - Lucky Accidents, Great Discoveries and the Prepared Mind - by Dr. Hubert Alyea Thursday, February 15 at 7 pm in the Science Building, Room SC-26, according to Dr. Paul J. Dasher, Chairman.

Dr. Alyea is retired from Princeton University, where he received his A.B., A.M. and Ph.D. degrees. He was honored by fellowships at the Nobel Institute in Stockholm, the University of Minnesota, and the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute. He has been a visiting lecturer in more than 75 countries, including extended tours in Thailand, Greece, India, Mexico, Taiwan, Russia, Yugoslavia and Belgium.

Dr. Alyea's Thursday night lecture will be suitable for anyone over the age of 12. He will relate a number of lucky and accidental discoveries which led to startling progress in the fields of plastics, antibiotics and nuclear energy. In each case he will outline how the new discovery arose because someone was ready to seize upon the lucky accident and was prepared to interpret it and recognize an important new idea.

Dr. Alyea will examine the means of preparing the mind for making such discoveries, and show how this ability is related to the quality of teaching, the attitude of the learner, and the quality of living. The lecture will be built around a fast-paced series of colorful attention-holding demonstrations.

A TOPS (Tested Overhead Projection Series) Workshop for science teachers, dealing with the three aspects of the new teaching techniques developed by Dr. Alyea, will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, February 16.

The TOPS system includes more than 200 experiments that can be carried out in the lecture room and projected for clear visibility by all the students. Armchair chemistry allows student participation in chemical experimentation despite limited laboratory facilities.

The public is invited to attend Dr. Alyea's February 15 (Thursday) lecture, with no charge for admission.

The first office on the left as you enter the second floor of the administration building is now occupied, as of February 1, by Jim Brannigan, our new Director of Development.

Jim is actually James E. Brannigan, of Boca Raton, but he is no exception to the almost universal rule that James becomes Jim -- and in his case, a first-name basis is easy and natural.

Jim is a man who has been successful enough that at 51 years of age he has twice decided to leave the rat race for a less complicated life, only to find that he needs the challenge of a new job.

MEET OUR NEW DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

The newest challenge he has accepted is the development of PBJC, and all of us should benefit from the work he will be doing in the next years. His appointment is, of course, subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees, which will be sought at the next meeting of the board.

Jim is holder of Bachelor and Master's Degrees in education and administration from the University of the State of New York, and his early career was in education.

In 1960 he headed the Education Committee for the founding of Florida Atlantic University, and in the same year began a six-year career as Director of Development for the Broward County School System, during which the Nova concept and complex was begun.

In 1966 and 1967 he headed NERAD, the National Educational Resource and Development Corporation based at NOVA. In 1968 he founded his own development firm, ADPAC, the American Development and Program Assistance Corporation.

In 1973, with headquarters at Huntsville, Alabama, and offices in a half dozen other cities, and major programs in many other areas, he made his first try at leaving the rat race. Although retaining the firm, he made major cutbacks, keeping only a few choice assignments for himself.

One of these led, in 1976 to a post as executive director of Region D, Council of Governments in western North Carolina, where he raised in excess of $40 million. Once again, a combination of cold winters at Little Switzerland and rapidly expanding duties led him in 1978 to a second attempt to escape, this time to the familiar warm winters of Boca Raton.

Jim says that early retirement is simply not for him. "I am really excited about my new challenge here at PBJC," he says. "I believe in the community college system, and in this college in particular.

"I am completely sold on Dr. Eissey, whom I have known for many years, as a great educational leader, and I think we have a wonderful opportunity to develop into one of the leading educational institutions in the country."

Jim will be concentrating in the area of grants and foundations, but does not intend to neglect local industries and business leaders, and the areas of endowments, and annual giving.

Drop by and meet Jim Brannigan before he gets too busy. He has exciting plans for our future.

Delta Omicron, the Palm Beach Junior College Central chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, will present a series of five daily seminars during "Future Week, February 19-23 in the SAC Lounge.

Future Week is in keeping with the Phi Theta Kappa national theme for the year;

PLAN TO ATTEND

Man's Brilliant Future: Problem Solving Through Creativity.
The seminars (all to be held in the SAC Lounge) are scheduled as follows:

HOORAY FOR THE BOOKSTORE

The following letter from a student is the kind we'd all like to receive:

"Dear Miss Brofft: I am enrolled in the Medical-Secretary program, and have, naturally, been in your bookstore purchasing books of every kind.

I want to sincerely compliment you and your very efficient staff on the job you and they do. You and the staff are always so friendly and helpful - it makes going into the bookstore a pleasure. Nothing is too much trouble for the staff to do to make life easier for the students who are buying books.

Again, my compliments on the fine job that is done by the staff of the bookstore."

Cordially yours, Patricia A. Coffey

BARGAINING BEGINS AGAIN

The administration at Palm Beach Junior College has initiated a new round of bargaining with the United Faculty of PBJC. The first session will be held Wednesday, March 7, 3 p.m., at the Southern Bell Building at 2021 South Military Trail.

Following a precedent set last year shortly after he became president of PBJC, Dr. Eissey did not wait for a call from the union to begin bargaining sessions, but asked to begin the current round.

The existing contract between PBJC and the union runs through June 30, and the new negotiations will be aimed at reaching a new agreement before that date. The college and the union bargained for two and a half years before signing the first contract in June, 1978.

Shortly after he became president of the college, Dr. Eissey took the unusual step of initiating bargaining for a new contract, and agreement was reached in approximately one month. The current contract became effective November 1, 1978.

UNDER-WAY AGAIN

The first session of a new round of bargaining between the administration and the United Faculty got underway Wednesday with an exchange of proposals which were then taken under study by each side.

The administration offered a waiver of fees to full-time employees and their dependent children on a "space available" basis, similar to the reduced fee program now in effect for senior citizens. The waiver would also be available to children and spouses of a deceased full-time employee who was employed at the college five years or more.

It also placed on the table an article dealing with weekend class assignments.

Both sides agreed to postpone discussion of economic matters. A number of questions about the nature of the various proposals were asked and answered.

The meeting lasted less than an hour, and the antagonistic clash of some previous meetings was absent, even in areas where there was an evident difference of opinion.

The sides agreed to a second meeting on Wednesday, March 21, with the place to be determined later.

ATHLETICS -- WE'RE WINNING!

We're enjoying unusual success in all our intercollegiate sports at this time. In baseball, we are on top in the conference race with a record of 7-1, followed closely by Indian River at 6-1. In softball we are at 8-1 in conference and look like one of the best teams in the state and nation.

In women's tennis we have had only two losses this year, by narrow margins, and have a good shot at post season honors. Men's tennis is just getting underway and we have won all matches so far.

Women's golf looked good in the fall and has continued by winning the first tournament in this term. Men's golf has not had a tournament this term.

If you haven't been a Pacer fan before, and enjoy winning -- now is a good time to start.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

Dear Ed:

A few days ago when I noted the Florida Association of Community Colleges was observing Florida Community College Week, I recalled the early years of the community college program when it was relatively new and still struggling for its own identity. I was serving in the State Legislature at the time, and a lot of discussion was given as to how community colleges were to fit into the overall educational system.

IT'S NICE TO HAVE A FRIEND IN THE SENATE

In reflecting on the educational opportunities now offered through community colleges, I realize this kind of success goes hand in hand with people, like yourself, who have worked long and hard to make it a viable and contributing educational force in the community. Please allow me to extend to you, and your staff, my appreciation for your dedication to improving the community college system, and to let you know of my continued support.

With kind regards, I am

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Vince Betz has been asked to do the keynote speech for the Society of Children's Bookwriters Conference to be held March 24 in the Business Building, BA-307 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Writing students are invited to attend. Leo Hoar, formerly a Sinclair Oil Co. executive, and now a writer of children's books is coordinating this event.

HOORAY FOR HAMID

We will soon be getting some relief from the staggering amount of record keeping now necessary in financial aids. We have received a grant from the state for acquiring a computerized system for financial aid.

Seven community colleges split $109,000 three ways. PBJC, Indian River and Edison received $35,000, Miami Dade and Broward got $34,000, and Valencia and Hillsborough got $34,000. The rest will be for consultants' fees as needed.

Our extra $1,000 came as recognition of the fact that Hamid Faquir did more than anyone else in preparing the grant request. Hamid has been named co-director of the entire project with Preston Rosser of Valencia. We plan to look at an existing software system at Montgomery Community College in Rockwell, Md., on March 19 - 20, and will probably adapt it for use here.

LET'S GET A RIDE FOR KAREN

Karen LaBella, 22, a Palm Beach Junior College student from Loxahatchee, needs a ride to the college so that she can get on with her dream.

Her dream? A bachelor's degree in special education, so that she can work with exceptional children sometime in the not-too-distant future.

Soon her mother, who has been driving her to and from the school, will no longer be able to do so.

Karen, who was born with Cerebral Palsy, also has a heart condition and a problem with her vision. Because of this, she has a real understanding of what the exceptional child is going through. While she was going to Piper High School in Fort Lauderdale, she was able to use this hard-won understanding in a child care course, during which time she worked with deaf and blind children.

"I got A's and B's in this course," Karen comments.

Another subject she enjoyed was art.

"I work mostly with watercolors, and I love doing landscapes and sunsets."

Embroidering birds and flowers--she likes to create her own designs--is another pleasure for Karen, and quilting is the next craft she would like to pursue.

But right now, her education is of the utmost importance for the student, and if anyone from the Loxahatchee area who attends PBJC or works nearby could transport her, she could get on with her dream. For more information contact Wayne DeBee, PBJC counselor at 965-8000, Ext. 294, between 12-3 p.m.

DRAMATIC REPORT

The Drama Festival last week was "the biggest and best festival we have ever had," according to Sunny Meyer, who had a lot to do with making it so.

A Citizens' Advisory Committee for Minority Affairs has been formed at Palm Beach Junior College.

The first meeting of the committee, formed to advise the president of the college on all matters concerning minority students, was held February 27 at the college. Co-chairmen of the committee are Dr. Gerald C. Burke and Luciano Martinez, both of West Palm Beach.

The growing importance of the Spanish speaking minorities in the area was cited by Dr. Burke, originally appointed chairman, as he asked Martinez to serve as co-chairman.

Dr. Eissey told members of the committee they were to serve as the eyes of the community on Palm Beach Junior College, and the helping hand of the college extended into the minority communities of the county. He emphasized throughout the meeting that he wanted everyone to be completely frank in discussing the minority programs of the college.

EYES AND EARS AND HELPING HAND

The committee is to meet quarterly, with the next meeting set for May 15, 12 noon. The emphasis at that meeting will be on financial aid and recruiting.

"There are times when people of a minority group find it difficult to approach the administration of a college with their problems," Dr. Eissey says. "We hope that the minority community will recognize these committee members as an easy and simple way to get the attention of the college."

"I have urged the committee members to call me at any time they know of problems, and not wait until the next committee meeting," Dr. Eissey says. "We truly want to develop an effective program for minorities, and we believe the committee will provide us with a useful link to the minority communities."

Other committee members are: James Jefferson, Mrs. Rachel P. Jerry, Mrs. Eva Mack, Ana Reyes, Dr. Ramiro Russi, all of West Palm Beach; Willie L. Odum, Riviera Beach, Juan B. Rionda, Boca Raton, Mrs. Elizabeth Wesley, Delray Beach, and Dr. Ervin Rouson, ex-officio member from PBJC.

CIRCLE K CLUB REACTIVATED

The Palm Beach Junior College Circle K Club has been reactivated on the PBJC campus and is affiliated with the Lake Worth Kiwanis Club, according to organizer, Maurice Erguetta, Lake Worth, who was elected temporary president of the organization.

Tom Edwards, West Palm Beach, was selected as temporary secretary-treasurer.

Representatives of the Lake Worth Kiwanis Club who attended the meeting were Harold P. Chapman, first vice president, Joseph Kashmann, Circle K Committee member, and William H. Valley, chairman of the Key Club Committee.

Dr. Eissey greeted the gathering, which included: David Wood, Lake Worth, Alan Dopman, Palm Springs, Kevin Dunn, Lake Worth, Kim McCreight, Lake Worth, and Mubarak Kassam, Lake Worth, originally from Kenya.

The meeting was also attended by district officers of Circle K from Florida Atlantic University, Mike Wilder, governor, and Cecilia Reese, lieutenant governor.

Wilder told the new Circle K members to determine the needs of the college and try to help with necessary projects; he reminded the group of the upcoming convention to be held in Orlando March 30, 31 and April 1.

NEW COMPENSATION STUDY WILL BE RECOMMENDED

The administration will propose a new study of compensation for both career service and teacher positions at the March meeting of the Board of Trustees, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., at the Foodservice Center.

It has been more than three years since the college conducted such a survey, and the recommendation to the trustees will be to hire Cody and Associates for the study.

The firm has recently completed a number of studies for other Florida institutions, and has already gathered much information which will be useful in the study of the college. They will study salary levels for comparable jobs in other community colleges and also in our community, as a guide to the administration in building future salary schedules.

Prior to getting into the regular agenda for the March meeting, the trustees will conduct a public hearing on the change in the Student Activity Fee. The hearing was requested by the Student Government Association.

There are two retirements among the personnel items on the agenda: Larry Tuttle, who is the founder of our Law Enforcement Department, and Wilma Weigel, from Business Affairs/Finance. Larry's effective date is May 9, and Wilma will be here until July 31.

The position of Grants Coordinator/Writer will be filled, with board approval, by Dr. Robert Kay, who will work with Jim Brannigan, our new Resource Development Director. Dr. Kay is to begin work May 15.

There are 14 pages of personnel items on the agenda for this meeting, most of them dealing with annual reappointment of administration and faculty.

A NOTE FROM LARRY

To: Management, Faculty, Staff, and others associated with PBJC

Since it is my intention to retire on May 9, 1979, I would like each of you to know that it has been most gratifying, personally rewarding, and most professional for me to be associated with you for the past 13 years. Whether it was the Bookstore, Physical Plant, Testing Office, Print Shop, AV Department, Library, Grounds, Faculty, Staff, or Management -- each of you has assisted me in fulfilling my personal and departmental goals and missions. For your service, cooperation, and personal friendship, please accept my sincere thanks.

It is not my plan "to sit and rock" following my retirement. In the words of General MacArthur, "Old soldiers never die, they just fade away." Larry D. Tuttle, Chairman, Law Enforcement Department.

HELP AVAILABLE

Jim Brannigan, PBJC's Director of Development, is beginning to tie together the assorted and individual fund raising and scholarship programs on the campus. If you are involved in any fund raising activities for PBJC, contact Jim at extension 311 and fill him in on your project. His aim is to avoid duplication of effort with individuals who are already providing financial resources to the College. In many cases he will provide you with ways to increase what you are receiving. Also, if you have a potential "Angel" and don't know how to approach him, Jim will help.

AN OPEN LETTER TO PARENTS:

(Ed. Note: Kathy Bowser wanted to share this with you)

As our children near the end of their winter term at the Early Learning Center, I hope we all pause to appreciate the quality of the education our children are receiving at the Center. Many of us may not understand all the concepts of Montessori but we are able to see our children growing, physically, mentally, and emotionally during their time at the Center. After looking at several schools for first grade transfer for my son I have not found one that compares to the excellence of the Center. Unfortunately, we may not again see "education" presented to our children with such dedication and compassion and effectiveness -- and that is a very sad comment on our education system in general.

1979 has been designated the Year of the Child. Let us each resolve to support our children in their experiences at the Center -- and support the work of the teachers and the Early Childhood Club....Pat Hilliard

CONDOLENCE:

TOP RANKING STUDENT

A former Palm Beach Junior College honor student, who graduated from the college in August of 1978 and is now attending the University of South Florida, was the top-ranking student in a special CLEP Test.

Joyce L. Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Richardson of North Palm Beach, achieved the top grade in a new type of CLEP norming study, administered at PBJC and several other colleges, according to Charles B. Bedford, program service officer with College Boards, Princeton, N. J.

Joyce, who made all A's in the Fall Quarter, is also an athlete, who is a member of the USF girls' softball team which recently split a doubleheader with the PBJC team; Joyce made a homerun during that series.

SCHOLARSHIP RECOMMENDATIONS

Six Palm Beach Junior College students were selected by a scholarship committee at the college to be recommended by PBJC President, Dr. Edward M. Eisey for two scholarships at Florida State University, according to Dr. W. Ervin Rouson, Vice President of Student Affairs. The six are: Cindy Ann Cloud, Elaine M. Fandrey, Samuel B. Sasser, Colleen J. Graff, Veronica Herndon, and Debra Burke.

WILL WE HAVE A FOUR-DAY WEEK?

The possibility of a four-day work week for some, perhaps most, of the employees of the college during Spring Term I and II was raised by the administration at the March meeting of the Board of Trustees last Wednesday.

Dr. Eissey asked the Board for approval of the concept of such a plan, and the Board agreed that the administration should continue to look into the feasibility.

In introducing the concept, Dr. Eissey said that energy conservation is already an important consideration, and is likely to grow more important as gasoline and other fuel costs soar.

He said an early estimate was that students during Spring I would save 29,000 gallons of gasoline each week if they came to the campus four times rather than five.

He emphasized that the college could adopt a four-day week only during Spring I and II.

Dr. Eissey said classes would meet for two hours for four days instead of an hour and a half for five days. Affected employees would work their usual number of hours, but in four days rather than five.

He said saving in air conditioning and other energy costs at the college had not yet been estimated, but would be considerable.

Dr. Paul Graham reported that five other colleges in the state have come up with the same idea, and that at the present time it was believed that a total shut down would not be possible, but that a partial shut down on the fifth day might be.

Dr. Graham said the topic had been scheduled for a meeting of the President's Council, which was to take place in Orlando Friday. Dr. Eissey was in attendance at that meeting as this edition of the Monday Report went to press.

The Student Activity Fee, predictably, took up most of the time at the trustees meeting -- one hour and thirty-five minutes of time.

Despite Dr. Lichtblau's plea that those appearing limit themselves to information and argument not previously heard by the Board in prior meetings, most of the appearances were repeats of previous performances.

Much of what was not repetitious consisted of material that had no bearing on the student activity fee. Some comments were directed at persons rather than issues.

Trustee Susann Anstead, who has opposed the change, commented on this point.

"I feel very badly that this issue has become a personality fight," Mrs. Anstead said.

She acknowledged that changes in the procedure to include line item budgets and justification for expenditures were necessary, but said the board rule did not need to be changed to accomplish these objectives.

The vote on the student activity fee change was 3 - 1 in favor. All other matters before the Board passed, except for one item.

This item involved addition of explanatory material to the faculty salary schedule to clarify the practice of awarding points for services other than direct instructional duties.

Although the college labor attorney, Jesse Hogg, had given a telephone opinion that this matter did not need to be negotiated, members of the Board wanted further explanation and clarification and the item was tabled.....Koontz

Rumors, carried on the swift wind of the gossipers breath, and, alas, sometimes put into print by those who should know better, can damage us all. Herewith, in the Monday Report, the terrible secrets about the rumored switch to the quarter system.

Every year, in the legislature, there is a move of some kind to force the Community Colleges of the State and the Universities to adopt a more or less common calendar, including either a change by community colleges to the quarter system, or a return by the universities to a term system. Some year -- this year, next year, or five years from now, one of these legislative moves -- or, perhaps, even a strong administrative directive from the state level, will force this change.

SHORT ESSAY ON RUMORS

Whether they go our way, or we go theirs, remains to be seen. Right now, the betting is in favor of their return to the semester system. Such a move would be traumatic for either system, would require lead time of months, and perhaps years, and may never take place at all.

But to be totally unprepared would be folly. Your administration is making some preliminary studies of the effect of a change to the quarter system, just as the universities are studying the effect of a change to the term system.

The desirability of a common calendar is so obvious that it is not in question. Some day it will come, and we want to be at least part of the way toward being able to estimate costs, identify problems, etc., when it comes.

GRADUATION OF SONS AND DAUGHTERS

The privilege of being the person to hand a diploma to a graduating son or daughter has been a courtesy extended to faculty members at PBJC for a number of years. The privilege will now be extended to all employees.

The extension is the result of one of the Tuesday With Ed meetings, when the President discovered that some employees of long standing, who were familiar with the custom, felt relegated to the status of second-class citizens when they were not allowed the same privilege.

The presentation by a father or mother is optional, as it has always been for faculty members. Many persons feel the the President of the college is the proper person to present a diploma, and thus would not wish to take part in the ceremony for their son or daughter.

It will not be necessary for employees, (or faculty members who are not involved in the academic procession), to be in cap and gown in order to make the presentation.

The new policy has been given to the Commencement Committee, headed by Charles Graham, to work out any details.

GOOD LUCK, DON

By the time you read this, Don Whitmer will be recovering from surgery at Good Samaritan Hospital. He expects to be away about four weeks.

PACERS NUMBER ONE

Coach Dusty Rhodes' PBJC Pacers dominated Florida Community College Baseball statistics released on March 16.

It was the first time in history that the Pacers were voted into first place by junior college coaches, and they were a decisive choice, ranking first in 9 of 13 ballots, for 90 total points against 63 for second place Miami Dade South.

Before coming to PBJC in August of 1972, Solomon attended the Control Data Institute in Miami and recently completed a course in Computer Operations Management at the IBM Systems Science Institution in Los Angeles.

For the past two years Solomon has received a perfect attendance certificate at the Staff Recognition Luncheon. "I've only missed one day of work due to illness in the seven years I've been here," he points out. "There's no secret to it, I'm just healthy. I've been this way all through school."

Solomon attended South Dade High School, where he was pretty good in math and played on the basketball team.

"I like the management end of data processing," he says. "I also want to stay in operations."

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

(Ed. Note: Following is a recent News Release from our News Bureau, carried here for your information and in the hope you will spread the word...Koontz)

If you are a middle income American who is worrying about college expenses next year, you are in for a pleasant surprise--some of you will probably be shocked. Congress has done something to help you. Not another welfare program for the poor, not another tax loophole for the rich, something for you.

Last year there was widespread discussion of a tax credit for parents who had children in college, and much sentiment in favor of such a credit in Congress. For various reasons the credit was not granted. But Congress did pass something called the Middle Income Assistance Act, and it really will assist you.

YOU CAN GO TO COLLEGE

For instance: The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant, which makes grants for college expenses, no repayment necessary, can now go to dependents in families where income is as high as $40,000, if there are a number of children in college at one time.

Even more startling -- grants are available to dependents where incomes are $26,000 or lower even if only one dependent is in college.

The Middle Income Assistance Act also made provisions of the Federally Insured loan program much more generous, and you can take advantage of that program even if your income is over $40,000.

The regulations governing the act are fairly intricate and change often --there are startling differences, for instance, between provisions for a dependent student and an independent one, and the expertise of a financial aids specialist is needed.

Also, the forms you need to fill out are not simple, and must meet specific filing deadlines.

To help anyone in the community with these problems, no matter what college they plan to attend, Palm Beach Junior College is scheduling a workshop March 15, 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at PBJC Central. Hamid Faquir, PBJC Director of Financial Aid, will explain the provisions of the new act, talk briefly about other forms of financial assistance, and explain how and when forms are to be filled out.

One new step toward simplicity is the fact that all colleges are now using the same services for evaluation, so that forms properly filled out here will be useful anywhere. After the general discussion and meeting, Faquir will be available to answer questions from the audience about specific questions. A supply of application forms will be available at the meeting.

"I want to stress the fact that we are trying to help anyone who needs financial assistance to go to the college of their choice." Faquir says. "We think the Middle Income Assistance Act is opening up the possibility of a college education to all who really want it, and we want the people in our community to take advantage of this tremendous opportunity." (Cont. on page 4)

Faquir urged both parents and students to attend.

The workshop at PBJC Central will be preceded by one day by a similar workshop at PBJC Glades, Room SC 102 at 7 p.m.

Another workshop will be held for parents and students at the South County area at PBJC South, with date and place to be announced later.

There will be no charge for any of these workshops.

GRADUATION

Anyone wishing to confer the AA or AS degree to his or her son or daughter at graduation may do so. If you are marching in the processional please let me know so that I can fit you into the Faculty line-up for May 8 graduation as soon as possible....Ramos

CALL SECURITY

Mike McKay, Chief of Security has informed me that his staff is having a continuing problem with faculty and staff parking their vehicles behind a car which has parked in their reserved space. This has resulted in a considerable amount of confusion and congestion in the parking area. I would like to request that when your parking space is occupied by an unauthorized vehicle please find another space which is unassigned and then contact Security immediately....Tate

GRATITUDE

Words cannot express the gratitude we feel for your many condolences received in calls, cards and flowers. Thank you sincerely....The Family of R. L. Batson

GOOD NEWS

The old familiar sounds of music by George Gershwin are now being heard in the corridors of the Music Department as rehearsals continue for the Music of George Gershwin to be presented March 8-10 at 8 p.m. in the PBJC Auditorium.

STARTING A NEW TRADITION

Starting what is hoped will become a new tradition at Palm Beach Junior College, Dr. Eissey will invite all 1979 graduates to a reception in their honor on May 7, the day before Commencement exercises.

"I can remember the first reception I ever attended as a student at Palm Beach Junior College," Dr. Eissey says, "and I can still remember the good feeling it gave me to meet with teachers and administrators in a friendly social atmosphere."

All graduates, faculty and administrators will be invited to drop by during coffee and Danish hours, 9:30 - 11 a.m. in the Foodservice Dining Room.

"Although we will all see each other again in the West Palm Beach Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m. the following night for the graduation ceremony," Dr. Eissey says, "that is a formal occasion, and there is no time for a friendly word with a favorite teacher."

"Our graduation ceremonies have become so large that it is easy to lose the feeling of close personal contact," he says. "The reception for graduates is intended to restore some of that feeling to the final days a student spends at the college."

FESTIVAL OF JAZZ

The Palm Beach Junior College annual Festival of Jazz Bands will be the biggest ever this year, and could be the best, according to PBJC's Sy Pryweller, Director of the college's own Jazz Band.

"We will have six area high school stage and jazz bands taking part this year, more than ever before," Pryweller says.

"In addition, we are again pleased to have Bill Prince and the Florida Atlantic University Jazz Bands representing the university level."

The bands will start playing in the PBJC Central auditorium at 7 p.m., Tuesday, April 17, with each

MODIFIED WORK WEEK

We will go on an energy-saving modified work week beginning with Spring Term I and continuing through Spring Term II.

For many, but not for all, this will mean
(Cont. on page 2)

NO MOLEHILLS

The editors of the United Faculty newsletter, who have shown considerable ability at making mountains out of molehills, have really outdone themselves this time: They have made mountains out of non-existent molehills.

The issue of April 10 lists three items from last month's trustee's meeting involving: 1. Modified work week. 2. Delay in reappointment of 12 month personnel. 3. Points assigned to complete regular instructional load. Following this there is an astonishing, totally incorrect, and grossly misleading statement: "All three items may be seen as resulting from consideration of a larger item not mentioned--the Weekend College." These three items are not connected with each other, and not one of them can be connected in any sensible way with the Weekend College.

Having no shred of evidence, and no reasonable hypothesis, one would expect unreasonable and untrue imaginings to follow, and they did.

The specter of four day work weeks in the summer becoming four days plus Saturday was raised -- totally without foundation, and without any possibility of rationality if one considers the complexity of scheduling at this college.

Six day work weeks were mentioned by the Union for the first time. We certainly have not done so.

The administration was charged with not giving out complete details on the modified work week and then castigated for moving ahead with part of the planning that has been completed. Even though board action is necessary before anything is final, we had to run new student schedules now if we are to be prepared in time for the change.

Finally, after an empty threat of legal action over wholly imagined wrongs, (the stage having apparently been set to the satisfaction of the editors), unit members were asked for their reaction.

We believe this administration has earned, and is earning, better treatment than this.

a continuation of the current 35 or 40 hours in four days, instead of five. For some, perhaps a majority, the four days will be Monday through Thursday, but for others the four days will be Tuesday through Friday. Current planning will require five days from some employees.

If this sounds a bit vague, as though all the plans are not yet made in detail, it sounds about right. Plans have not been completed in all details, and when they are, you will be informed by your immediate supervisor as to the direct impact as far as you are concerned.

Please do not make any hard and fast plans about using those three-day weekends until you are given information as to your specific position by your supervisor.

Although many aspects of planning for the modified work week must continue if we are to meet the Spring I deadline, the Board must give approval before anything will be final.

SELF-STUDY

In a letter to Dr. Eissey dated March 22, 1979, Dr. Gordon W. Sweet, of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, stated, "...your institution has been selected to delay its Self-Study program and reaffirmation activities for one year. Consequently, you should plan to initiate your Self-Study activities in 1980 in anticipation of a reaffirmation committee visit in the spring of 1982 and action on reaffirmation of accreditation in December, 1982.".....Paul Graham

PACER SPORTS

The women's tennis team finished their season last week with a strong effort in the state tournament, placing third, just short of a trip to the Nationals, (two teams go from the state). The baseball team is in the midst of a red-hot race to the wire in Division IV, being tied with Indian River as of this writing. Their home games this week could well determine the conference championship....and whether we earn a spot in the state tournament.

FESTIVAL OF JAZZ

The Palm Beach Junior College annual Festival of Jazz Bands will be the biggest ever this year, and could be the best, according to PBJC's Sy Pryweller, director of the college's own Jazz Band.

The bands will start playing in the PBJC Central auditorium at 7 p.m., Tuesday.

REPORT ON THE REPORT

We are very happy with our return on the Monday Report questionnaire -- 510 sent and 260 returned. Since this was purely voluntary, we think the return, itself, indicates that we have a good communication medium going. And your replies indicated as much. Most of the comments were highly favorable -- "keep up the good work" -- "a definite improvement" -- "a step in the right direction."

The "we" in the paragraph above refers to Dr. Elisabeth Erling, whose office gathers material for the Monday Report, prepares nearly camera-ready copy, and then distributes the finished product, and Jonathan Koontz, who edits, writes some articles, (such as, for instance, this one), and supervises printing.

While we were happy to receive so many favorable comments, we were equally happy to receive a few unfavorable ones, especially those which gave us directions for improvement.

LENGTH OF ARTICLES AND LENGTH OF REPORT A frequent comment was that articles are sometimes too long, and the overall report is long. Explanation and action: The Report is produced as inexpensively as possible, and that means with as little staff time as possible. Most items are NOT re-written for the Monday Report, but are taken from many different sources. Similar reports at other institutions require two to five man-days per week in editing and writing alone, ours just about one-half day. Some articles are carried in length to fill the page they are on -- if we have the space, we feel that someone will be interested. We do not add extra pages to carry a detailed explanation unless we feel it is really needed. Since receiving these comments, we have held the Report to four pages, rather than the six or eight we have carried in the past, and will make every effort not to exceed four pages in the future.

ORGANIZATION There were several comments indicating that a grouping of similar items would be helpful. Explanation and action: We think this is a most useful suggestion, and have started to move in this direction -- i.e., the ENTERTAINMENT and ANNOUNCEMENTS heads of recent issues. The large, black type is produced on obsolete equipment in the print shop, and requires staff time, but is really helpful in identifying a group of similar articles. We'll keep working on this.

THOSE HAPPY TALK HEADLINES Predictably, some people want a more dignified, practical approach in headlines, and some comments were quite caustic on this point -- "amateur" and "high schoolish" among them. Explanation and action: Headline style, more than any other element, sets the tone of a publication, and the attempt to lean way over on the side of being friendly and informal, occasionally with an attempt at humor, was chosen with great care, and with the understanding in advance that some people would not like this style. The heads are NOT amateurish, and if anyone can find a college student, much less a high school one, who can produce them, we'll hire on the spot. For instance, the head on this article first read "The Monday Report," then, "Monday Report," then "Report on the Monday Report," then, "Report on The Report." Each of those heads is an improvement on the one that preceded it, and there are very few professionals, and no amateurs we know, who could run through such a sequence in a minute or so, and come up with this result. Our questionnaire results are about four to one in favor of the headline style, and we'll continue and try to improve.

COLOR OF PAPER One liked blue because it fits blue Mondays. Another thought yellow might brighten up blue Mondays. Another said put it on mimeo paper and give the savings in a salary raise. We figured that one out. Total cost of the paper would give you a raise of 3.5 cents per week. Subtract 1.5 cents for mimeo paper cost. Explanation and Action: We think that for two cents, it's worth it.

GO BACK Two people wanted to go back to the old faculty bulletin. Explanation and Action: Nobody else agreed with those two. We won't go back.

MORE GLADES NEWS Please, send it in. And more South news, and more North news. We can't print it if we don't have it.

ADMINISTRATION TOOL Well, yes. Of course. One thoughtful comment said: "Occasionally a propaganda tool for the administration, but what the heck!" Except for the word "propaganda" which denotes an untrue statement, (something we will not knowingly make), we couldn't have said it better.

Occasionally there is an important message from the administration which states the administrative position on some important matter. This is always made clear either by a signature, or in the wording of the article itself.

FINAL COMMENTS: The Monday Report is not for students, and does not carry news for them. One respondent wanted more personal news, and another said cut out all that personal stuff. Another said "even my family enjoys reading it." Another wants news of illnesses in time to send a card -- and we'll be happy to carry those if you let us know about them. Almost everybody likes This Week...and Next. One grouch said it is a total waste of time and money, and just to show you how fine and generous we are, we even thank him/her for taking time to write!

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

As a new feature, the Monday Report will bring you items of interest from the Florida legislative session now in progress. We will list a bill one time, and then not repeat the listing until some new action is taken. If you are interested in a particular bill that you do not see listed, let us know, and we'll attempt to get information for you.

HB 1157 COMMUNITY COLLEGES/PALM BEACH (T. Lewis, Watt, Healey, Myers, Liberti, Campbell) Authorizes voters of Palm Beach county to vote annual one-half mill ad valorem tax for use of Palm Beach Junior College. Referred to House Community Affairs Committee. As you may have seen in the local newspapers, the attorney general is of the opinion this bill is unconstitutional. There is a possibility he will reverse this opinion, and we are hoping this will happen.

To set a few matters straight:

1. The Weekend College is being discussed at the table.
2. The Modified Work Week is reported incorrectly in that the South Campus already is on a Monday through Thursday class schedule, and when their modified week is put into effect in Spring II this will allow faculty and staff not to report on Friday. The North Campus, by their own recommendation, will be open Tuesday through Friday. The Glades Campus will be open Monday through Thursday. The Central Campus is mandated in some areas -- Law Enforcement, Allied Health and the Library to remain open on Friday.

WE ARE ATTEMPTING TO RAISE SALARIES. This is our goal, and is supposed to be the Union's goal. Although it is Spring, the money tree is not yet sprouting dollar bills. Consequently, if we are to provide raises we must affect savings. Cooperation from the Union is essential if we are to meet this goal, and the Union newsletter of April 10 is not an example of cooperation. Half truth and false innuendo never accomplish anything worthwhile for anyone ... JK for the administration

WE'RE NO 1

Dusty Rhodes baseball team was ranked No. 1 in the nation last week, and the team immediately afterward started losing conference games. The national rankings are by vote of other coaches, and our first place was well earned, considering our won-lost record and the caliber of opposition. Indian River, which at the time had an identical conference won-lost record, was ranked fifth.

After getting the coveted ranking, we immediately lost conference games to both Dade North and Dade South to drop two games behind Indian River, and even place a second-place conference finish in doubt.

On Wednesday, however, the Pacers snuffed a ninth-inning rally by Miami Dade South for a 4-3 win which clinched a place in the

MODIFIED WORK WEEK

A collective bargaining meeting Wednesday afternoon and the board meeting that night were closely allied. Two items discussed thoroughly in the afternoon were disposed of quickly in the evening.

At the afternoon meeting, the union concurred in the matter of the assigning of points in lieu of courses to complete a regular instructional load of any faculty member.

Hearing no objection in the evening meeting, the board passed this item immediately.

The bargainers in the afternoon meeting also reached agreement on the modified work week, but the union bargaining team wanted additional time to consult their attorney before giving the item their complete blessing.

During the evening board meeting Elizabeth Allred, union vice-president, asked that the item be postponed for this purpose.

Dr. Eissey explained that postponement would not give adequate time to prepare, and promised to call a special session of the board to reconsider the matter if there were disagreement from the union attorney.

The board then passed the item.

As explained in last week's Monday Report, your sole authority as to how and whether you will be affected by the modified work week should be your immediate supervisor.

There are so many exceptions to any general rule we could give you, that someone would be sure to get the wrong idea if we tried.

Other items discussed at the board meeting appear under different headlines in this report.

Deadline for Monday Report is Thursday noon. Send items in writing to Dr. Erling's office.

state tournament, May 4-7 in Lakeland. It will be our first trip to the state baseball tournament.

Reporting to the trustees, Dusty said being ranked No. 1 carries some very tangible rewards. "We have 11 sophomores on our team, and all 11 have been contacted by four-year colleges, and will be able to sign baseball scholarships for the remainder of their college education," Dusty said.

NATIONAL PTK HONORS

Palm Beach Junior College received six awards at the recent national convention of Phi Theta Kappa--the national honor fraternity for two year colleges--held in Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Eissey was one of three college presidents in the country to be named to the Phi Theta Kappa Hall of Honor.

Two Phi Theta Kappa members, Karen Ann Szoke, PBJC North student, and Steven Robert Spangler, PBJC Central student, were among ten PTK members in the nation selected for the Hall of Honor.

The Hall of Honor Award is one of the highest awards to be bestowed by Phi Theta Kappa.

The Delta Omicron chapter at PBJC central was named one of the top ten chapters in the U.S. and Daniel Hendrix, faculty sponsor was selected as one of the top ten sponsors.

The Alpha Gamma Sigma chapter of PBJC North received a certificate of merit for its distinguished program of activities.

ONE POINT AWAY

Just one point kept each of the members of our Forensics Team from the semi-finals of the Phi Rho Pi National Forensics Tournament held in Bloomington, Minn. April 11-16, according to Emily Hamer, director of Forensics. Seventy-six colleges competed in the tournament.

THEY'RE PACKING THEIR BAGS

Five members of PBJC's Sales and Marketing Club (DECA) are Texas bound. On March 1-4 fifteen DECA members were in Tampa, competing in the State Career Development Conference. These fifteen students competed in events ranging from Real Estate to Human Relations Management Decision Making. Out of these fifteen, five students placed and are eligible to compete in the National Career Development Conference which will take place in Houston, Texas May 15-20. The five state winners who are going to Nationals are: Mary Hughes - General Merchandise competition, Marie Giliberti - General Merchandise competition, Debbie Kirk - Human Relations Decision Making, Diane Perkosky - Management Decision Making, Bob Higgins - Food Marketing competition.

These five students will compete with students of a Junior College level from all over the United States. Even though there is competition in the air, the participants realize that win or lose - it is for the learning and even more, for the experience.

BEST IN HISTORY

The best Pacer baseball team in the history of the college will be heading for Lakeland and the state tournament on May 4 - 7.

This year, Dusty Rhodes' program, which had already been paying off with clubs that were in the thick of the fight for post-season play, paid off in a big way.

For the first time in history, we were

NOW WE HAVE SCHEDULES

Since the administration has heard nothing more from the United Faculty in regard to the modified work week, planning has continued in accordance with the action taken last week by the trustees, and work schedules have now been released to all supervisors. You can now learn how you will be affected by asking your supervisor.

Those of you who will continue to work a five-day week may feel a little better about the situation by realizing that you and your department are not the only ones. Joe Schneider, personnel director, estimates that something like 25 per cent of all college personnel, give or take a few percentage points, will stay on a five-day work week.

Twelve-month personnel, including career employees who are going on four-day weeks will begin on May 14 and end on August 9 or 10, after which regular five-day weeks will resume.

Schedules showing the exact days to be worked by contract employees on Monday through Thursday or Tuesday through Friday schedules in both Spring I and Spring II have been given to all department chairmen.

FACC OFFICERS

The FACC membership has elected chapter officers for next year. They are:

V. President - John Townsend

named No. 1 in one of the state polls. For the first time in history we were named No. 1 in the nation in a similar poll. For the first time in history, we are going to the state tournament.

All kinds of college records in batting, base running, pitching, and, in short, all aspects of the game, were broken by the 1979 Pacers, and some of those records will probably set new standards for the entire state.

Although the season just concluded last week, three players have already been given scholarships to Florida State University: Roy Alvarez, Keith Parenteau, and Tommy Howser. Al Delano will sign with another baseball power, Florida Southern. Other graduating sophomores will receive scholarship opportunities as a result of the recognition earned by the team.

Competition in our division is very tough, and either the Pacers or Indian River, the division champion, could go all the way to win state and nation with a few breaks. Either team has sufficient skill and depth to make it.

But the Pacers should feel no pressure going into the tournament. Regardless of the outcome of post-season play, they are already established as the best team in our history. By this time next week they could also be firmly established as the best team in the state.

TREMORS ARE TREMBLING

Reluctantly, the Earth Tremors are busily rehearsing for a second appearance on May 3. The problem is that their first success was based on Dr. Miles making mistakes. Jim is stubbornly refusing to practice any mistakes. Reminded that he was the star of the last show, Jim said that didn't make any difference. "Let somebody else be the star," he said, "I've got my reputation to consider. I'm no phony goof-up. I'm the genuine article."

FIRE AND FLOOD -- NO FAMINE

Several departments at PBJC Central had some difficulty with water on the day of the Great 1979 Rain, April 25, but Math Lab personnel, busy trying to cope with flooding, thought for awhile they had problems with fire as well. Turned out to be a burned-out motor in an air conditioner that was blowing all the smoke around.

IRVING CAESAR PLAYS PBJC

An eighty-three years young leprechaun entertained children from the Palm Beach Junior College Center for Early Learning in the college auditorium Monday.

Irving Caesar, writer of hundreds of songs, won the hearts of the children with his music and stories about growing up, busy streets, letting the ball roll, water that's cold and HOT and the importance of remembering names, addresses, and phone numbers, and tooth brushing.

Later, the three to five-year-old children from the Montessori-oriented Center won Caesar's heart when they serenaded him with two more of his compositions, "I Want to be Happy" and "Tea for Two".

The song-writer and lyricist belted out one children's song and story after another in a strong baritone voice which belied his age.

Among his many songs are two numbers he wrote for Shirley Temple, "Animal Crackers In My Soup" and "That's What I Want For Christmas."

The vets coordinator has a B.A. in History "and most of a Master's in Guidance and Counseling" from Florida Atlantic University.

"I'm here to help solve the paperwork problems of the veterans at PBJC," Lore says.

PBJC has 574 veterans, 202 of them full-time, 221 three-quarters time, 85 half-time and 66, less than half time, the coordinator explains.

STILL ON

MODIFIED WORK WEEK

The United Faculty dropped objections to the modified work week Wednesday after Jesse Hogg, negotiator for the administration, said the College was prepared to drop the plan if the Union continued to threaten legal action.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

A former Palm Beach Junior College administrator, now Associate Dean of the College of Education at Virginia Polytechnic Institute--Dr. Charles A. Atwell--will be the commencement speaker, tomorrow, 8 p.m., in the West Palm Beach Auditorium.

Dr. Atwell, "Chuck" to those who knew him here, came to PBJC in 1964 as Dean of Men, and after receiving his doctorate in Educational Administration at the University of Florida, returned to serve until 1969 as Assistant Dean of Instruction at the College.

He then went to Auburn University where he was Assistant Professor and Associate Director of the Junior College Leadership Program there.

Since 1971, Dr. Atwell has been with Virginia Polytechnic and State University, where he now serves as Associate Professor and Dean of the College of Education.

Chuck is the author of numerous articles appearing in professional journals, and several books, including Lifelong Learning: A Comprehensive Review of the Literature (co-authored with W. Robert Sullins) to be published in the fall of 1979.

Chuck presently serves as chairperson of the State Advisory Committee on Teacher Education in Virginia, and is immediate past president (1976-78) of the Virginia Association of Colleges of Teacher Education.

Originally from Opp, Alabama, Chuck received a B.S. Degree in Education with a major in Business Education, a Master's Degree in Education and his doctorate from the University of Florida. He and his wife are parents of four children.

Opening the collective bargaining meeting on Wednesday, Hogg reminded Union representatives that the modified work week had been under discussion for some time, and that the Union "has never objected, but has never agreed."

He noted a recent Union newsletter which stated that the United Faculty will wait until implementation before deciding to take legal action.

Hogg asked the Union for a firm position on the matter, and said the administration was prepared to go to the Trustees and ask them to rescind their action of the last board meeting if the Union continued its objections.

He said Dr. Eissey had told him that 90 per cent of all the faculty he had talked to, and 90 per cent of all the students, were in favor of the modified work week.

Hogg said he wanted it understood that "we don't intend to take the guff," if the plan is dropped because of Union opposition.

After a recess, Dennis Alber said that it was true that the majority of faculty members did not indicate any disapproval of the four-day week.

He asked if the pay of 196 day contract employees would be cut in any way and was assured, both verbally and in writing that this would not happen.

Trinette Robinson asked about holidays -- and was given an explanation of how they would be treated.

The Union then agreed to drop objections.

Alber brought up a personnel matter from the last Board agenda which he said had "distressed" the Union -- the shortening of two members contract lengths from full year contracts to 196 day contracts.

Hogg said he would obtain information about this and reply at the next meeting.

Mrs. Robinson asked about the meaning of a statement by Dr. Eissey regarding the assignment of points in lieu of a full class load, and Hogg promised a clarification.

The next meeting was set for Wednesday, May 9, 3 p.m., at the County Parks and Recreation Office.

FAU REALLY LIKES US

Florida Atlantic University President Glenwood L. Creech issued a statement last week indicating his total support for the community colleges which supply most of the students who come to FAU for their upper division work leading to the baccalaureate and graduate degrees. He denied a statement (carried in the Fort Lauderdale News 4-19-79) indicating that he favored converting the nation's first successful upper division university into a four year college.

Dr. Creech said, "the individuals quoted were speaking for themselves and should not be considered official spokesmen for the University. We value our relationship with the community colleges and are constantly seeking ways to strengthen it. We are committed to continuing in our efforts to make the upper division/community college collaboration a success." ...Dr. Paul W. Graham

RETIREMENT LUNCHEON

Six members of the faculty were honored with a retirement luncheon Thursday, May 3 at 11:30 a.m. in the PBJC cafeteria.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

Flash! We have just been awarded our first Cooperative Education Grant! More next week!

ERVIN ROUSON

Dr. Ervin Rouson, Vice President of Student Affairs, spent most of last week in John F. Kennedy Hospital after a sudden onset of severe chest pains following strenuous exercise in doing yard work at his home Saturday. He is now at home, and a telephone call found him speaking with his characteristic energy and good will.

"They don't seem to know exactly what it was," Dr. Rouson told us. "Perhaps a light angina, but more probably a muscle spasm, they said." Whatever it was, Dr. Rouson said it was warning enough for him, and he plans to pace himself better from now on. Then he added: "There I was, strapped in that uncomfortable bed, with people coming in and monitoring me 24 hours a day, and I said to myself: 'Shoot, man! This is not for me! Once I get out of here I'm going to see to it I don't have to come back again!'"

COMMENCEMENT

Graduates equipped to make value judgments and moral decisions are needed in today's world, according to the commencement speaker at Palm Beach Junior College's 44th graduation ceremonies Tuesday at the West Palm Beach Municipal Auditorium.

Dr. Charles Atwell, a former PBJC administrator, now Assistant Dean of Education at VPI, pointed out that most of the problems facing the world today are not solvable by technology, but are "people problems."

The problems of poverty, home and family life, drug abuse, alcoholism, suicide, white collar crime, fraud in government will not yield to technology, he said.

"Well, what kind of problems are these then?" he asked. "These are problems of values, not skills; of moral understandings and commitments, not of techniques. Have we in education stressed the need to develop job skills and preparation for employment to the point where preparation for intelligent decision-making about the really important things in this life have been neglected?"

Dr. Atwell told some 570 of the 1,061

DR. W. ERVIN ROUSON

The College community was shocked Wednesday afternoon when Dr. W. Ervin Rouson, our Vice President of Student Affairs, died while being rushed to the hospital from the campus. His friends at the College had been cheered by what seemed to be an almost miraculous recovery from hospitalization with severe chest pains on April 28. He seemed filled with his usual cheerful energy on his return to work Monday, but left a conference with Dr. Eissey at about 2:15 p.m., Wednesday, assuring Dr. Eissey that he would be all right.

When he arrived at his office, he and Mary Cannon, LPN, telephoned his doctor, who advised them to come to his office. After getting underway, however, Dr. Rouson began having such obvious difficulties that Mary turned her car around and headed for the John F. Kennedy emergency room. Dr. Rouson was dead upon arrival.

"I have lost a good personal friend," Dr. Eissey said. "The College has lost an outstanding educator. The State has lost a dedicated and able citizen."

Dr. Rouson, who was 50, and his wife, Vivian, have five children: Lizette, 24, a college graduate, Darryl, 22, a law student at the University of Florida, Brigitte, 20, who graduated Saturday from Howard University, Janine, 18, a student there, and Damion, 11.

A memorial service was held Friday morning at St. Luke's Church. There were no flowers, and friends who wish to do so may contribute to the Palm Beach Junior College W.E. Rouson Memorial Fund.

While a numbing sense of loss was the first reaction of many on campus, one friend gave a more reflective view:

"In the middle of life we are, none of us, very far from death, but it does not follow that we should be fearful. Like Erv, we should be filled with energy and enthusiasm, and should live each day to the fullest. But I, personally am going to stop a little more often, and look at the clouds, and feel the wind, and take the measure of the good things of life."

PBJC graduates this year that people need to prepare themselves not only for work, but for life.

The ceremonies followed traditional lines, with a formal academic procession of graduates, mostly of the Winter Term, and of the faculty. Graduates of Spring and Fall Terms may take part in the ceremony but are not required to do so.

A musical program by the PBJC Community Orchestra and the Concert Choir preceded the commencement address.

Scholarship winners preceded other graduates as those in attendance filed past Dr. Eissey to receive diplomas and congratulations.

GRADUATES RECEPTION

Palm Beach Junior College honored its graduates at a reception--the first ever--last Monday in the Food Service Dining Room. Dr. Eissey greeted the graduates as they arrived, so he wouldn't miss any of them. The graduates appeared to enjoy getting together with their fellow students and with the PBJC administrators and faculty on an informal basis.

The hum of animated conversation continued at a steady pace throughout the reception, and many seemed reluctant to leave when it was over.

ONE GOAL DOWN, MORE AHEAD

The Pacer baseball team made it to the state tournament this year for the first time in history, accomplishing one of the major goals Dusty Rhodes set for the team. At the tournament a first-round loss to Gulf Coast was followed by a win over Hillsborough. A close, hard-fought loss to Indian River ended the season for the Pacers, leaving the goals of winning the state and national titles for another year. As this is written, Dusty is planning to sign some outstanding local players to make another run at those goals next year.

HIGH SCHOOL SPEECH TOURNAMENT

Twin Lakes High School was the overall winner in the 22nd annual Palm Beach Junior College High School Speech Tournament held Monday at PBJC, according to Watson B. Duncan, III, chairman of the Communications Department. Northshore High School was second and Suncoast High School placed third.

"I think it was a very successful tournament--an exciting tournament--a worthwhile event for PBJC to sponsor," Duncan said. The tourney was coordinated by the Communications Department and Phi Rho Pi, the national speech honorary fraternity.

Judges for the finals of the Original Oratory and Extemporaneous Speaking competitions were, Edwin V. Pugh, assistant professor, social science; John Connolly, senior instructor, communications, and Emily Hamer, director of forensics. Judges for the finals of the Poetry Reading, Humorous Interpretation, and Dramatic Interpretation events were Fran Denman, TV and radio personality; Mrs. Pamela Hope-Levin, drama instructor at Broward Community College and Rick Allen, associate producer of the Burt Reynolds Dinner Theater.

PBJC GRADUATING SOPHOMORE SCHOLARSHIPS

Winners of the Palm Beach Junior College graduating sophomore scholarships were recognized during commencement ceremonies Tuesday evening at the West Palm Beach Auditorium. Lisa Diane Fogleman, Palm Beach Gardens, won the Student Scholar Award as well as the Calvin W. Campbell Memorial Scholarship.

The Student Scholar Award of $150 comes from an anonymous donor to the graduate completing the college program within the regular two years with the highest grade point average (Lisa's average is 3.98). The Calvin W. Campbell Memorial Scholarship for $1,000, renewable for the senior year, if the student makes acceptable grades, is presented to a student with at least a 3.0 average by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of the Palm Beaches.

Thirty four other scholarships with a value of approximately $24,000 were given to 32 students at the ceremony.

In addition, Hamid Faquir announced that PBJC athletes had been awarded 27 athletic scholarships this year.

MAYO SMITH SCHOLARSHIP

The first Mayo Smith sports scholarship has been awarded to Julie Kintz, a golfer with Cardinal Newman's championship team. By both luck and design, the scholarship went to family friend of the Smith's and "one of Mayo's favorites" according to the late great baseball manager's widow, who attended a signing ceremony last week at the College.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

There have been 1,659 bills introduced in the House during the current session of the legislature and 1,274 in the Senate. Of these, 222 in the House and 183 in the Senate deal with education. Perhaps half of these 405 bills would have some bearing on Community Colleges, and more will be introduced before the session is over. Obviously, a page per week cannot begin to do justice to this voluminous, fascinating procedure. Herewith, however, a few more attempts to digest.

CHANGES LAST WEEK IN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED BILLS:

- HB 951 COMMUNITY COLLEGES/PRESIDENT CONTRACTS. On point of order, withdrawn from Appropriations Committee, remains referred to House Higher Education Committee.
- HB 972 COMMUNITY COLLEGES/TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT. Companion Senate Bill, SB 585, passed by Senate, 38-0, sent to House.
- HB 1022 COMMUNITY COLLEGES/LIFE IMPROVEMENT COURSES. Considered again by committee May 2: (1) motion by Morgan to reconsider failed; (2) bill reported favorable, sent to Appropriations Committee.

BILLS NOT PREVIOUSLY REPORTED IN MONDAY REPORT

- SB 927 COMMUNITY COLLEGES/AWARDS (Trask) Permits community college trustees to provide program of meritorious service awards to employees who contribute ideas which reduce costs, awards not to exceed $2,000 or 10 percent of first year's gross savings, whichever is greater. WHERE THE ACTION IS

Much of the future of Palm Beach Junior College and the other community colleges of Florida will be at stake this week as the legislature heads into the final days of the current session in Tallahassee. Since that is where the action is, it should come as no surprise that our President will be there.

Dr. Eissey was selected some time ago to represent all community colleges at Tallahassee this week. The presidents of Florida Community Colleges have been donating a week each to this cause during the current session of the legislature. This is the first year in which this effort has been made, and the effort seems to be succeeding in many ways.

MRS. MAXINE N. VIGNAU

Mrs. Maxine N. Vignau, 52, a senior instructor in communications, died Monday afternoon in Boca Raton, after being discovered in a deep coma by her husband shortly after noon.

Mrs. Vignau had suffered a painful back injury a few days earlier when she struggled to keep her pet dog from interfering with her husband, who was driving the car. Her doctor had ordered bed rest. Her husband, Pierre, an instructor at St. Andrews School in Boca Raton, found that what at first appeared to be peaceful sleep was in reality a deep coma. Despite medical efforts, she died early Monday afternoon.

A memorial service was to be held Thursday at 5 p.m. at St. Andrews Chapel on the grounds of the school. Many of the College community, still shocked from the death of Dr. Rouson five days earlier, were planning to attend the memorial service, or to donate, at the family's request, to the Maxine Vignau Memorial Dance Scholarship at St. Andrews.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Vignau's family includes three children, David, 33, Teresa, 28 and Kathy, 22.

Mrs. Vignau had been employed at PBJC since 1970. She served as vice chairman of the Faculty Senate and as president of the United Faculty during the stormy period which saw the first organization dissolved after the second became sole bargaining agent for the faculty.

Before, during, and after these periods of elective service to her fellow faculty members, Mrs. Vignau served her students. She once summed up her educational philosophy with these words: "Ultimately, I think, we have best served our students when we have been successful in helping them to look at themselves with some degree of realism, when we have made a concentrated effort to introduce them fairly to philosophies other than our own, when we have helped them not only to accumulate 'facts,' but to weigh, to evaluate, to question, to think, to feel with an educated heart, and to realize that education may be terminated, but never completed."

Whether by luck, or design, or both, the week that Dr. Eissey will be present is a climactic one. House and Senate Appropriations Bills will be passed by their respective houses, (if all goes as planned), and the crucial final joint committee meetings to iron out differences will be taking place. Last year, community colleges lost during these joint meetings, winding up with less money than either house had originally passed. In addition, the critical point for local bills, including our ad valorem tax bill, HB 1157, may well be during Dr. Eissey's week. Dr. Eissey plans to be back in his office after the Memorial Day weekend.

TRUSTEES

The Palm Beach Junior College trustees Wednesday night approved placing the North Campus in the "Under Construction" category in the project priority list in preparation for quick action when funding is available. They also gave Dr. Eissey permission to sign the certificate of final inspection on the Allied Health Building at the appropriate time. The board also passed resolutions of regret over the untimely deaths of Dr. Rouson and Mrs. Vignau.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

When a holiday falls within a scheduled work week personnel on a 35 hour work week receive credit for a 7-hour holiday and those on a 40 hour week receive credit for an 8-hour holiday. Those employees who are on a 4 day week are required to work or be paid for an average of 8 3/4 hours per day if they are on a 35 hour week and 10 hours per day if they are on a 40 hour week. As a result of the holiday employees on a 4 day week with a 35 hour schedule must work an additional 1 3/4 hours and those employees on a 4 day week with a 40 hour schedule must work an additional 2 hours during the week of a holiday. Rather than working the additional time in one day it is possible to work an additional 35 minutes per day (for personnel on a 35 hour schedule) and 40 minutes per day (for personnel on a 40 hour week schedule) during the remaining three days in the work week of a holiday.

Those personnel who are on a 4 day work week with a Tuesday through Friday schedule will recognize their Memorial Day Holiday on Tuesday, May 29.

IN THE BALANCE

As this is written, it is decision time in Tallahassee, and Palm Beach Junior College could come out with a north campus, a central campus swimming pool, the half mill referendum, and reasonably adequate funding for next year. But, on the other hand, we could come out with none of the above.

As the two legislative appropriations bills headed into conference at the first of last week, the swimming pool was in the House Bill, but not in the Senate version. On the other hand, the Senate bill had the North Campus in as an actual appropriation of money we would not otherwise get, while the House version merely gave us permission to spend money in advance we would be getting anyhow. The referendum was on course, but had not yet passed. Funding for Community Colleges was over $6 million higher in the Senate Bill than in the House.

On Wednesday morning, in a telephone conversation with his office, Dr. Eissey said the pace of the action in Tallahassee has to be experienced to be believed.

"People are everywhere, trying to get the attention of anybody who is on the committee, or of anybody who might be able to get someone on the committee -- begging, pleading, arguing -- any kind of negotiation you can think of.

"It looks now like we will get some library money we had not anticipated, but there is $10 million in the universities for maintenance, and so far, nothing at all for community colleges.

"Our delegation has been very helpful -- they are all working for us, but the tensions are so terrific right now that almost anything could happen. If I can keep up with the 16 hour days, we may be able to swing it all -- but it is too early to predict anything."

By the time you are reading this, everything may have been decided -- but as it is being written, nothing has been finally determined on funding for the next two years. Everything is in the balance.

Pippin is the first-born son of Charlemagne, but this is where the historical similarity ends. Pippin is the prototype, idealistic youth searching for fulfillment. He tries soldiering but finds no glory in battle; he tries being a ruler but finds his noble principles yielding to compromise. He tries sex, turns to revolution and finally has a choice of a bang-up suicide or a peaceful uneventful existence.

With overall direction by Frank Leahy, and musical direction by Dr. Hugh Albee, aided by Pat Johnson, Sy Pryweller, and other music department faculty members, the play should be a hit., with its innovative dances and songs and bright costumes. Choreographer is Kathy Jo Campbell, who learned the Pippin choreography from the original choreographer, Bob Fosse. Some of the attractive young actors and actresses will no doubt be our stars of tomorrow.

Says Leahy: "Even though the musical takes place in the Middle Ages, we're not costuming it for the Middle Ages. We're using a contemporary form of the clothing worn by players in the Commedia dell'arte, similar to what was worn in the original Broadway show."

Says Albee: "We've been eating, sleeping and living Pippin these last few weeks, but even though it's quite exhausting, it's rewarding, too."

All members of the PBJC staff and faculty will get one free ticket, and according to Leahy, if they attend the May 31 performance with family and friends, the additional tickets will be half price.

Those choosing to attend other performances will get in free but their guests' tickets will be full price.

POSITION VACANCY

The following position vacancies are being announced:

Guidance Counselor (South Center): Position requires a master's degree with a minimum of 18 graduate semester hours in guidance and counseling.

Instructor - English (North Campus): Position requires a master's degree with a minimum of 18 graduate semester hours in English Communications.

SPECIAL MEETING

Only two items are on the agenda for the special meeting of the trustees tonight, (Tuesday), at 7 in the Foodservice Center, but both should be of interest to the entire college community.

The meeting was originally called for consideration of the PBJC budget for 1979-80. There will also be a second item -- a presentation by Southern Bell of plans for a new telephone system.

LADY PACERS

Four women golfers, the best golf team ever to represent PBJC, will be in Midland, Texas, at the National Junior College Athletic Association National Championships as you read this. If they live up to their possibilities, they could be leading the tournament.

The Lady Pacers have been super this year, shocking Miami-Dade North, which has made a habit of winning the state and nationals, by defeating them twice during the season. Later in the year, however, at the state tournament and later at Indian River, the Dade North team avenged their earlier losses.

First-year coach Debbie Ruday says her girls could be PBJC's first national champs. Playing in Texas are June Staton, 18, from Miami, Paula Slivinsky, 18, Brewston, N.Y., Barbara Bunkowsky, 19, Toronto, and Colleen Bienkiewitz, 18, Bloomfield, N.J.

WHERE THE ACTION IS

Much of the future of Palm Beach Junior College and the other community colleges of Florida will be at stake this week as the legislature heads into the final days of the current session in Tallahassee. Since that is where the action is, it should come as no surprise that our President will be there.

Dr. Eissey was selected some time ago to represent all community colleges at Tallahassee this week. The presidents of Florida Community Colleges have been donating a week each to this cause during the current session of the legislature. This is the first year in which this effort has been made, and the effort seems to be succeeding in many ways.

MRS. MAXINE N. VIGNAU

Mrs. Maxine N. Vignau, 52, a senior instructor in communications, died Monday afternoon in Boca Raton, after being discovered in a deep coma by her husband shortly after noon.

Mrs. Vignau had suffered a painful back injury a few days earlier when she struggled to keep her pet dog from interfering with her husband, who was driving the car. Her doctor had ordered bed rest. Her husband, Pierre, an instructor at St. Andrews School in Boca Raton, found that what at first appeared to be peaceful sleep was in reality a deep coma. Despite medical efforts, she died early Monday afternoon.

A memorial service was to be held Thursday at 5 p.m. at St. Andrews Chapel on the grounds of the school. Many of the College community, still shocked from the death of Dr. Rouson five days earlier, were planning to attend the memorial service, or to donate, at the family's request, to the Maxine Vignau Memorial Dance Scholarship at St. Andrews.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Vignau's family includes three children, David, 33, Teresa, 28 and Kathy, 22.

Mrs. Vignau had been employed at PBJC since 1970. She served as vice chairman of the Faculty Senate and as president of the United Faculty during the stormy period which saw the first organization dissolved after the second became sole bargaining agent for the faculty.

Before, during, and after these periods of elective service to her fellow faculty members, Mrs. Vignau served her students. She once summed up her educational philosophy with these words: "Ultimately, I think, we have best served our students when we have been successful in helping them to look at themselves with some degree of realism, when we have made a concentrated effort to introduce them fairly to philosophies other than our own, when we have helped them not only to accumulate 'facts,' but to weigh, to evaluate, to question, to think, to feel with an educated heart, and to realize that education may be terminated, but never completed."

Whether by luck, or design, or both, the week that Dr. Eissey will be present is a climactic one. House and Senate Appropriations Bills will be passed by their respective houses, (if all goes as planned), and the crucial final joint committee meetings to iron out differences will be taking place. Last year, community colleges lost during these joint meetings, winding up with less money than either house had originally passed. In addition, the critical point for local bills, including our ad valorem tax bill, HB 1157, may well be during Dr. Eissey's week. Dr. Eissey plans to be back in his office after the Memorial Day weekend.

TRUSTEES

The Palm Beach Junior College trustees Wednesday night approved placing the North Campus in the "Under Construction" category in the project priority list in preparation for quick action when funding is available. They also gave Dr. Eissey permission to sign the certificate of final inspection on the Allied Health Building at the appropriate time. The board also passed resolutions of regret over the untimely deaths of Dr. Rouson and Mrs. Vignau.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

When a holiday falls within a scheduled work week personnel on a 35 hour work week receive credit for a 7-hour holiday and those on a 40 hour week receive credit for an 8-hour holiday. Those employees who are on a 4 day week are required to work or be paid for an average of 8 3/4 hours per day if they are on a 35 hour week and 10 hours per day if they are on a 40 hour week. As a result of the holiday employees on a 4 day week with a 35 hour schedule must work an additional 1 3/4 hours and those employees on a 4 day week with a 40 hour schedule must work an additional 2 hours during the week of a holiday. Rather than working the additional time in one day it is possible to work an additional 35 minutes per day (for personnel on a 35 hour schedule) and 40 minutes per day (for personnel on a 40 hour week schedule) during the remaining three days in the work week of a holiday.

Those personnel who are on a 4 day work week with a Tuesday through Friday schedule will recognize their Memorial Day Holiday on Tuesday, May 29.

PACERS -- NO. 1??

As this is written, our Lady Pacers are in first place after the first round of the National Junior College Athletic Association's Women's Golf Tournament at Midlands, Texas.

Our Paula Slivinsky shot a red-hot two-under par 70 to lead everybody else by five strokes, accounting for most of the seven stroke margin the Pacers held over Dade North.

June Staton was in at 79, in sixth place overall, Colleen Binkiewicz was eighth at 80, and Barbara Bunkowsky is tied for ninth at 82.

1979-80 BUDGET ...AND TELEPHONES, TOO

Two items were passed by the college trustees at a special meeting Tuesday night, and both are of unusual interest to those of us who work at the college: the 1979-80 budget, and a new telephone system.

The budget is 5.3 per cent above last year's, topping the $10 million mark in the general current fund for the first time.

It is based on estimates of what will be provided by the legislature and on student enrollment. It contains no provision for raises other than the merit increases where they have been earned.

Dr. Eissey explained that if the legislature provides more funds than have been estimated in the budget, the administration will make later recommendations for use of those additional funds.

The personnel portion of the budget was up 5.6 per cent and the equipment budget was down 26.3 per cent.

Total available for expenditure was $10,332,243, and almost the entire amount, $10,314,349 was budgeted for possible expenditure.

Revenue comes largely from the state, 68 per cent, and student fees, 29 per cent, with all other sources at 3 per cent.

Expenditures were 77 per cent for personnel, 20 per cent for current expenses, and 3 per cent for equipment.

In addition to the general operating funds, the board also approved the plant fund budget, which showed a total available of $2,930,638.22, and planned expenditures of $2,638,613.09.

Robert Cobb, vice president of the student government association at PBJC Central, spoke briefly, objecting to smaller cuts in the athletics portion of the student activity portion of the budget, than in other student activities.

Southern Bell representatives made a presentation explaining the study they have made of our telephone system.

The current system has no more room for growth, and service is not what it should be, according to the study.

Some features of the new plan:

All telephones on campus will be reachable from the outside by their own number through a system called Direct Inward Dialing. Relieved of switchboard duties to a large extent, the operators could be utilized in an information center.

All campuses will be a part of the new system, with internal lines similar to the single line now available to the Glades campus. Automatic records will be kept of long distance dialing. Other features would include automatic forwarding and call back.

After some discussion, the board gave permission for the administration to continue the development of the new system.

Altogether, the Pacers scored 311 to Miami Dade North's 318. The tournament goes through Thursday, and we hope that by the time you read this our Lady Pacers will be the national champions.

The Lady Pacers are working under a handicap -- they have only four players, whereas most of the teams carry five -- with the lowest four rounds counting in the score. This means that we cannot afford a really bad round from any player.

If they win the 54-hole Nationals with this handicap, it will certainly be an honor to the four girls, and to Debbie Ruday, our first-year coach.

- - - - -

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Zowie! Zocko! Wham! Our Lady Pacers have come about as close to winning the whole thing on the second day as you can come! Slavinsky shot a 78, increasing her individual lead to seven strokes, and look what the rest of the Pacers did: Staton, 76, (she is now in second place), Binkiewicz, 76, and Bunkowsky, 78.

All four of our girls are now in the top five in the tournament, and we lead second place Miami Dade North by a whopping 35 strokes, 619 to 654.

REPORT FROM TALLAHASSEE

Returning from Tallahassee last week, Dr. Eisey reported that stories about the hectic pace in the last days of a meeting of the Florida legislature are not exaggerated.

"You have to use every possible avenue you can to get your story before the senator or house member who is in the position of power at that moment," he said. "You catch them right after a meeting, on the way to a rest room, or, if you are lucky, you make a date for breakfast, before the day begins."

Dr. Eissey said that all of the three major PBJC items -- the swimming pool, the north campus, and the half mill referendum -- were still alive when he left Tallahassee.

"House members of the conference committee all understand the importance of our swimming pool -- that this is our last chance," he says. "But the Senate members were much harder to convince that it is a real necessity."

Funding for the North Campus remains in both bills, but it is yet to be determined whether the Senate version -- much better for us than the house version -- will finally prevail.

The ad valorem tax bill appears to be on target for passage as an uncontested local bill.

In regard to the state funding for community colleges, Dr. Eissey said the House had agreed to an additional $6 million for community colleges, but only if the Senate would agree to add $14 million to their total educational package. As this is written, they are still negotiating.

A LOT OF WORK LEFT TO BE DONE

Occasionally, the critics of education begin to get to you, and you might begin to wonder if we are not already reaching all the people who should be getting a college education. Far from it.

An article in the May Community and Junior College Journal, (page 7), has some interesting statistics, if you ever feel that way.

It turns out that of the 119 million Americans 25 years of age and over, 25 million have not completed grade school, another 18 million have not completed high school.

At the other end of the scale, only 33 million have had any college education at all, and only 15 million are college graduates.

Another way of saying that is that 76 million do finish high school, and 61 million of that 76 million do not finish college. There is plenty of work left to be done.

WE REALLY ARE NO. 1!!

The last time we talked to you about the Lady Pacers, they were on the verge of becoming the official No. 1 junior college golf team in the nation, with a whopping 35 stroke margin on second place Miami-Dade North and just one more round to go. It was a pretty sure bet that they would at least hang in there well enough to win, with that many strokes to work on.

In case you haven't heard, coach Debbie Ruday's girls not only won, they won going away, by a fantastic 50 stroke margin.

"It was the first time all year that we really played up to our full capability," Debbie said.

Paula Slivinsky, who was usually No. 3 in the Pacer line-up, followed a super 70 on the first nine with a steady 78, and then closed like the national individual champion she had just become with a 73.

She was 13 strokes better than her nearest competitor, our own June Staton, with 79-76-79 -- 234. Barbara Bunkowsky, with 82-78-77 -- 238, was just one stroke back, sixth place. Our composite score was 930. Dade North's second best was 980.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME...

(Subtitle: The Seasons)

Beginning in 1980, the name of Spring Term I and Spring Term II at Palm Beach Junior College will be changed. Only the names will change -- not the concepts, the calendar dates, or anything else -- only the names.

The change for Spring I is minimal. All we will do is to drop the "I," so that we will refer to it as the Spring Term. But Spring II gets changed altogether. Henceforth, not this year, but next, we will say the Summer Term.

That will make our terms a neat, and logical, Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer -- just like the seasons.

As do all changes which have become engrained in books, manuals, catalogs, forms, and other kinds of written words, this change will probably produce a magnificent upheaval for a few months while we get everything straightened out. But the result will be worth it.

Many people in the community will stop waiting out our spring terms, expecting to enroll in our summer term. And it is not beyond the realm of possibility that a very few people might realize that our Fall Term begins in August instead of September, if we tell them that our Summer Term is over in July.

It is possible that there are some legal technicalities which must be crossed before this is fully accomplished, but it is the intention of the administration to change the names as of next year, and, so far, absolutely no serious objections have surfaced...JK

A NOTE OF EXPLANATION

All members of the college community should realize that a budget is a planning document. In our case, because of deadlines we had to meet -- the budget had to be in Tallahassee by June 1 -- we had to prepare this large and intricate document before we had a clear indication of how much money the college would receive from the State.

This means that the budget adopted May 29 by the Board of Trustees will be amended after passage of the appropriations bill gives us a clearer idea of what our income might be. That series of amendments, (and we all hope it will be adding to the estimates of money to be made available, not subtracting), will not be the last -- amendments will keep coming throughout the life of the budget, as adjustments are made to match our guesses of today with the reality of tomorrow.

A budget must be sound. A series of errors could lead to a great deal of human suffering, as reported in an article in the Pensacola Journal reprinted on page six of today's Monday Report. We certainly do not wish to go through such an experience here.

The budget just passed at PBJC was lean almost to the point of emaciation. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of badly needed equipment had to be left out in order to find the money needed to continue all salaries at their present level, plus earned increases.

Better salaries for all has been the number one priority of Dr. Eisey's administration from its beginning. That has not changed. It is possible, even probable, that after the actions of the legislature become clear as far as junior college funding is concerned, and after we have been informed from the state level what this will mean to Palm Beach Junior College, some upward adjustment of salaries will be made in the next fiscal year. Until we know more clearly how much money we will have for operation, speculation on this is not only useless, it is counter productive.

In the nine months Dr. Eisey has been in office, a number of minor miracles have occurred. Now, with the passage of the ad valorem tax bill and the inclusion of the north campus in the appropriations act, a couple of major miracles appear to be near. It is his avowed goal to bring the salary level of all employees at the college, not just one segment, into the top rank of all colleges in Florida.

If all of us in the college community become and continue to be hard-working, enthusiastic members of the team, supporting all efforts to increase revenue and eliminate unnecessary expenditure, there is no doubt that he will succeed in reaching his objective.

In the meantime, there should be considerable relief in knowing that, barring some real calamity in state funding or student receipts, it will not be necessary to release even one person next year because of insufficient funds...Jonathan Koontz, after consultation with Dr. Eisey

Slivinsky and Staton were first team All American, Bunkowsky second team, and Bienkiewicz honorable mention. Debbie, in her first year of coaching, was named Coach of the Year.

Although other PBJC teams have placed well in national events, the Lady Pacers are the first team to come through with a national championship. They brought home a beautiful trophy, which will go on display in the gym. The first -- with more to come.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

It is supposed to be foolhardy to count your chickens before they are fully hatched, but the temptation is too great. It does look like, with more than a little help from our friends in the legislature, Palm Beach Junior College will score well on all except one issue in the current legislative session.

The higher Senate figure of $220 million is in the final appropriations bill, and our North Campus is approved for $4.9 million. Both the appropriations bill and our ad valorem tax bill have gone to the governor.

The matching funds for our swimming pool do not appear in the appropriations bill as it now stands. Dr. Eissey, who does not know how to stop trying, is already busy looking for some other source for those matching funds, before the county commission withdraws its offer.

Hard and effective work by the President's Council, including Dr. Eissey's critical week in Tallahassee, and a good job of lobbying by the FACC were factors in getting the junior college story before the legislators. But it is, in the end, the legislators themselves who are chiefly responsible. We really should go out of our way to let them know we appreciate a job well done.

EXEMPLARY PRACTICE AWARD

Palm Beach Junior College and counselor Frank J. McLaughlin, received an Exemplary Practice Award at a recent conference of the Student Development Commission of the Florida Association of Community Colleges for two innovative programs at the college.

The two programs, Dual Enrollment, Early Admission, were originated by Dr. Eissey in 1971-72 when he was principal of Palm Beach Gardens High School, and McLaughlin administers the programs.

Dual enrollment permits high school seniors, with written permission from their principals, enroll dually at PBJC and their high school.

With Early Admission, high school seniors may attend PBJC instead of their senior year at high school, but they must qualify by presenting scores of the 90th percentile in either the College Boards or the American College Tests.

PJC Cuts 106 Staff Positions

By FRANK TAYLOR
Journal Staff Writer

Pensacola Junior College announced Friday the elimination of 106 full-time positions at the college.

Supervisors will give termination notices to 56 employees Monday in an across-the-board reduction of 14 percent of the college staff.

Another 50 employees have already advised the college of their intention to retire or resign this year.

The college will terminate the positions of 24 classified employees within one to two weeks, according to a PJC spokesman. Four administrators, four support staff and 24 instructors will leave at the termination of their present contracts.

Except in the case of administrators, the cutback will affect exclusively employees hired within the last three years, according to William Moore, executive vice president of the college.

"This technique is more accepted by the majority of people at the college," he said. Moore said he asked representatives of the faculty and classified employees Friday if they suggested any changes in the method for deleting positions and received no comment.

"The employees have sanctioned these guidelines," he said.

Moore said the criteria for deleting positions and services was to determine which of them "could be discontinued with little or no direct impact on the classroom." However, the percentage reduction in force was applied equally to all employment categories. Of the total number of positions lost, 43, or 41 percent, were of instructional staff.

Asked if the firings would affect many blacks, Moore responded, "You better believe it."

He said many blacks employed under the college's affirmative action plan, would be released, but he did not know the exact number.

"Whatever adverse affect it has on minorities, we'll have to reverse it in the plan for 1980-81," he said. "We won't get back to our employment level now, but we expect some growth."

Moore said the list of employees to be cut has already been made.

"Supervisors will talk Monday with the individuals affected to notify them they will not be here next year," he said. "They will also indicate the forms of assistance we can give in obtaining other employment."

"If the professional people give us a copy of their curriculum vitae, we will distribute it to all the junior colleges in the state and throughout the country," he said.

Asked the cost of this assistance, Moore said it was "not too expensive in terms of helping those who had no fault in the situation."

He said the personnel officer of the college would help classified employees being dismissed who are from the Pensacola area find work with local firms.

The lay-offs are expected to save the college $1.25 million in personnel costs and help the college recoup a deficit of $1.6 million from last year. T. Felton Harrison, president of PJC, told the college's faculty Feb. 22 of the budget problems but said he thought attrition would make lay-offs unnecessary.

Each personnel category will be reduced by an average of 14 percent. There will be an overall reduction of six administrators, 43 instructors, seven support staff and 50 classified workers.

The college's anticipated revenue for fiscal year 1980 is $16,250,000, according to Moore. However, expenditures are projected at $14,650,000 in order to eliminate the $1.6 million deficit.

Personnel costs for the year are estimated at $11,808,750, 81 percent of total expenditures.

Moore said he was "confident" no further layoffs would be necessary for next year. However, he said the administration would only be able to determine the need for more dismissals "after taking the list of remaining individuals, accumulating their salaries, and verifying that we have in fact met the goal set for our budget next year."

"I fully anticipate what we have identified will be 99 percent on line," he said.

PBJC trustees will be asked to approve the administration's waiver of tuition plan at the regular June meeting of the board, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., at the Foodservice Center.

As reported in the Monday Report, and in individual letters to all personnel, Dr. Eissey will recommend allowing tuition waivers for one course per term for employees, and an unlimited number for employees' spouses and children on a "space available" basis.

The policy to go before the board is exactly the same as the one you received in the mail.

The board will also be asked to approve the changing of the names of our Spring Term I and II to the Spring Term, and the Summer Term.

Prior to the business part of the meeting, the large trophy won by the Lady Pacers as the National Junior College Athletic Association's Women Golf Champions will be presented.

The board will also be asked to approve an

FIGURING FOR YOURSELF

HOW MUCH MONEY WILL PBJC GET?

So you've been reading that Community Colleges got $192 million last year and will get almost $221 million this year and $239 million next year -- and you've got the urge to figure out what kind of a percentage jump in state funding PBJC will get next year. Take our advice. Don't.

It looks like the simplest thing in the world. Get out the calculator, or the pencil and paper and figure percentages -- apply them to last year's PBJC Budget, and there you are --- Ha!

If you do that, you come up with a 14.9 per cent gain this year and an additional 8.2 per cent gain the year following. Would that it were that simple. Indeed, would that it were so.

In the first place, you must take into account how much additional education will be demanded for the additional money. It is true that $2.21 is more money than $1.92 -- but it is not a true increase if it is demanded that you buy more goods with the $2.21 than the $1.92.

In the second place, there is the effect of the general rate of inflation on everything the college buys. All of us know very well how that affects a family budget, and the college is no different.

In the third, fourth, fifth, sixth place and on into infinity the dispensing of funds by the Division of Community Colleges involves such a complex set of equations that some colleges will wind up with a much higher percentage increase than others, and nobody knows before it is done whether we will be higher or lower. Until those calculations are made and announced, (usually a matter of a couple of weeks), it is anybody's guess as to the effect of the appropriations bill on our budget.

addendum to the contract of Peacock and Lewis for architectural services in connection with the North Campus -- changing the dollar estimate on Phase I to $5 million and increasing the contract to include seven buildings and site development, valued at $15,318,409.

Another happy note -- the board will receive notification of the Grant Award of $58,758 from HEW for our Cooperative Education program, outlined to you in the Monday Report a few issues back.

We can say, of course, that the dollar amount will be higher -- it had better be, because the stand-pat budget we have already passed has a considerable increase in state funding already built in. Beyond that we cannot say much. It is the universal advice of all dealing with budgetary matters to do very little speculation, and be patient.

More than 20 years ago, as a reporter for the Post-Times, I made the mistake of asking Dr. Manor for a simple explanation of the state funding formula. He looked at me and stated in emphatic terms that I had asked for an impossible thing. "You can't explain anything as complex as that in simple terms," he declared, "but if you want to listen, I'll be happy to explain it."

Somewhat cocksure of my ability to absorb any information, (some reporters are like that), I nodded my head and he started. Two hours later, brainwashed, dazed and exhausted, and still unable to make a coherent, simple statement about the process that he did not quickly qualify, I beat a hasty, and somewhat ignoble retreat. Folks, I don't think it's one bit simpler today. JK.

THE PRESIDENTS ARE COMING

Palm Beach Junior College is proud to be the host for the Presidents Council, an organization of the presidents of all 28 community colleges in Florida, Wednesday through Friday of this week.

Business meetings of the council will be held at the Holiday Inn on the ocean, and a number of social activities have been planned for off-duty hours.

In addition to the presidents, a number of representatives from state universities, and from the Division of Community Colleges of the State Department of Education will be in attendance. A total of 69 reservations have been made for a seafood buffet to be held in the Foodservice Building Wednesday evening.

A number of people in the college community have volunteered to assist in entertaining the presidents.

ANNUAL LUNCHEON

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEES RECOGNITION

Twenty-three Palm Beach Junior College classified employees will be honored for their years of service to PBJC at the third annual Classified Employees Recognition Luncheon to be held Wednesday, June 27 at noon, according to Nancy Buhl, luncheon chairman.

Of that number, two, Sue Frazier, of the Registrar's Office, and Sonia Mattson, of the Finance Office, will receive the coveted 20-year awards, PBJC emblems with a diamond chip.

One, Bill Dunn, of the Physical Plant, will receive the 15-year award, with an emerald chip.

Ten employees will be presented with ten-year (ruby chip) awards, and ten will be awarded plain gold emblems for five years of service.

Employees scheduled to receive awards for perfect attendance for the past year include: Edward Cassidy and Robert McConnell, Physical Plant; Edna Hardy, Library; and Solomon Jackson Denise Shepherd, and James Wilkerson, Data Processing.

Retirees Wilma Weigel, with 19 years of service, and Henry Smith, with 15 years of service, will also be honored at the luncheon.

Names of PBJC employees and their years of service were published in the latest edition of the Staff News.

In addition to Mrs. Buhl, other members of the luncheon committees include: Judy Neumann, table decorations; Carolyn Copeland, technical equipment; Mary Tingler, entertainment; Diane Lester, Ruth Lafferty, and Loraine Kent, program; Dianne Miller, invitations; Joseph Schneider and Ardease Johnson, advisory.

and Dr. G. Tony Tate, Vice President for Business Affairs, will present the awards.

Entertainment is still in the planning stages, but should prove interesting, Mary says.

Bob Spak, Cafeteria Manager, is supervising the food for the luncheon. The menu is as follows: Baked ham, fried chicken, macaroni and cheese casserole, broccoli, string beans with bacon, tossed salad, salad trays and relish trays, and jello cake.

"Things will be done a little differently this year, and we hope everyone likes the change," Nancy says.

of Trustees, will host the seafood buffet. Claude Edwards, Director of the Physical Plant, will be host for some deep sea fishing. Florida Atlantic University will host a social hour.

"I want to thank everyone who has been working on this," Dr. Eissey said. "I know the visiting presidents are going to have a great time as a result of the team effort that has been going on."

NON-MEETING

Palm Beach Junior College Trustees had a non-meeting Wednesday when a quorum failed to arrive.

It had been known prior to the meeting that Dr. Philip Lichtblau and Mrs. Susann Anstead would be out of the area. Mrs. Hisetta Dyson had also been away and had thought she could be back in time, but apparently was delayed in her return.

George Michael, Vice Chairman, and Mrs. Homer Hand carried through with the parts of the agenda which did not require a vote.

Doris Gaunt presented the Board with a copy of a text book to be used in 18 southeastern states this fall, which was developed at PBJC this year.

Tom Mullins, Athletic Director, introduced Debbie Ruday, Women's Golf Coach, who presented the first place trophy won at the National Community College tournament this year.

Dr. Ottis Smith presented a plaque to Dr. Eissey from "the gang" at PBJC North. The plaque was to an "outstanding administrator - lobbyist," and was in recognition of Dr. Eissey's work in obtaining a $4.9 million appropriation for construction of the North Campus.

Dr. Eissey said he was "really touched" by the thought behind the plaque, and said he would accept it in behalf of all of the people in the college community who had worked on this project. "I'm like the quarterback on a football team," he said. "I call the signals, but it takes everybody doing their part to make the play go."

A previously scheduled workshop tonight at 7:30 p.m., in Conference Room B in the Administration Building, will now become a special board meeting to conduct the June business of the board. Regular business items will precede a board review of proposed revisions of the policy manual.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Bookstore will be closed both day and evening June 29 for inventory. Please have your students pick up supplies prior to this date. Thank you.....Ruth Brofft

A PAT ON THE BACK

Palm Beach Junior College students and graduates have earned higher grade point averages (GPA) in the Florida University System than the state-wide average, according to statistics in The Articulation, a publication of the Florida Department of Education.

"We're proud of our students, of our teachers, and of everyone who has worked to keep the quality of our education high," says Dr. Eissey.

"At a time when the quality of education at all levels is being questioned in Florida," he says, "it is heartening to note that our high standards are still being upheld."

Statistics in the publication show that PBJC students who transfer prior to 60 credit hours at the college, do better than the state average, but those who transfer after 60 hours at PBJC have even higher grade point averages.

For an example, in 1978 the 406 PBJC students who transferred to the state university system prior to earning 60

"SPACE AVAILABLE" BASIS

TRUSTEES VOTE FREE TUITION

Our trustees got together for a special meeting last Monday night, disposed of the regular business in a hurry, and spent considerable time and energy on a massive overhaul of board policy and administrative and personnel handbooks.

They passed, with obvious pleasure, the proposal to grant us the tuition waivers, exactly as outlined to you in the personal letter you have received from Dr. Eissey. They also agreed to the change in term names to Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer, beginning next year.

The overhaul was largely a matter of updating and editing to avoid duplication, and to make changes in minor administrative matters possible without going through the cumbersome procedures necessary to change a board policy.

A committee headed by Joe Schneider has been working on the revisions for some time, and the President's Staff went over every item before it was presented to the board. Except for some small changes, the board approved all revisions, and the overhaul now had its first reading.

If you are interested, you may examine a copy of all the proposed revisions in the Library.

WE TRIED, AND SOMETIME -- WE'LL TRY AGAIN

Although the legislature passed a law permitting Junior Colleges to continue insurance coverage for retired employees, with the retiree paying premiums, it appears that we at PBJC will not be able to increase the availability of insurance beyond the level we already have had.

Last Monday the President's Staff went into

hours of credit had a GPA of 2.66 (compared to the 2.62 GPA of statewide students). However, the 1,175 PBJC students who transferred after 60 or more hours of credit, showed a 2.72 GPA (compared to statewide student figure of 2.70).

Says Dot Suttle, Director of Institutional Research, who compiled the information, "The Articulation for May 1979 substantiates what we knew was true! Palm Beach Junior College offers quality education to quality students."

The publication also showed (based on Fall Quarter Registrations) that approximately 90 percent of the PBJC transfers into the state university system go to three Florida colleges: Florida Atlantic University (55 percent in 1978), University of Florida (18 percent in 1978) and Florida State University (15.4 percent in 1978).

the question in detail with Randy Hopkins, a local agent, who was substituting for John Emerson of Gulf Life, our basic insurance carrier. The answers were essentially negative on every point that was raised. It appears that we are lucky to have the coverage we now have, which is based on being a part of a group that includes the Palm Beach County School Board -- that separation from the school board would either be impossible or very costly -- that maintenance of retirees in the essential group with employees in the life insurance group would be prohibitively expensive, and quite expensive in the health insurance -- that even to keep early retirees covered until the time they would normally retire would not be possible.

After hearing that last, the staff asked Mr. Hopkins, who is an agent for a large number of insurance companies, whether some other company might be more lenient -- at least for retirees who have not yet reached normal retirement age. His opinion was that this would be extremely unlikely, since our current experience record is bad in both life and health insurance.

Currently, there are conversion options for retirees, and the personnel office will explain these to anyone with a real interest.

Dr. Eissey admitted a temporary setback in the matter, but refused to admit defeat.

"I believe that when people give their lives in the service of this institution, it is not right just to say thanks, give them a token gift, and cut the umbilical cord forever -- putting them out there all alone for the rest of their lives. Somewhere, somehow, we'll have an opportunity to do something about this, and when we can, we will."

NOTE OF THANKS

As the Monday Report went to press, we got a last minute report from Dr. Eissey's office as to the meeting of the President's Council at PBJC. Everything is going extremely well, and the presidents have been most complimentary in their comments on the obvious teamwork going on at PBJC. Dr. Eissey asked us to express his heartfelt thanks to everyone who worked for the success of the meeting. "I'm proud to be a member of the PBJC team," Dr. Eissey said. "You have not only done your jobs well, you have shown a spirit of friendship and enthusiasm that is simply fantastic. My sincerest thanks to all of you."

Friends of Bill Corsaro, security guard at PBJC Central, have welcomed him back to work, and are happy that his health incident turned out not to be trouble with the heart.

DORIS GAUNT, AUTHOR

Here are some interesting facts about the Home Economics Catalog just completed by our own Doris Gaunt:

It is the only catalog produced in the Home Economics area in Florida.

The catalog is being used as a model within the 18-state consortium.

The catalog will be distributed in all eighteen states of the Vocational-Technical Education Consortium of States (V-TECS)

The catalog will be in all home economics classrooms in the Fall.

A "Resource Guide" has also just been completed and is a "first" for the V-TECS materials.

PBJC is credited with sponsorship of the project which took two years to complete.

Ms. Gaunt is a recognized authority in the Home Economics area and has been associated with PBJC for two years. During that time she has taught courses in the Business Department as well as directing the project.

In my opinion the work of Ms. Gaunt lends professional recognition to our academic programs. She is to be congratulated for her accomplishments.....Noel Smith

GOOD GOING, RICK

Richard L. Travis, Assistant Chairman of the PBJC Central Mathematics Department, conducted the mathematics portion of a teacher-training seminar June 19 - 21, at Baldwin-
Wallace College, Berea, Ohio. The seminar was sponsored by Change Magazine and the Education Development Center.

An article about Rick and the PBJC Math Learning Center is featured in the current issue of the Journal of Developmental and Remedial Education. The Center, initiated by Travis
in 1969, has become a model for other colleges in the U.S.

"We've had mail from all over the country inquiring about the Math Center." Rick says.
He explains that most college math centers are used for remedial purposes only. "We cover a broad spectrum from the simplest arithmetic through trigonometry," he says.

CHANGED MEETING DATE

Palm Beach Junior College trustees have changed the date of the July meeting from July 18 to July 25, 7:30 p.m., in the Food-service Center.

The one-week delay was caused by the need to comply with administrative procedure act regulations regarding the advertising of changes in board rules.

BOARD RULE CHANGES

An 80-page supplement to this issue of the Monday Report contains digests of all the board rule changes currently being proposed. Copies are available in all message centers, in the library, and at all branch campuses. Any individual desiring a copy may obtain it from Dr. Erling's office.

RIDI, PAGLIACCI

EVERYTHING IS COMING UP ROSES

One of the most famous arias in all opera occurs when Pagliacci, the head of a traveling group of actors, is forced to make everyone else laugh while his own heart is breaking. After last Wednesday night, our resident president, Ed Eissey, can really sympathize with Pagliacci.

Dr. Eissey was playing host to the presidents of all community colleges in Florida at a marvelous seafood dinner donated by trustee George Michael. Outside he was laughing, and he played his part so well that most of the guests went away without realizing that inside, there was no laughter at all. Just before the dinner, Dr. Eissey had been informed that the $4.9 million for our North Campus would be among the items vetoed by Governor Graham from the appropriations bill.

After the dinner, when the guests had left, Dr. Eissey called an impromptu meeting of staff members who were present, and then Dr. Eissey began the real work of the evening. Until 3 a.m. Thursday morning, and starting again at 7 a.m., every possible avenue to get before the governor or the members of his staff who were working on the possible budget cuts was utilized.

At first, all the news was bad, and understandably so. Unless you know that this appropriation is only the first step, but an indispensable first step, to the development of a real jewel in the crown of Florida's educational, recreational, cultural, commercial and industrial life, it would be a tempting item to veto. There was nothing to do but keep on trying, and by mid-day Thursday, the feedback became more positive. And the outcome -- a real reward for us, for the people of Palm Beach County, and indeed, for the people of Florida. After all the ups and downs, everything came up roses.

If even half of the present plans for that campus materialize, we will all be proud to be associated with it. We will have our money. We are going to build Phase I of the North Campus next year.

STAFF RECOGNITION LUNCHEON

Good food, enjoyable company and unusual entertainment added up to an enjoyable time for all at the Annual Staff Recognition Luncheon during which twenty-three employees were honored for their years of service to PBJC.

Left-Claude Edwards proves he is not the villain SPENP alleges him to be as he places a donation in the Birdsnest passed by SPENP members, while Marj Carroll and Dick Jones look on.

Below-Dr. Tony Tate and Dr. Harold Manor congratulate Sue Frazier for twenty years of service.

NOT REALLY ALL THAT BAD

In case you might be thinking that our increase in student fees to $15 per credit hour is raising the cost of education at PBJC to exorbitant heights, take a look at the long paragraph below, excerpted from an article by Edward B. Fiske in the New York Times of 5/21. "The total cost for a year at the most expensive and prestigious colleges and universities will surpass $9,000 for the first time next fall, according to the college scholarship service of the College Entrance Examination Board. In its annual survey of the costs of higher education, the organization estimated that average expenses for residential students at private four-year colleges would be $5,526, or 10.6 percent above those of the current academic year. At public four-year colleges the estimated costs will be $3,258, a rise of 8.5 percent. The report stated that total expenses at any type of college would be about $750 higher for resident students than for those who commute from home. Total costs for commuters at private four-year colleges will be about $4,977, an increase of 15.8 percent over the current level."

SPECIAL BOARD MEETING

With funding information finally in hand, the college will begin salary and other economic discussions and decisions at two separate meetings tomorrow.

At 9 a.m., in Conference Room B of the Administration Building, Dr. Eissey will ask the college trustees, at a special meeting, to adopt the findings of the Cody Report as a guide to salary adjustments for non-bargaining unit personnel.

Also on the agenda of that meeting will be a proposal to implement the recent legislative action which would allow an increase in student fees. Instead of recommending the allowable $2 per credit hour, Dr. Eissey will recommend half that amount. The basic per credit hour fee of $14 would be raised to $15 beginning in the Fall Term. A third item on the agenda involves final inspection of the new Allied Health Building.

The second meeting will be a collective bargaining meeting at 3 p.m. in the County Recreation Office south of the PBJC Central Campus. Members of the college bargaining team will be prepared to discuss salaries and other economic items.

The college has been waiting since the end of the legislative session for information from Tallahassee regarding funding. This arrived last week, but the meetings could not be set until the 17th.

THE PERAMBULATING DUNCANS

If you are reading this on July 16, you will be reading it on the day Watson B. Duncan, III, and Honey, his wife, are checking in at the Post House, Sandiacre, Nottingham, Nottinghamshire, England.

Duncan will just have completed a week at one of his favorite places on earth, Stratford-upon-Avon, where he was a guest lecturer at the Shakespeare Institute. He talked on "Shakespeare in the Junior Colleges of America," and who would know more about that subject than Duncan?

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PBJC travelers will be happy to know that effective 7/1/79 Florida Statute 112.061 (6) has been amended from $35.00 per day to allow up to $40.00 per day per diem and makes the following meal allowance increases:

BLUE KEY AWARDS

Two Palm Beach Junior College students from West Palm Beach have been selected for the Florida Blue Key Leadership Awards, according to Robert Q. Marston, President of the University of Florida.

They are Susan Green and Steven R. Spangler, both active members of the Delta Omicron chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the National two-year college honorary fraternity.

SEND IT IN, FOLKS!

The Monday report is interested in what you are doing, and we would like to inform others at PBJC of your activities. If you, like the Duncans, are on an interesting trip this summer, if you are completing degree requirements, attending an unusual educational meeting, or giving talks or lectures in unusual settings, let us know. Send information to Dr. Erling's Office, PBJC Central.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

MORE ABOUT SALARIES

Dr. Eissey has released additional information about the salary plan he will present to the trustees tomorrow morning covering non-unit, full-time employees, just in time to be added to this Monday Report. It is not a simple plan, and you may not be able to figure immediately, exactly to the penny, what kind of raise you will be getting as an individual. But there are some guidelines, outlined below, that may give you a realistic idea. BEST OF ALL, IF DR. EISSEY'S RECOMMENDATIONS ARE ADOPTED BY THE BOARD, YOU WON'T HAVE LONG TO WAIT TO FIND OUT -- YOUR PAYCHECK OF JULY 19 WILL REFLECT THE RAISE. Remember, what is said here applies to non-unit, full-time employees.

The easiest, and probably best way to explain Dr. Eissey's plan is to say that it is a five percent raise across the board, plus increments if you were eligible and recommended by your supervisor, plus reclassifications where recommended by the Cody Report.

The five percent is a true salary increase -- not a one-time payment, or bonus. This is the second five percent increase since Dr. Eissey became president, and is evidence that his commitment to better salaries for all is as strong as ever. All non-unit, full-time employees with the exception of Dr. Eissey, himself, will be recommended for the five percent raise. Again this year, Dr. Eissey will make no recommendation as to his own salary.

Some employees will be getting more than five percent. If you were recommended for an annual merit increment this year, you will get that plus the five percent raise. Since these scheduled, incremental raises vary slightly in percentage, you would need to know your individual salary schedule to figure this out in exact detail.

Some employees will get the five percent, plus an increment, plus an adjustment recommended by the Cody Report. Others will get the five percent, plus a Cody Report Adjustment, but not an increment. It is in the area of Cody Report adjustments that the task of informing you through the Monday Report about your own individual raise becomes impossible. The Personnel Office will notify you of your new salary within the next several weeks.

ABOUT THE CODY REPORT. Cody and Associates were hired by the Board to make an independent study of our situation in regard to salaries of all college personnel when it became obvious that we faced serious problems in certain areas. Cody and Associates are experienced in such salary studies, and have data already on hand regarding salaries in other similar institutions. In addition, they conducted wage and salary studies in the local area, interviewed supervisory personnel to update job requirements, and became thoroughly familiar with our present salary schedules and with recommendations for adjustments made by supervisors during budget studies.

The Cody Report recommended adjustments in certain individual positions, and also recommended a general increase if this were financially possible for the college. Except for one or two instances of downward adjustments recommended by the firm, Dr. Eissey plans to recommend adoption of all its provisions.

Overall, for the college as a whole, the total of all of these adjustments will equal the full seven percent increase, the maximum allowed by the State Department of Education as detailed in the guidelines from President Carter.

The task facing Dr. Eissey and his staff in getting together a recommendation on salaries was a formidable one. They, by necessity, had to stay in the limit set by the President ---- and increments, plus the Cody Report adjustments must also be included within the seven percent limitation.

There are some individual salaries which will go up substantially on a percentage basis. It is well to remember that in these cases an independent study has confirmed that those positions were being underpaid in relation to similar positions covered in the study.

Funding information was received by the college late in the day on Monday, July 2. If Dr. Eissey's plan is adopted, and raises are in the paychecks of July 19, this speaks well for the efficiency of the entire operation.

"I am truly happy that we have been able to recommend these increases," Dr. Eissey said. "I would be even happier if there were any way we could have done even more.

"I am proud of our staff, and of the way they are cooperating in the many new steps we are trying to implement. If it were not for that cooperation, the salary recommendations would not have been possible.

"We are moving ahead, step by step, to that place somewhere down the road, where we will be a leader in Florida among community colleges in the area of salaries.

"The steps may not be as fast as you would like, or I would like, but the direction is set, and the priority is fixed, and we will get there."

MEETING NO. 2

SALARY INCREASE OFFERED

A pay raise package similar to that granted non-unit, full-time employees at the trustees meeting on Tuesday morning was offered to teachers, librarians and counselors at a collective bargaining meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The college offered a five percent across-the board increase, plus increments in accordance with contract provisions, plus a Cody Report recommendation that the maximum range for the rank of instructor be increased an additional seven percent.

The increases will be effective at the time an agreement is ratified by unit members and will not be retroactive, according to the written offer presented at the meeting.

A number of questions were asked about details of the plan. Some were answered immediately and others required data not available at the meeting. (Cont. on page 2)

TRUSTEES APPROVE SALARY INCREASES

All non-unit, full-time employees will receive a five percent increase in salary effective immediately as a result of action at a special board of trustees meeting last Tuesday morning. Those eligible and recommended by supervisors for increments will also receive their increment, and a number of employees will also receive adjustments based on recommendations of the Cody Report.

In short, the board approved the pay package plan proposed by Dr. Eissey as outlined in the special page attached to last week's Monday Report.

The board also approved a $1 per credit hour increase in fees, effective in the Fall Term. This item was on first reading, with the second reading scheduled for the regular board meeting, July 25.

Final inspection of the new Allied Health Building was authorized, and held immediately following the board meeting. The official result of the inspection will be received by mail, according to Tony Tate, who said that there is a lengthy check list of items left to be accomplished before final payment will be made, and the building ready for occupancy. Use at the beginning of the Fall Term is still scheduled.

Explaining his action in recommending the $1 increase, rather than the $2 allowed through action of the legislature, Dr. Eissey said the college is aware of the financial difficulties facing everyone through inflation, the increase in the cost of gasoline and other factors, that we are truly interested in our students, and will increase tuition only when it is absolutely necessary.

Dr. Eissey said that the overall cost of the pay plan granted non-unit full-time employees by the board and the plan offered to the union will be seven percent higher than last year -- the maximum increase allowed under the president's guidelines.

Union representatives did not comment on the pay plan during the meeting, but said they would react at the next meeting after studying the offer.

GRANT SUBMITTED

A grant has been submitted to the Palm Beach County Employment and Training Administration for $61,235.00. The proposal title is: "Assessment of Educational Training Needs of Palm Beach County Business, Industry, Government and Human Resources."

A committee composed of Dr. R. Kay (Chairman), Dean Whitmer, Dean Harvey, Dean Moss, and Mr. Kelly wrote the grant. The project director is Dean Whitmer.

WELCOME, KATHY

The newest member of the PBJC Community is Kathy Aiello, Program Specialist, who will head the Women's Center for the Department of Continuing Education. Kathy is familiar to Palm Beach Junior College, having taught English and education courses part-time at the North Campus. She also was an administrative intern at the North Campus in the summer of 1977.

She comes to us from the Palm Beach County School System where she taught and coached the drill team for five years at Twin Lakes High School. She lives in West Palm Beach with her husband, Eugene. They have just returned from a trip to the mountains and she's anxious to be here and continue the development of the Women's Center.

The Women's Center was approved by the Board and is funded under Title I, Higher Education Act of 1965. Basically, the Women's Center is designed to provide assistance in the following areas: (a) Information and Referral Service; (b) Educational Services; (c) Career Counseling and Life Planning Services.

Kathy will be happy to meet any of you at AD-6, or wherever Continuing Education offices are located.

WEEKEND COLLEGE

It has been some time since the Monday Report gave an update on the Weekend College, but there has been much activity in planning stages, and there are now some firm facts to report. Plans have not always gone as the administration had hoped, but they are progressing.

A list of 27 course offerings has been selected, 18 on Saturday morning and nine on Saturday afternoon. Class meetings begin on September 8, and it has been determined that registration is now open and will be accepted until the time of the first class meeting.

Dr. Eisey assigned Dr. Erling the task of arranging for a Weekend College registration to be held at a number of Malls throughout the county. Plans for this special day of registration on Saturday, August 18, are nearly complete, and a two-page check-list of items prepared by Dr. Erling on July 11 has now been all checked off except for one item -- arranging with the media for a press conference on August 7 to kick off publicity about the Weekend College and to explain about our special registration day.

We will be registering at six different malls on August 18: Boca Raton Mall, Delray Mall, Palm Beach Mall, Palm Coast Plaza, Royal's Plaza (Belle Glade), and the Twin City Mall. If you are shopping on those days, I'm sure those registering would welcome a familiar face. They might even have a volunteer job for you. It is with considerable regret that the administration must announce that it will not be possible for the full-time faculty to teach in the Weekend College, since agreement could not be reached with the United Faculty.

"From the very beginning, we have attempted to include the full-time faculty in plans for the Weekend College," Dr. Eisey said, "We have had a proposal on the bargaining table since last March.

"When time ran out, and we had to make decisions about who would be teaching these courses in the Fall Term, we made it clear to the union that if we had to proceed without the full-time faculty we would do so. Since we could not reach agreement, we must now proceed to staff with teachers from the administration and from part-time instructors."

Dr. Eissey said that he had hoped that the Weekend College would be a way the full-time faculty could supplement their income on a purely voluntary basis, but that this opportunity will now be lost for the Fall Term.

The college offer included pay scales of $12 to $16 per hour depending on rank and Dr. Eissey pointed out that a teacher could earn from $36 to $48 per hour Saturday morning and the same amount Saturday afternoon if scheduled for two classes.

"I regret very much the necessity of proceeding without the full-time faculty," Dr. Eissey said, "but we have run out of time, and must find other highly qualified teachers."

TRUSTEES

The Palm Beach Junior College trustees held their annual reorganization meeting Wednesday night. Dr. Philip Lichtblau was elected to another term as chairman, and George Michael to another term as vice chairman.

Date, time and place of regular meetings remained the same, the third Wednesday of each month, 7:30 p.m., in the Foodservice Center.

The board approved all suggested policy changes, including a $1 per credit hour increase in student fees to be effective in the fall term.

An emergency item on the agenda involved the reaction of the board to a plan to locate 50 units of subsidized housing immediately across SR 715 from the entrance to the Glades Campus.

Dr. Eissey asked for reactions from Dr. Conley, PBJC Glades Provost, and Mrs. Hand, trustee from the Glades. Both opposed the move.

Dr. Conley said traffic congestion from two-laned SR 715 into the college was already a problem with the Glades 1,200 students last year. He said that problem will grow worse when the new auditorium is finished by some 300 or 400 more automobiles.

"To place a high density project immediately across from the college would surely create a real traffic jam," Dr. Conley said.

He also said PBJC Glades has so far escaped vandalism, and he was afraid the close proximity of the project would cause policing problems, especially since the location is outside the city limits of Belle Glade.

The HUD project included an alternate site -- eight acres near the center of Belle Glade. Both Dr. Conley and Mrs. Hand felt the alternate site would be better for all concerned.

The board authorized Dr. Eissey to draft a reply for them opposing the location of the project on SR 715.

In other actions the board:

* Received notice that the Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Heart Association will again fund a nursing position for coronary care education. (Cont. on page 3)

- * Noted an HEW Grant for $15,142 for Veterans Cost of Instruction program to continue PBJC's veterans office.
- * Changed titles from Rank 1, 2 and 3 to Doctorate, Master's Degree and Bachelor's Degree in the Part-Time/Temporary Instruction Salary Schedule since the state no longer requires certification.
- * Amended the Administrative Supervisory and Confidential Salary Schedule to allow additional payment when a person is acting in a higher ranking position for more than three months.
- * Created a new position of Job Development Specialist for Minority/Handicapped Students, to be funded in the Cooperative Education grant.
- * Allowed purchase of a Media System to be utilized in Business Education from a sole source item without bid.

PRINT SHOP

The Print Shop has been moved from its location on the second floor of the old administration building, AD-20, to the first floor of the Tech Building, Tech 1 and 2, where the nursing classrooms used to be.

The new quarters solved a persistent problem of noise in the offices below the old location, and provide room for expansion when it becomes possible to purchase much-needed new equipment.

A recent annual analysis showed the print shop had printed over 2,250,000 sheets last year, a far higher rate of production than in any previous year. At this rate of production, time lost through the move, and through some unrelated difficulties, have placed an unusual burden on shop personnel between now and the opening of the Fall Term. A recent compilation showed jobs involving more than a quarter of a million impressions are in the shop or will be this week -- all high priority items needed before the opening of the term.

It is requested that any items not urgently needed before the term begins be postponed until after that date. We will manage in some way to honor all present commitments, but work about which we have not been informed must have a very high level of need to break into the lineup....Jonathan Koontz

WHERE WE ARE HEADING

A recent study of Postsecondary Education in the Mid-80's conducted by the Southern Regional Education Board comes to some conclusions you might find interesting. The full report summary is available in Dr. Erling's office, if you are interested. The summary:

- * Total enrollment is slowing and may be expected to begin a decline through the mid-80's.
- * The decline will deepen as full-time students tend to be replaced by students who study part-time.
- * Students older than 24 years of age and women will continue to increase as a share of enrollment.
- * The growth of part-time study will continue largely because older students, and especially older women students, are less likely to attend full-time.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

New signs have been donated to the college by the First American Bank of the Palm Beaches, and erected at the South Entrance to Central campus, off Manor Drive, and at the north entrance to the campus, off Leonard Drive. Eventually, these signs will be lit at night, so that evening students can keep up with important happenings on campus. Dr. Eissey has assigned responsibility of placing messages on the signs to Bob Moss. Regulations to prohibit frivolous use of the signs will be developed.

Increasing Air Fares - We have an indication that air fares are going to increase as much as 20% this year. If travel tickets are purchased prior to the fare increase, even though the travel is to occur after the increase, we will not have to pay the fare increase. Therefore, if you have meetings scheduled which involve air travel and know the dates, meeting place, etc., I would like to suggest that your leave form and your travel ticket request be submitted as soon as possible to enable the tickets to be purchased at the current fare.....Tate

Although Florida Statute 112.060(6) became effective 7/1/79 raising the per diem from $35 to $40 per day, increasing the meal allowances and the mileage allowance from 14¢ to 17¢ per mile, a policy had to be adopted by our Board before we can pay the new rates. This item was approved at the July 25 Board of Trustees Meeting. These new rates became effective with travel starting on July 26, 1979....Tate

NO BARGAINING AGREEMENT

A last minute effort by the administration to produce an overall agreement in time to utilize full-time teachers in the Weekend College was spurned by union representatives Monday afternoon, virtually ending any possibility of full-time faculty involvement in this major college project in the Fall Term.

The college added the following to the pay package already proposed:

1. Increments. A 7 percent increase in the amount of all increments, except for the Instructor's rank, which has a 16 percent increase.
2. Compensation for instruction in non-credit courses up 15 percent -- from $12 - $16 per hour to $14 - $18.
3. Overload pay increase of about 15 percent, from $12 - $16 per hour to $14 - $18. This provision would raise pay for Weekend classes by $2 per hour.
4. An increase in Replacement/Substitute pay from $12.60 per hour to $13.50 per hour, an increase of 7 percent.

The complete text of the latest college offer is reproduced on page 4 of the Monday Report.

The latest college offer was in addition to the previous offer of 5 percent across the board, plus increments, plus an adjustment at the instructor's rank recommended by the Cody Report. A similar raise is already in effect for non-unit full-time college employees.

The union had previously turned down that offer, citing figures ranging from $18,000 to $25,000 less than 7 percent they believed the offer represented as the chief complaint. Their counter-offer was 7 percent plus increments.

Introducing the latest college offer to meet the Union's recommendations, chief college negotiator, Jesse Hogg, said the administrative bargaining team had evaluated union arguments, and were hopeful the new college offer would produce agreement. He said the new plan would budget monies to meet the amount of money mentioned by the union.

"This is a genuine effort to resolve our differences," Hogg said.

Union negotiators said the new offer was a step in the right direction, but declined to change their counter offer of 7 per cent plus increments.

"We are very disappointed," Hogg said, "we have really tried to work out something that will bridge our differences."

An effort to obtain a special agreement on the Weekend College also failed when the union insisted that overload pay for the Weekend College be paid in the term in which it is earned. Arrangements are proceeding to hire qualified part-time teachers for the Weekend College.

Although the college has insisted that any pay settlement with the union will not be retroactive, the union declined to set a date for the next meeting, due to vacations for members of their negotiating team. Faculty members on 180-day contracts report on August 13 and those on 196-day contracts on August 20. Twelve-month faculty are, of course, already on duty.

"It concerns me that librarians, counselors, and faculty are losing money daily because of the lack of acceptance of our offer," Dr. Eissey said.

"It seems that the monies lost through delay might well grow to the point where they exceed what is being demanded."

GOOD GOING, OTTIS!!

Dr. Ottis Smith, appointed last month to replace retiring Bob D'Angio as Dean of Instruction and Student Personnel at PBJC North, has hit the ground running in his new position.

Ottis, already fully versed with the demands on the chief administrative officer for PBJC North through his close association with Bob, has already found a way to get out an effective mailing piece to 16,000 people in north county at a cost of only 1.5 cents per person, by including the mailing in the monthly statement of the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association of Riviera Beach. (Cont. on page 3)

PRE-REGISTRATION GOING WELL

The pre-registration periods are going well when compared with last year, indicating a much larger number of students already registered for the Fall Term near the end of July than ever before. Last year was our previous best.

A computer printout of July 26 showed a total of 4,437 registered students. A printout of July 29, 1978, showed 3,697.

Although the Central Campus gained 96 over a year ago, the major gains in pre-registration were at South and North, with South gaining 340 and North 274. Glades was 20 less than a year ago.

It should be noted that these figures may not be any indication at all of the ultimate registration in the Fall Term. They may simply indicate better methods of getting our students registered early.

As might be expected, the trend toward more part-time students continues to be indicated in this early tally, although the 1,905 full-time credit students was 211 higher than the previous year. There were 75 already registered for non-credit courses as compared to 31 a year ago. This is a small indication of our greatly increased activity in Continuing Education.

ED, BUT NO TUESDAY WITH!

Tuesday with Ed is not scheduled for August 7 because the faculty will not have returned to campus.

TWO FACULTY MEETINGS

Faculty with 180 day contracts and 12-month faculty will be welcomed back to the campus with coffee and danish at a general faculty meeting 8:30 p.m., August 13 at the Food-service Center. Exactly a week later there will be a repeat for the 196-day faculty.

Very little in the way of a formal program has been developed for the meetings, but Dr. Eissey will talk about some of the developments since the close of the last academic year and plans for the upcoming year. Charles Graham will give information regarding registration procedures.

Counting department chairmen and other administrators, approximately 125 persons are expected for each meeting.

Also, as luck would have it, Pratt and Whitney Aircraft has appointed a new officer in charge of in-service training and education, Dr. Ira Weinberg, and Ottis was able to make a potentially valuable connection, (for both P & W and PBJC), during Dr. Weinberg's first week in his new position.

Ottis came to PBJC in 1970 as a guidance counselor, and has been at PBJC North as a counselor/professor since 1974.

LIKEWISE, JOE!!

There is usually some difficulty in transition when a department chairman is changed, but everything appears to be going smoothly at the Law Enforcement Department as Joseph Macy takes over for retiring Larry Tuttle.

Summer is not a slack time in the Criminal Justice Institute, but Joe, who was Assistant Department Chairman, has been with the college full time for ten years, and has had plenty of time to learn all the ropes.

PACERS -- NO. 1??

As this is written, our Lady Pacers are in first place after the first round of the National Junior College Athletic Association's Women's Golf Tournament at Midlands, Texas.

Our Paula Slivinsky shot a red-hot two-under par 70 to lead everybody else by five strokes, accounting for most of the seven stroke margin the Pacers held over Dade North.

June Staton was in at 79, in sixth place overall, Colleen Binkiewicz was eighth at 80, and Barbara Bunkowsky is tied for ninth at 82.

1979-80 BUDGET ...AND TELEPHONES, TOO

Two items were passed by the college trustees at a special meeting Tuesday night, and both are of unusual interest to those of us who work at the college: the 1979-80 budget, and a new telephone system.

The budget is 5.3 per cent above last year's, topping the $10 million mark in the general current fund for the first time.

It is based on estimates of what will be provided by the legislature and on student enrollment. It contains no provision for raises other than the merit increases where they have been earned.

Dr. Eisey explained that if the legislature provides more funds than have been estimated in the budget, the administration will make later recommendations for use of those additional funds.

The personnel portion of the budget was up 5.6 per cent and the equipment budget was down 26.3 per cent.

Total available for expenditure was $10,332,243, and almost the entire amount, $10,314,349 was budgeted for possible expenditure.

Revenue comes largely from the state, 68 per cent, and student fees, 29 per cent, with all other sources at 3 per cent.

Expenditures were 77 per cent for personnel, 20 per cent for current expenses, and 3 per cent for equipment.

In addition to the general operating funds, the board also approved the plant fund budget, which showed a total available of $2,930,638.22, and planned expenditures of $2,638,613.09.

WE REALLY ARE NO. 1!!

The last time we talked to you about the Lady Pacers, they were on the verge of becoming the official No. 1 junior college golf team in the nation, with a whopping 35 stroke margin on second place Miami-Dade North and just one more round to go. It was a pretty sure bet that they would at least hang in there well enough to win, with that many strokes to work on.

In case you haven't heard, coach Debbie Ruday's girls not only won, they won going away, by a fantastic 50 stroke margin.

"It was the first time all year that we really played up to our full capability," Debbie said.

Paula Slivinsky, who was usually No. 3 in the Pacer line-up, followed a super 70 on the first nine with a steady 78, and then closed like the national individual champion she had just become with a 73.

She was 13 strokes better than her nearest competitor, our own June Staton, with 79-76-79 -- 234. Barbara Bunkowsky, with 82-78-77 -- 238, was just one stroke back, sixth place. Our composite score was 930. Dade North's second best was 980.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME...

(Subtitle: The Seasons)

Beginning in 1980, the name of Spring Term I and Spring Term II at Palm Beach Junior College will be changed. Only the names will change -- not the concepts, the calendar dates, or anything else -- only the names.

The change for Spring I is minimal. All we will do is to drop the "I," so that we will refer to it as the Spring Term. But Spring II gets changed altogether. Henceforth, not this year, but next, we will say the Summer Term.

That will make our terms a neat, and logical, Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer -- just like the seasons.

As do all changes which have become engrained in books, manuals, catalogs, forms, and other kinds of written words, this change will probably produce a magnificent upheaval for a few months while we get everything straightened out. But the result will be worth it.

Many people in the community will stop waiting out our spring terms, expecting to enroll in our summer term. And it is not beyond the realm of possibility that a very few people might realize that our Fall Term begins in August instead of September, if we tell them that our Summer Term is over in July.

It is possible that there are some legal technicalities which must be crossed before this is fully accomplished, but it is the intention of the administration to change the names as of next year, and, so far, absolutely no serious objections have surfaced...JK

A NOTE OF EXPLANATION

All members of the college community should realize that a budget is a planning document. In our case, because of deadlines we had to meet -- the budget had to be in Tallahassee by June 1 -- we had to prepare this large and intricate document before we had a clear indication of how much money the college would receive from the State.

This means that the budget adopted May 29 by the Board of Trustees will be amended after passage of the appropriations bill gives us a clearer idea of what our income might be. That series of amendments, (and we all hope it will be adding to the estimates of money to be made available, not subtracting), will not be the last -- amendments will keep coming throughout the life of the budget, as adjustments are made to match our guesses of today with the reality of tomorrow.

A budget must be sound. A series of errors could lead to a great deal of human suffering, as reported in an article in the Pensacola Journal reprinted on page six of today's Monday Report. We certainly do not wish to go through such an experience here.

The budget just passed at PBJC was lean almost to the point of emaciation. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of badly needed equipment had to be left out in order to find the money needed to continue all salaries at their present level, plus earned increases.

Better salaries for all has been the number one priority of Dr. Eissey's administration from its beginning. That has not changed. It is possible, even probable, that after the actions of the legislature become clear as far as junior college funding is concerned, and after we have been informed from the state level what this will mean to Palm Beach Junior College, some upward adjustment of salaries will be made in the next fiscal year. Until we know more clearly how much money we will have for operation, speculation on this is not only useless, it is counter productive.

In the nine months Dr. Eissey has been in office, a number of minor miracles have occurred. Now, with the passage of the ad valorem tax bill and the inclusion of the north campus in the appropriations act, a couple of major miracles appear to be near. It is his avowed goal to bring the salary level of all employees at the college, not just one segment, into the top rank of all colleges in Florida.

If all of us in the college community become and continue to be hard-working, enthusiastic members of the team, supporting all efforts to increase revenue and eliminate unnecessary expenditure, there is no doubt that he will succeed in reaching his objective.

In the meantime, there should be considerable relief in knowing that, barring some real calamity in state funding or student receipts, it will not be necessary to release even one person next year because of insufficient funds...Jonathan Koontz, after consultation with Dr. Eissey

Slivinsky and Staton were first team All American, Bunkowsky second team, and Bienkiewicz honorable mention. Debbie, in her first year of coaching, was named Coach of the Year.

Although other PBJC teams have placed well in national events, the Lady Pacers are the first team to come through with a national championship. They brought home a beautiful trophy, which will go on display in the gym. The first -- with more to come.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

It is supposed to be foolhardy to count your chickens before they are fully hatched, but the temptation is too great. It does look like, with more than a little help from our friends in the legislature, Palm Beach Junior College will score well on all except one issue in the current legislative session.

The higher Senate figure of $220 million is in the final appropriations bill, and our North Campus is approved for $4.9 million. Both the appropriations bill and our ad valorem tax bill have gone to the governor.

The matching funds for our swimming pool do not appear in the appropriations bill as it now stands. Dr. Eissey, who does not know how to stop trying, is already busy looking for some other source for those matching funds, before the county commission withdraws its offer.

Hard and effective work by the President's Council, including Dr. Eissey's critical week in Tallahassee, and a good job of lobbying by the FACC were factors in getting the junior college story before the legislators. But it is, in the end, the legislators themselves who are chiefly responsible. We really should go out of our way to let them know we appreciate a job well done.

EXEMPLARY PRACTICE AWARD

Palm Beach Junior College and counselor Frank J. McLaughlin, received an Exemplary Practice Award at a recent conference of the Student Development Commission of the Florida Association of Community Colleges for two innovative programs at the college.

The two programs, Dual Enrollment, Early Admission, were originated by Dr. Eissey in 1971-72 when he was principal of Palm Beach Gardens High School, and McLaughlin administers the programs.

Dual enrollment permits high school seniors, with written permission from their principals, enroll dually at PBJC and their high school.

With Early Admission, high school seniors may attend PBJC instead of their senior year at high school, but they must qualify by presenting scores of the 90th percentile in either the College Boards or the American College Tests.

PJC Cuts 106 Staff Positions

By FRANK TAYLOR
Journal Staff Writer

Pensacola Junior College announced Friday the elimination of 106 full-time positions at the college.

Supervisors will give termination notices to 56 employees Monday in an across-the-board reduction of 14 percent of the college staff.

Another 50 employees have already advised the college of their intention to retire or resign this year.

The college will terminate the positions of 24 classified employees within one to two weeks, according to a PJC spokesman. Four administrators, four support staff and 24 instructors will leave at the termination of their present contracts.

Except in the case of administrators, the cutback will affect exclusively employees hired within the last three years, according to William Moore, executive vice president of the college.

"This technique is more accepted by the majority of people at the college," he said. Moore said he asked representatives of the faculty and classified employees Friday if they suggested any changes in the method for deleting positions and received no comment.

"The employees have sanctioned these guidelines," he said.

Moore said the criteria for deleting positions and services was to determine which of them "could be discontinued with little or no direct impact on the classroom." However, the percentage reduction in force was applied equally to all employment categories. Of the total number of positions lost, 43, or 41 percent, were of instructional staff.

Asked if the firings would affect many blacks, Moore responded, "You better believe it."

He said many blacks employed under the college's affirmative action plan, would be released, but he did not know the exact number.

"Whatever adverse affect it has on minorities, we'll have to reverse it in the plan for 1980-81," he said. "We won't get back to our employment level now, but we expect some growth."

Moore said the list of employees to be cut has already been made.

"Supervisors will talk Monday with the individuals affected to notify them they will not be here next year," he said. "They will also indicate the forms of assistance we can give in obtaining other employment."

"If the professional people give us a copy of their curriculum vitae, we will distribute it to all the junior colleges in the state and throughout the country," he said.

Asked the cost of this assistance, Moore said it was "not too expensive in terms of helping those who had no fault in the situation."

He said the personnel officer of the college would help classified employees being dismissed who are from the Pensacola area find work with local firms.

The lay-offs are expected to save the college $1.25 million in personnel costs and help the college recoup a deficit of $1.6 million from last year. T. Felton Harrison, president of PJC, told the college's faculty Feb. 22 of the budget problems but said he thought attrition would make lay-offs unnecessary.

Each personnel category will be reduced by an average of 14 percent. There will be an overall reduction of six administrators, 43 instructors, seven support staff and 50 classified workers.

The college's anticipated revenue for fiscal year 1980 is $16,250,000, according to Moore. However, expenditures are projected at $14,650,000 in order to eliminate the $1.6 million deficit.

Personnel costs for the year are estimated at $11,808,750, 81 percent of total expenditures.

Moore said he was "confident" no further layoffs would be necessary for next year. However, he said the administration would only be able to determine the need for more dismissals "after taking the list of remaining individuals, accumulating their salaries, and verifying that we have in fact met the goal set for our budget next year."

"I fully anticipate what we have identified will be 99 percent on line," he said.

PBJC trustees will be asked to approve the administration's waiver of tuition plan at the regular June meeting of the board, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., at the Foodservice Center.

As reported in the Monday Report, and in individual letters to all personnel, Dr. Eissey will recommend allowing tuition waivers for one course per term for employees, and an unlimited number for employees' spouses and children on a "space available" basis.

The policy to go before the board is exactly the same as the one you received in the mail.

The board will also be asked to approve the changing of the names of our Spring Term I and II to the Spring Term, and the Summer Term.

Prior to the business part of the meeting, the large trophy won by the Lady Pacers as the National Junior College Athletic Association's Women Golf Champions will be presented.

FIGURING FOR YOURSELF

HOW MUCH MONEY WILL PBJC GET?

So you've been reading that Community Colleges got $192 million last year and will get almost $221 million this year and $239 million next year -- and you've got the urge to figure out what kind of a percentage jump in state funding PBJC will get next year. Take our advice. Don't.

It looks like the simplest thing in the world. Get out the calculator, or the pencil and paper and figure percentages -- apply them to last year's PBJC Budget, and there you are --- Ha!

If you do that, you come up with a 14.9 per cent gain this year and an additional 8.2 per cent gain the year following. Would that it were that simple. Indeed, would that it were so.

In the first place, you must take into account how much additional education will be demanded for the additional money. It is true that $2.21 is more money than $1.92 -- but it is not a true increase if it is demanded that you buy more goods with the $2.21 than the $1.92.

In the second place, there is the effect of the general rate of inflation on everything the college buys. All of us know very well how that affects a family budget, and the college is no different.

In the third, fourth, fifth, sixth place and on into infinity the dispensing of funds by the Division of Community Colleges involves such a complex set of equations that some colleges will wind up with a much higher percentage increase than others, and nobody knows before it is done whether we will be higher or lower. Until those calculations are made and announced, (usually a matter of a couple of weeks), it is anybody's guess as to the effect of the appropriations bill on our budget.

addendum to the contract of Peacock and Lewis for architectural services in connection with the North Campus -- changing the dollar estimate on Phase I to $5 million and increasing the contract to include seven buildings and site development, valued at $15,318,409.

Another happy note -- the board will receive notification of the Grant Award of $58,758 from HEW for our Cooperative Education program, outlined to you in the Monday Report a few issues back.

We can say, of course, that the dollar amount will be higher -- it had better be, because the stand-pat budget we have already passed has a considerable increase in state funding already built in. Beyond that we cannot say much. It is the universal advice of all dealing with budgetary matters to do very little speculation, and be patient.

More than 20 years ago, as a reporter for the Post-Times, I made the mistake of asking Dr. Manor for a simple explanation of the state funding formula. He looked at me and stated in emphatic terms that I had asked for an impossible thing. "You can't explain anything as complex as that in simple terms," he declared, "but if you want to listen, I'll be happy to explain it."

Somewhat cocksure of my ability to absorb any information, (some reporters are like that), I nodded my head and he started. Two hours later, brainwashed, dazed and exhausted, and still unable to make a coherent, simple statement about the process that he did not quickly qualify, I beat a hasty, and somewhat ignoble retreat. Folks, I don't think it's one bit simpler today. JK.

Palm Beach Junior College is proud to be the host for the Presidents Council, an organization of the presidents of all 28 community colleges in Florida, Wednesday through Friday of this week.

Business meetings of the council will be held at the Holiday Inn on the ocean, and a number of social activities have been planned for off-duty hours.

In addition to the presidents, a number of representatives from state universities, and from the Division of Community Colleges of the State Department of Education will be in attendance. A number of people in the college community have volunteered to assist in entertaining the presidents.

ANNUAL LUNCHEON

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEES RECOGNITION

Twenty-three Palm Beach Junior College classified employees will be honored for their years of service to PBJC at the third annual Classified Employees Recognition Luncheon to be held Wednesday, June 27 at noon, according to Nancy Buhl, luncheon chairman.

Of that number, two, Sue Frazier, of the Registrar's Office, and Sonia Mattson, of the Finance Office, will receive the coveted 20-year awards, PBJC emblems with a diamond chip.

One, Bill Dunn, of the Physical Plant, will receive the 15-year award, with an emerald chip.

Ten employees will be presented with ten-year (ruby chip) awards, and ten will be awarded plain gold emblems for five years of service.

Employees scheduled to receive awards for perfect attendance for the past year include: Edward Cassidy and Robert McConnell, Physical Plant; Edna Hardy, Library; and Solomon Jackson, Denise Shepherd, and James Wilkerson, Data Processing.

Retirees Wilma Weigel, with 19 years of service, and Henry Smith, with 15 years of service, will also be honored at the luncheon.

Names of PBJC employees and their years of service were published in the latest edition of the Staff News.

In addition to Mrs. Buhl, other members of the luncheon committees include: Judy Neumann, table decorations; Carolyn Copeland, technical equipment; Mary Tingler, entertainment; Diane Lester, Ruth Lafferty, and Loraine Kent, program; Dianne Miller, invitations; Joseph Schneider and Ardease Johnson, advisory.

Members of the PBJC Board of Trustees, Dr. Harold C. Manor, President Emeritus, other retired employees, supervisory and professional personnel have been invited to the event. Dr. Edward M. Eissey, PBJC President, and Dr. G. Tony Tate, Vice President for Business Affairs, will present the awards.

Entertainment is still in the planning stages, but should prove interesting, Mary says.

Bob Spak, Cafeteria Manager, is supervising the food for the luncheon. The menu is as follows: Baked ham, fried chicken, macaroni and cheese casserole, broccoli, string beans with bacon, tossed salad, salad trays and relish trays, and jello cake.

"Things will be done a little differently this year, and we hope everyone likes the change," Nancy says.

of Trustees, will host the seafood buffet. Claude Edwards, Director of the Physical Plant, will be host for some deep sea fishing. Florida Atlantic University will host a social hour.

"I want to thank everyone who has been working on this," Dr. Eissey said. "I know the visiting presidents are going to have a great time as a result of the team effort that has been going on."

NON-MEETING

Palm Beach Junior College Trustees had a non-meeting Wednesday when a quorum failed to arrive.

It had been known prior to the meeting that Dr. Philip Lichtblau and Mrs. Susann Anstead would be out of the area. Mrs. Hisetta Dyson had also been away and had thought she could be back in time, but apparently was delayed in her return.

George Michael, Vice Chairman, and Mrs. Homer Hand carried through with the parts of the agenda which did not require a vote.

Doris Gaunt presented the Board with a copy of a text book to be used in 18 southeastern states this fall, which was developed at PBJC this year.

Tom Mullins, Athletic Director, introduced Debbie Ruday, Women's Golf Coach, who presented the first place trophy won at the National Community College tournament this year.

Dr. Ottis Smith presented a plaque to Dr. Eissey from "the gang" at PBJC North. The plaque was to an "outstanding administrator - lobbyist," and was in recognition of Dr. Eissey's work in obtaining a $4.9 million appropriation for construction of the North Campus.

Dr. Eissey said he was "really touched" by the thought behind the plaque, and said he would accept it in behalf of all of the people in the college community who had worked on this project. "I'm like the quarterback on a football team," he said. "I call the signals, but it takes everybody doing their part to make the play go."

A previously scheduled workshop tonight at 7:30 p.m., in Conference Room B in the Administration Building, will now become a special board meeting to conduct the June business of the board. Regular business items will precede a board review of proposed revisions of the policy manual.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Bookstore will be closed both day and evening June 29 for inventory. Please have your students pick up supplies prior to this date. Thank you.....Ruth Brofft

Robert Cobb, vice president of the student government association at PBJC Central, spoke briefly, objecting to smaller cuts in the athletics portion of the student activity portion of the budget, than in other student activities.

Southern Bell representatives made a presentation explaining the study they have made of our telephone system.

The current system has no more room for growth, and service is not what it should be, according to the study.

Some features of the new plan:

All telephones on campus will be reachable from the outside by their own number through a system called Direct Inward Dialing. Relieved of switchboard duties to a large extent, the operators could be utilized in an information center.

All campuses will be a part of the new system, with internal lines similar to the single line now available to the Glades campus. Automatic records will be kept of long distance dialing. Other features would include automatic forwarding and call back.

After some discussion, the board gave permission for the administration to continue the development of the new system.

Altogether, the Pacers scored 311 to Miami Dade North's 318. The tournament goes through Thursday, and we hope that by the time you read this our Lady Pacers will be the national champions.

The Lady Pacers are working under a handicap -- they have only four players, whereas most of the teams carry five -- with the lowest four rounds counting in the score. This means that we cannot afford a really bad round from any player.

If they win the 54-hole Nationals with this handicap, it will certainly be an honor to the four girls, and to Debbie Ruday, our first-year coach.

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Zowie! Zocko! Wham! Our Lady Pacers have come about as close to winning the whole thing on the second day as you can come! Slavinsky shot a 78, increasing her individual lead to seven strokes, and look what the rest of the Pacers did: Staton, 76, (she is now in second place), Binkiewicz, 76, and Bunkowsky, 78.

All four of our girls are now in the top five in the tournament, and we lead second place Miami Dade North by a whopping 35 strokes, 619 to 654.

REPORT FROM TALLAHASSEE

Returning from Tallahassee last week, Dr. Eisey reported that stories about the hectic pace in the last days of a meeting of the Florida legislature are not exaggerated.

"You have to use every possible avenue you can to get your story before the senator or house member who is in the position of power at that moment," he said. "You catch them right after a meeting, on the way to a rest room, or, if you are lucky, you make a date for breakfast, before the day begins."

Dr. Eissey said that all of the three major PBJC items -- the swimming pool, the north campus, and the half mill referendum -- were still alive when he left Tallahassee.

"The house members of the conference committee all understand the importance of our swimming pool -- that this is our last chance," he says. "But the Senate members were much harder to convince that it is a real necessity."

Funding for the North Campus remains in both bills, but it is yet to be determined whether the Senate version -- much better for us than the house version -- will finally prevail.

The ad valorem tax bill appears to be on target for passage as an uncontested local bill.

In regard to the state funding for community colleges, Dr. Eissey said the House had agreed to an additional $6 million for community colleges, but only if the Senate would agree to add $14 million to their total educational package. As this is written, they are still negotiating.

A LOT OF WORK LEFT TO BE DONE

Occasionally, the critics of education begin to get to you, and you might begin to wonder if we are not already reaching all the people who should be getting a college education. Far from it.

An article in the May Community and Junior College Journal, (page 7), has some interesting statistics, if you ever feel that way.

It turns out that of the 119 million Americans 25 years of age and over, 25 million have not completed grade school, another 18 million have not completed high school.

At the other end of the scale, only 33 million have had any college education at all, and only 15 million are college graduates.

Another way of saying that is that 76 million do finish high school, and 61 million of that 76 million do not finish college. There is plenty of work left to be done.

A PAT ON THE BACK

Palm Beach Junior College students and graduates have earned higher grade point averages (GPA) in the Florida University System than the state-wide average, according to statistics in The Articulation, a publication of the Florida Department of Education.

"We're proud of our students, of our teachers, and of everyone who has worked to keep the quality of our education high," says Dr. Eissey.

"At a time when the quality of education at all levels is being questioned in Florida," he says, "it is heartening to note that our high standards are still being upheld."

Statistics in the publication show that PBJC students who transfer prior to 60 credit hours at the college, do better than the state average, but those who transfer after 60 hours at PBJC have even higher grade point averages.

For an example, in 1978 the 406 PBJC students who transferred to the state university system prior to earning 60

TRUSTEES VOTE FREE TUITION

Our trustees got together for a special meeting last Monday night, disposed of the regular business in a hurry, and spent considerable time and energy on a massive overhaul of board policy and administrative and personnel handbooks.

They passed, with obvious pleasure, the proposal to grant us the tuition waivers, exactly as outlined to you in the personal letter you have received from Dr. Eissey. They also agreed to the change in term names to Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer, beginning next year.

The overhaul was largely a matter of updating and editing to avoid duplication, and to make changes in minor administrative matters possible without going through the cumbersome procedures necessary to change a board policy.

A committee headed by Joe Schneider has been working on the revisions for some time, and the President's Staff went over every item before it was presented to the board. Except for some small changes, the board approved all revisions, and the overhaul now had its first reading.

If you are interested, you may examine a copy of all the proposed revisions in the Library.

WE TRIED, AND SOMETIME -- WE'LL TRY AGAIN

Although the legislature passed a law permitting Junior Colleges to continue insurance coverage for retired employees, with the retiree paying premiums, it appears that we at PBJC will not be able to increase the availability of insurance beyond the level we already have had.

hours of credit had a GPA of 2.66 (compared to the 2.62 GPA of statewide students). However, the 1,175 PBJC students who transferred after 60 or more hours of credit, showed a 2.72 GPA (compared to statewide student figure of 2.70).

Says Dot Suttle, Director of Institutional Research, who compiled the information, "The Articulation for May 1979 substantiates what we knew was true! Palm Beach Junior College offers quality education to quality students."

The publication also showed (based on Fall Quarter Registrations) that approximately 90 percent of the PBJC transfers into the state university system go to three Florida colleges: Florida Atlantic University (55 percent in 1978), University of Florida (18 percent in 1978) and Florida State University (15.4 percent in 1978).

the question in detail with Randy Hopkins, a local agent, who was substituting for John Emerson of Gulf Life, our basic insurance carrier. The answers were essentially negative on every point that was raised. It appears that we are lucky to have the coverage we now have, which is based on being a part of a group that includes the Palm Beach County School Board -- that separation from the school board would either be impossible or very costly -- that maintenance of retirees in the essential group with employees in the life insurance group would be prohibitively expensive, and quite expensive in the health insurance -- that even to keep early retirees covered until the time they would normally retire would not be possible.

After hearing that last, the staff asked Mr. Hopkins, who is an agent for a large number of insurance companies, whether some other company might be more lenient -- at least for retirees who have not yet reached normal retirement age. His opinion was that this would be extremely unlikely, since our current experience record is bad in both life and health insurance.

Currently, there are conversion options for retirees, and the personnel office will explain these to anyone with a real interest.

Dr. Eissey admitted a temporary setback in the matter, but refused to admit defeat.

"I believe that when people give their lives in the service of this institution, it is not right just to say thanks, give them a token gift, and cut the umbilical cord forever -- putting them out there all alone for the rest of their lives. Somewhere, somehow, we'll have an opportunity to do something about this, and when we can, we will."

NOTE OF THANKS

As the Monday Report went to press, we got a last minute report from Dr. Eissey's office as to the meeting of the President's Council at PBJC. Everything is going extremely well, and the presidents have been most complimentary in their comments on the obvious teamwork going on at PBJC. Dr. Eissey asked us to express his heartfelt thanks to everyone who worked for the success of the meeting. "I'm proud to be a member of the PBJC team," Dr. Eissey said. "You have not only done your jobs well, you have shown a spirit of friendship and enthusiasm that is simply fantastic. My sincerest thanks to all of you."

Friends of Bill Corsaro, security guard at PBJC Central, have welcomed him back to work, and are happy that his health incident turned out not to be trouble with the heart.

DORIS GAUNT, AUTHOR

Here are some interesting facts about the Home Economics Catalog just completed by our own Doris Gaunt:

It is the only catalog produced in the Home Economics area in Florida.

The catalog is being used as a model within the 18-state consortium.

The catalog will be distributed in all eighteen states of the Vocational-Technical Education Consortium of States (V-TECS)

The catalog will be in all home economics classrooms in the Fall.

A "Resource Guide" has also just been completed and is a "first" for the V-TECS materials.

PBJC is credited with sponsorship of the project which took two years to complete.

Ms. Gaunt is a recognized authority in the Home Economics area and has been associated with PBJC for two years. During that time she has taught courses in the Business Department as well as directing the project.

In my opinion the work of Ms. Gaunt lends professional recognition to our academic programs. She is to be congratulated for her accomplishments.....Noel Smith

GOOD GOING, RICK

Richard L. Travis, Assistant Chairman of the PBJC Central Mathematics Department, conducted the mathematics portion of a teacher-training seminar June 19 - 21, at Baldwin-
Wallace College, Berea, Ohio. The seminar was sponsored by Change Magazine and the Education Development Center.

An article about Rick and the PBJC Math Learning Center is featured in the current issue of the Journal of Developmental and Remedial Education. The Center, initiated by Travis
in 1969, has become a model for other colleges in the U.S.

"We've had mail from all over the country inquiring about the Math Center." Rick says.
He explains that most college math centers are used for remedial purposes only. "We cover a broad spectrum from the simplest arithmetic through trigonometry," he says.

CHANGED MEETING DATE

Palm Beach Junior College trustees have changed the date of the July meeting from July 18 to July 25, 7:30 p.m., in the Food-service Center.

The one-week delay was caused by the need to comply with administrative procedure act regulations regarding the advertising of changes in board rules.

BOARD RULE CHANGES

An 80-page supplement to this issue of the Monday Report contains digests of all the board rule changes currently being proposed. Copies are available in all message centers, in the library, and at all branch campuses. Any individual desiring a copy may obtain it from Dr. Erling's office.

RIDI, PAGLIACCI

EVERYTHING IS COMING UP ROSES

One of the most famous arias in all opera occurs when Pagliacci, the head of a traveling group of actors, is forced to make everyone else laugh while his own heart is breaking. After last Wednesday night, our resident president, Ed Eissey, can really sympathize with Pagliacci.

Dr. Eissey was playing host to the presidents of all community colleges in Florida at a marvelous seafood dinner donated by trustee George Michael. Outside he was laughing, and he played his part so well that most of the guests went away without realizing that inside, there was no laughter at all. Just before the dinner, Dr. Eissey had been informed that the $4.9 million for our North Campus would be among the items vetoed by Governor Graham from the appropriations bill.

After the dinner, when the guests had left, Dr. Eissey called an impromptu meeting of staff members who were present, and then Dr. Eissey began the real work of the evening. Until 3 a.m. Thursday morning, and starting again at 7 a.m., every possible avenue to get before the governor or the members of his staff who were working on the possible budget cuts was utilized.

At first, all the news was bad, and understandably so. Unless you know that this appropriation is only the first step, but an indispensable first step, to the development of a real jewel in the crown of Florida's educational, recreational, cultural, commercial and industrial life, it would be a tempting item to veto. There was nothing to do but keep on trying, and by mid-day Thursday, the feedback became more positive. And the outcome -- a real reward for us, for the people of Palm Beach County, and indeed, for the people of Florida. After all the ups and downs, everything came up roses.

If even half of the present plans for that campus materialize, we will all be proud to be associated with it. We will have our money. We are going to build Phase I of the North Campus next year.

NOT REALLY ALL THAT BAD

In case you might be thinking that our increase in student fees to $15 per credit hour is raising the cost of education at PBJC to exorbitant heights, take a look at the long paragraph below, excerpted from an article by Edward B. Fiske in the New York Times of 5/21. "The total cost for a year at the most expensive and prestigious colleges and universities will surpass $9,000 for the first time next fall, according to the college scholarship service of the College Entrance Examination Board. In its annual survey of the costs of higher education, the organization estimated that average expenses for residential students at private four-year colleges would be $5,526, or 10.6 percent above those of the current academic year. At public four-year colleges the estimated costs will be $3,258, a rise of 8.5 percent. The report stated that total expenses at any type of college would be about $750 higher for resident students than for those who commute from home. Total costs for commuters at private four-year colleges will be about $4,977, an increase of 15.8 percent over the current level."

SPECIAL BOARD MEETING

With funding information finally in hand, the college will begin salary and other economic discussions and decisions at two separate meetings tomorrow.

At 9 a.m., in Conference Room B of the Administration Building, Dr. Eissey will ask the college trustees, at a special meeting, to adopt the findings of the Cody Report as a guide to salary adjustments for non-bargaining unit personnel.

Also on the agenda of that meeting will be a proposal to implement the recent legislative action which would allow an increase in student fees. Instead of recommending the allowable $2 per credit hour, Dr. Eissey will recommend half that amount. The basic per credit hour fee of $14 would be raised to $15 beginning in the Fall Term. A third item on the agenda involves final inspection of the new Allied Health Building.

The second meeting will be a collective bargaining meeting at 3 p.m. in the County Recreation Office south of the PBJC Central Campus. Members of the college bargaining team will be prepared to discuss salaries and other economic items.

The college has been waiting since the end of the legislative session for information from Tallahassee regarding funding. This arrived last week, but the meetings could not be set until the 17th.

BLUE KEY AWARDS

Two Palm Beach Junior College students from West Palm Beach have been selected for the Florida Blue Key Leadership Awards, according to Robert Q. Marston, President of the University of Florida.

They are Susan Green and Steven R. Spangler, both active members of the Delta Omicron chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the National two-year college honorary fraternity.

SEND IT IN, FOLKS!

The Monday report is interested in what you are doing, and we would like to inform others at PBJC of your activities. If you, like the Duncans, are on an interesting trip this summer, if you are completing degree requirements, attending an unusual educational meeting, or giving talks or lectures in unusual settings, let us know. Send information to Dr. Erling's Office, PBJC Central.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE MONDAY REPORT:

MORE ABOUT SALARIES

Dr. Eissey has released additional information about the salary plan he will present to the trustees tomorrow morning covering non-unit, full-time employees, just in time to be added to this Monday Report. It is not a simple plan, and you may not be able to figure immediately, exactly to the penny, what kind of raise you will be getting as an individual. But there are some guidelines, outlined below, that may give you a realistic idea. BEST OF ALL, IF DR. EISSEY'S RECOMMENDATIONS ARE ADOPTED BY THE BOARD, YOU WON'T HAVE LONG TO WAIT TO FIND OUT -- YOUR PAYCHECK OF JULY 19 WILL REFLECT THE RAISE. Remember, what is said here applies to non-unit, full-time employees.

The easiest, and probably best way to explain Dr. Eissey's plan is to say that it is a five percent raise across the board, plus increments if you were eligible and recommended by your supervisor, plus reclassifications where recommended by the Cody Report.

The five percent is a true salary increase -- not a one-time payment, or bonus. This is the second five percent increase since Dr. Eissey became president, and is evidence that his commitment to better salaries for all is as strong as ever. All non-unit, full-time employees with the exception of Dr. Eissey, himself, will be recommended for the five percent raise. Again this year, Dr. Eissey will make no recommendation as to his own salary.

Some employees will be getting more than five percent. If you were recommended for an annual merit increment this year, you will get that plus the five percent raise. Since these scheduled, incremental raises vary slightly in percentage, you would need to know your individual salary schedule to figure this out in exact detail.

Some employees will get the five percent, plus an increment, plus an adjustment recommended by the Cody Report. Others will get the five percent, plus a Cody Report Adjustment, but not an increment. It is in the area of Cody Report adjustments that the task of informing you through the Monday Report about your own individual raise becomes impossible. The Personnel Office will notify you of your new salary within the next several weeks.

ABOUT THE CODY REPORT. Cody and Associates were hired by the Board to make an independent study of our situation in regard to salaries of all college personnel when it became obvious that we faced serious problems in certain areas. Cody and Associates are experienced in such salary studies, and have data already on hand regarding salaries in other similar institutions. In addition, they conducted wage and salary studies in the local area, interviewed supervisory personnel to update job requirements, and became thoroughly familiar with our present salary schedules and with recommendations for adjustments made by supervisors during budget studies.

The Cody Report recommended adjustments in certain individual positions, and also recommended a general increase if this were financially possible for the college. Except for one or two instances of downward adjustments recommended by the firm, Dr. Eissey plans to recommend adoption of all its provisions.

Overall, for the college as a whole, the total of all of these adjustments will equal the full seven percent increase, the maximum allowed by the State Department of Education as detailed in the guidelines from President Carter.

The task facing Dr. Eissey and his staff in getting together a recommendation on salaries was a formidable one. They, by necessity, had to stay in the limit set by the President ---- and increments, plus the Cody Report adjustments must also be included within the seven percent limitation.

There are some individual salaries which will go up substantially on a percentage basis. It is well to remember that in these cases an independent study has confirmed that those positions were being underpaid in relation to similar positions covered in the study.

Funding information was received by the college late in the day on Monday, July 2. If Dr. Eissey's plan is adopted, and raises are in the paychecks of July 19, this speaks well for the efficiency of the entire operation.

"I am truly happy that we have been able to recommend these increases," Dr. Eissey said. "I would be even happier if there were any way we could have done even more.

"I am proud of our staff, and of the way they are cooperating in the many new steps we are trying to implement. If it were not for that cooperation, the salary recommendations would not have been possible.

"We are moving ahead, step by step, to that place somewhere down the road, where we will be a leader in Florida among community colleges in the area of salaries.

"The steps may not be as fast as you would like, or I would like, but the direction is set, and the priority is fixed, and we will get there."

MEETING NO. 2

SALARY INCREASE OFFERED

A pay raise package similar to that granted non-unit, full-time employees at the trustees meeting on Tuesday morning was offered to teachers, librarians and counselors at a collective bargaining meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The college offered a five percent across-the board increase, plus increments in accordance with contract provisions, plus a Cody Report recommendation that the maximum range for the rank of instructor be increased an additional seven percent.

The increases will be effective at the time an agreement is ratified by unit members and will not be retroactive, according to the written offer presented at the meeting.

A number of questions were asked about details of the plan. Some were answered immediately and others required data not available at the meeting. (Cont. on page 2)

TRUSTEES APPROVE SALARY INCREASES

All non-unit, full-time employees will receive a five percent increase in salary effective immediately as a result of action at a special board of trustees meeting last Tuesday morning. Those eligible and recommended by supervisors for increments will also receive their increment, and a number of employees will also receive adjustments based on recommendations of the Cody Report.

In short, the board approved the pay package plan proposed by Dr. Eissey as outlined in the special page attached to last week's Monday Report.

The board also approved a $1 per credit hour increase in fees, effective in the Fall Term. This item was on first reading, with the second reading scheduled for the regular board meeting, July 25.

Final inspection of the new Allied Health Building was authorized, and held immediately following the board meeting. The official result of the inspection will be received by mail, according to Tony Tate, who said that there is a lengthy check list of items left to be accomplished before final payment will be made, and the building ready for occupancy. Use at the beginning of the Fall Term is still scheduled.

Explaining his action in recommending the $1 increase, rather than the $2 allowed through action of the legislature, Dr. Eissey said the college is aware of the financial difficulties facing everyone through inflation, the increase in the cost of gasoline and other factors, that we are truly interested in our students, and will increase tuition only when it is absolutely necessary.

Dr. Eissey said that the overall cost of the pay plan granted non-unit full-time employees by the board and the plan offered to the union will be seven percent higher than last year -- the maximum increase allowed under the president's guidelines.

Union representatives did not comment on the pay plan during the meeting, but said they would react at the next meeting after studying the offer.

GRANT SUBMITTED

A grant has been submitted to the Palm Beach County Employment and Training Administration for $61,235.00. The proposal title is: "Assessment of Educational Training Needs of Palm Beach County Business, Industry, Government and Human Resources."

A committee composed of Dr. R. Kay (Chairman), Dean Whitmer, Dean Harvey, Dean Moss, and Mr. Kelly wrote the grant. The project director is Dean Whitmer.

WELCOME, KATHY

The newest member of the PBJC Community is Kathy Aiello, Program Specialist, who will head the Women's Center for the Department of Continuing Education. Kathy is familiar to Palm Beach Junior College, having taught English and education courses part-time at the North Campus. She also was an administrative intern at the North Campus in the summer of 1977.

She comes to us from the Palm Beach County School System where she taught and coached the drill team for five years at Twin Lakes High School. She lives in West Palm Beach with her husband, Eugene. They have just returned from a trip to the mountains and she's anxious to be here and continue the development of the Women's Center.

The Women's Center was approved by the Board and is funded under Title I, Higher Education Act of 1965. Basically, the Women's Center is designed to provide assistance in the following areas: (a) Information and Referral Service; (b) Educational Services; (c) Career Counseling and Life Planning Services.

Kathy will be happy to meet any of you at AD-6, or wherever Continuing Education offices are located.

WEEKEND COLLEGE

It has been some time since the Monday Report gave an update on the Weekend College, but there has been much activity in planning stages, and there are now some firm facts to report. Plans have not always gone as the administration had hoped, but they are progressing.

A list of 27 course offerings has been selected, 18 on Saturday morning and nine on Saturday afternoon. Class meetings begin on September 8, and it has been determined that registration is now open and will be accepted until the time of the first class meeting.

Dr. Eissey assigned Dr. Erling the task of arranging for a Weekend College registration to be held at a number of Malls throughout the county. Plans for this special day of registration on Saturday, August 18, are nearly complete, and a two-page check-list of items prepared by Dr. Erling on July 11 has now been all checked off except for one item -- arranging with the media for a press conference on August 7 to kick off publicity about the Weekend College and to explain about our special registration day.

We will be registering at six different malls on August 18: Boca Raton Mall, Delray Mall, Palm Beach Mall, Palm Coast Plaza, Royal's Plaza (Belle Glade), and the Twin City Mall. If you are shopping on those days, I'm sure those registering would welcome a familiar face. They might even have a volunteer job for you. It is with considerable regret that the administration must announce that it will not be possible for the full-time faculty to teach in the Weekend College, since agreement could not be reached with the United Faculty.

"From the very beginning, we have attempted to include the full-time faculty in plans for the Weekend College," Dr. Eissey said, "We have had a proposal on the bargaining table since last March.

"When time ran out, and we had to make decisions about who would be teaching these courses in the Fall Term, we made it clear to the union that if we had to proceed without the full-time faculty we would do so. Since we could not reach agreement, we must now proceed to staff with teachers from the administration and from part-time instructors."

Dr. Eissey said that he had hoped that the Weekend College would be a way the full-time faculty could supplement their income on a purely voluntary basis, but that this opportunity will now be lost for the Fall Term.

The college offer included pay scales of $12 to $16 per hour depending on rank and Dr. Eissey pointed out that a teacher could earn from $36 to $48 per hour Saturday morning and the same amount Saturday afternoon if scheduled for two classes.

"I regret very much the necessity of proceeding without the full-time faculty," Dr. Eissey said, "but we have run out of time, and must find other highly qualified teachers."

TRUSTEES

The Palm Beach Junior College trustees held their annual reorganization meeting Wednesday night. Dr. Philip Lichtblau was elected to another term as chairman, and George Michael to another term as vice chairman.

Date, time and place of regular meetings remained the same, the third Wednesday of each month, 7:30 p.m., in the Foodservice Center.

The board approved all suggested policy changes, including a $1 per credit hour increase in student fees to be effective in the fall term.

An emergency item on the agenda involved the reaction of the board to a plan to locate 50 units of subsidized housing immediately across SR 715 from the entrance to the Glades Campus.

Dr. Eissey asked for reactions from Dr. Conley, PBJC Glades Provost, and Mrs. Hand, trustee from the Glades. Both opposed the move.

Dr. Conley said traffic congestion from two-laned SR 715 into the college was already a problem with the Glades 1,200 students last year. He said that problem will grow worse when the new auditorium is finished by some 300 or 400 more automobiles.

"To place a high density project immediately across from the college would surely create a real traffic jam," Dr. Conley said.

He also said PBJC Glades has so far escaped vandalism, and he was afraid the close proximity of the project would cause policing problems, especially since the location is outside the city limits of Belle Glade.

The HUD project included an alternate site -- eight acres near the center of Belle Glade. Both Dr. Conley and Mrs. Hand felt the alternate site would be better for all concerned.

The board authorized Dr. Eissey to draft a reply for them opposing the location of the project on SR 715.

In other actions the board:

* Received notice that the Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Heart Association will again fund a nursing position for coronary care education. (Cont. on page 3)

- * Noted an HEW Grant for $15,142 for Veterans Cost of Instruction program to continue PBJC's veterans office.
- * Changed titles from Rank 1, 2 and 3 to Doctorate, Master's Degree and Bachelor's Degree in the Part-Time/Temporary Instruction Salary Schedule since the state no longer requires certification.
- * Amended the Administrative Supervisory and Confidential Salary Schedule to allow additional payment when a person is acting in a higher ranking position for more than three months.
- * Created a new position of Job Development Specialist for Minority/Handicapped Students, to be funded in the Cooperative Education grant.
- * Allowed purchase of a Media System to be utilized in Business Education from a sole source item without bid.

PRINT SHOP

The Print Shop has been moved from its location on the second floor of the old administration building, AD-20, to the first floor of the Tech Building, Tech 1 and 2, where the nursing classrooms used to be.

The new quarters solved a persistent problem of noise in the offices below the old location, and provide room for expansion when it becomes possible to purchase much-needed new equipment.

A recent annual analysis showed the print shop had printed over 2,250,000 sheets last year, a far higher rate of production than in any previous year. At this rate of production, time lost through the move, and through some unrelated difficulties, have placed an unusual burden on shop personnel between now and the opening of the Fall Term. A recent compilation showed jobs involving more than a quarter of a million impressions are in the shop or will be this week -- all high priority items needed before the opening of the term.

It is requested that any items not urgently needed before the term begins be postponed until after that date. We will manage in some way to honor all present commitments, but work about which we have not been informed must have a very high level of need to break into the lineup....Jonathan Koontz

WHERE WE ARE HEADING

A recent study of Postsecondary Education in the Mid-80's conducted by the Southern Regional Education Board comes to some conclusions you might find interesting. The full report summary is available in Dr. Erling's office, if you are interested. The summary:

- * Total enrollment is slowing and may be expected to begin a decline through the mid-80's.
- * The decline will deepen as full-time students tend to be replaced by students who study part-time.
- * Students older than 24 years of age and women will continue to increase as a share of enrollment.
- * The growth of part-time study will continue largely because older students, and especially older women students, are less likely to attend full-time.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

New signs have been donated to the college by the First American Bank of the Palm Beaches, and erected at the South Entrance to Central campus, off Manor Drive, and at the north entrance to the campus, off Leonard Drive. Eventually, these signs will be lit at night, so that evening students can keep up with important happenings on campus. Dr. Eissey has assigned responsibility of placing messages on the signs to Bob Moss. Regulations to prohibit frivolous use of the signs will be developed.

Increasing Air Fares - We have an indication that air fares are going to increase as much as 20% this year. If travel tickets are purchased prior to the fare increase, even though the travel is to occur after the increase, we will not have to pay the fare increase. Therefore, if you have meetings scheduled which involve air travel and know the dates, meeting place, etc., I would like to suggest that your leave form and your travel ticket request be submitted as soon as possible to enable the tickets to be purchased at the current fare.....Tate

PBJC Travelers - Sorry I goofed! Although Florida Statute 112.060(6) became effective 7/1/79 raising the per diem from $35 to $40 per day, increasing the meal allowances and the mileage allowance from 14¢ to 17¢ per mile, a policy had to be adopted by our Board before we can pay the new rates. This item was approved at the July 25 Board of Trustees Meeting. These new rates became effective with travel starting on July 26, 1979....Tate

NO BARGAINING AGREEMENT

A last minute effort by the administration to produce an overall agreement in time to utilize full-time teachers in the Weekend College was spurned by union representatives Monday afternoon, virtually ending any possibility of full-time faculty involvement in this major college project in the Fall Term.

The college added the following to the pay package already proposed:

1. Increments. A 7 percent increase in the amount of all increments, except for the Instructor's rank, which has a 16 percent increase.
2. Compensation for instruction in non-credit courses up 15 percent -- from $12 - $16 per hour to $14 - $18.
3. Overload pay increase of about 15 percent, from $12 - $16 per hour to $14 - $18. This provision would raise pay for Weekend classes by $2 per hour.
4. An increase in Replacement/Substitute pay from $12.60 per hour to $13.50 per hour, an increase of 7 percent.

The complete text of the latest college offer is reproduced on page 4 of the Monday Report.

The latest college offer was in addition to the previous offer of 5 percent across the board, plus increments, plus an adjustment at the instructor's rank recommended by the Cody Report. A similar raise is already in effect for non-unit full-time college employees.

The union had previously turned down that offer, citing figures ranging from $18,000 to $25,000 less than 7 percent they believed the offer represented as the chief complaint. Their counter-offer was 7 percent plus increments.

Introducing the latest college offer to meet the Union's recommendations, chief college negotiator, Jesse Hogg, said the administrative bargaining team had evaluated union arguments, and were hopeful the new college offer would produce agreement. He said the new plan would budget monies to meet the amount of money mentioned by the union.

"This is a genuine effort to resolve our differences," Hogg said.

Union negotiators said the new offer was a step in the right direction, but declined to change their counter offer of 7 per cent plus increments.

"We are very disappointed," Hogg said, "we have really tried to work out something that will bridge our differences."

An effort to obtain a special agreement on the Weekend College also failed when the union insisted that overload pay for the Weekend College be paid in the term in which it is earned. Arrangements are proceeding to hire qualified part-time teachers for the Weekend College.

Although the college has insisted that any pay settlement with the union will not be retroactive, the union declined to set a date for the next meeting, due to vacations for members of their negotiating team. Faculty members on 180-day contracts report on August 13 and those on 196-day contracts on August 20. Twelve-month faculty are, of course, already on duty.

"It concerns me that librarians, counselors, and faculty are losing money daily because of the lack of acceptance of our offer," Dr. Eissey said.

"It seems that the monies lost through delay might well grow to the point where they exceed what is being demanded."

GRANT PROPOSALS -- NEW AND RENEWAL

All grants that are written from PBJC need to have an INTERNAL COORDINATION SHEET completed before all new or renewal grants are sent to funding agencies. This process will allow PBJC officials to monitor proposals written and to facilitate proposals to their destination. GOOD GOING, OTTIS!!

Dr. Ottis Smith, appointed last month to replace retiring Bob D'Angio as Dean of Instruction and Student Personnel at PBJC North, has hit the ground running in his new position.

Ottis, already fully versed with the demands on the chief administrative officer for PBJC North through his close association with Bob, has already found a way to get out an effective mailing piece to 16,000 people in north county at a cost of only 1.5 cents per person, by including the mailing in the monthly statement of the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association of Riviera Beach. (Cont. on page 3)

PRE-REGISTRATION GOING WELL

The pre-registration periods are going well when compared with last year, indicating a much larger number of students already registered for the Fall Term near the end of July than ever before. Last year was our previous best.

A computer printout of July 26 showed a total of 4,437 registered students. A printout of July 29, 1978, showed 3,697.

Although the Central Campus gained 96 over a year ago, the major gains in pre-registration were at South and North, with South gaining 340 and North 274. Glades was 20 less than a year ago.

It should be noted that these figures may not be any indication at all of the ultimate registration in the Fall Term. They may simply indicate better methods of getting our students registered early.

As might be expected, the trend toward more part-time students continues to be indicated in this early tally, although the 1,905 full-time credit students was 211 higher than the previous year. There were 75 already registered for non-credit courses as compared to 31 a year ago. This is a small indication of our greatly increased activity in Continuing Education.

ED, BUT NO TUESDAY WITH!

Tuesday with Ed is not scheduled for August 7 because the faculty will not have returned to campus.

TWO FACULTY MEETINGS

Faculty with 180 day contracts and 12-month faculty will be welcomed back to the campus with coffee and danish at a general faculty meeting 8:30 p.m., August 13 at the Food-service Center. Exactly a week later there will be a repeat for the 196-day faculty.

Very little in the way of a formal program has been developed for the meetings, but Dr. Eissey will talk about some of the developments since the close of the last academic year and plans for the upcoming year. Charles Graham will give information regarding registration procedures.

Counting department chairmen and other administrators, approximately 125 persons are expected for each meeting.

Also, as luck would have it, Pratt and Whitney Aircraft has appointed a new officer in charge of in-service training and education, Dr. Ira Weinberg, and Ottis was able to make a potentially valuable connection, (for both P & W and PBJC), during Dr. Weinberg's first week in his new position.

Ottis came to PBJC in 1970 as a guidance counselor, and has been at PBJC North as a counselor/professor since 1974.

LIKEWISE, JOE!!

There is usually some difficulty in transition when a department chairman is changed, but everything appears to be going smoothly at the Law Enforcement Department as Joseph Macy takes over for retiring Larry Tuttle.

Summer is not a slack time in the Criminal Justice Institute, but Joe, who was Assistant Department Chairman, has been with the college full time for ten years, and has had plenty of time to learn all the ropes.
